BATTLES AT THE POLLS

Chaotic Condition In the Politics of New York.

Senator Gorman's Fight For Existence In Maryland.

ulcome of the Ohio Contest Interesting the Betting Men.

Albany, Nov. 1 .- Twenty-four hours before the practical closing of the campaign finds a condition as chaotic as has ever been apparent in the politics of New York state. This is due, not to any lack of well defined ideas of how the vote would run if state issues alone and the election of as assembly were the prevailing factors; but to the injection f some of the most bitter municipal ontests that have ever prevailed in the ities of the state

n Rochester, in Syracuse and in Buffalo the five greatest cities of the state, there vill close campaigns upon local issues hat have been notably bitter and ever irulent. That these local affairs wi ave a bearing upon the vote for the nly state office in controversy, the hief jpdgeship of the court of appeals, nust be conceded, and that they will have a still greater bearing upon the The indications are that while the con-

est for chief judgeship will be a spirited The belief is general that the publican vote in central and western ew York, that has, for the past tw ere are no indications that it will fal elow its own normality, which is to durality which the Democrats below here can show. In the past two years the plurality below the Harlem has been a Republican one, and the best com putations of Democrats now in that dis trict of their expected plurality is 35,-90: so that upon their basis of figures, an candidate for appeals judge mus elected. The Democratic candidate has some advantages, however, in being placed twice upon the ticket and in newspaper endorsement, and these things may prove of greater aid than has een anticipated. It is, however, o advantage to remember that to elect a Democratic state officer after the tre mendous Republican pluralities of the past three years would be an almos nprecedented event. In 1894 the Republican pulrality in the state was 155, 900; '95 it was 90,000, and in '96, a presidential year, it was 187,000. If any of these tremendous pluralities is cut in half it will be a partial victory for the Within 30 years the Democrats have controlled the legislature but four times in its two branches, and in that time have elected by joint ballot but three United States senators, Kernan who was carried in by the Tilden tidal wave, and Hill and Murphy, elected by the Democratic body that succeeded what was known as the Hill appointment. Throughout the state the Democrats ave made strenuous efforts this fall increase the number of Democratic members of the lower house, and it is evident that success will crown their efforts. Indeed, the Republican mangers have at all times believed that his was not only possible, but highly probable, being naturally aware that ast year's immense majority of 80 in the lower house was due to the national campaign.

The next assembly will, however, be still Republican by a very good margin, but the Democrats will accomplish one thing for which they are evidently striving, the reduction of the Republican najority to such an extent that in such duction they may see hope of a Demcratic house in 1899, when a successo o Senator Murphy is to be elected. No contest in politics of a purely local ature has ever created such interest in the up-state counties as has the greater New York contest for mayor, and the death of one of the foremost candidates has but added to that interest. From carefully gathered opinions of the leaders outside of the confines of the municipality, where the contest is occur ring, it is apparent that the general expectations are that Tammany will Furniture. Hardware, Paints, Oils. win and that Mr. Low and Mr. Tracy will have a fight for second place. These prognostications are based upon the theory that the normal Republican vote is very much more evenly divided among the candidates than is the Democratic vote, and the information comes from such reliable sources that it is hardly to be questioned,

The Situation In Massachusetts. Boston, Nov. 1 .- On the strength of a upposedly conservative canvass of the olitical situation in Massachusetts nore particularly on the vote expected o be polled for George Fred Williams or governor, The Herald says: "Reorts from many of the principal cities and towns of the state as to the probable strength of George Fred Williams in the gubernatorial contest indicate anything but a bright outlook for the Dedham silverite. In Lawrence, it is true, there is a prospect that he will gain several nundred votes, and possibly wipe out the najority cast against him last year. In nost places, however, the impression prevails that his vote will not reach the figures attained by him in 1896."

Even Money Bet In Ohio. Cincinnati, Nov. 1 .- There have been nany bets on the result of the election in Ohio. Odds were given on the Republican state ticket, but offers of even noney on the legislature were not Odds were asked on the fusion ticket in Hamilton county, but the betting was mostly even. The betting fraernity are carefully reviewing the figures of former years as well as present

The Democrats elected James E. Campell governor, with a full state ticket, ! 1889, and secured a legislature that elected Calvin S. Brice senator. Then collowed the large Republican pluraliargest ever known in the state. Two publican plurality of 92,622, and the legisvote that the vote of Tuesday will be compared.

Last year the Republican pluralities vere largely in the cities. Hamilton ounty gave a Republican plurality of early 20,000 and Cuyahoga county of over 15,000. Factional troubles at Cleve land and Cincinnati are expected to reduce these pluralities.

Both Sides Confident. Baltimore, Nov. 1.—The main interes in the Maryland election centers almos on the legislative contest. If the Dem crats win Senator Gorman will doubt ss be re-elected; in fact no one els as recently been mentioned for th place, while if the Republicans are vic orious, there will probably be a shar fight for the seat among a dozen as avor of the selection of Congressma Sydney E. Mudd of Charles county

As to the outcome of the election it ca nly be said that the result is in great able to count enough votes in the legi pallot and to elect the senator. The Republicans have a slight advantag n that of the 13 "hold over" state sen ators, nine are Republicans. A large number of gold standard Democrats are opposing the re-election of Senator Gorman, in which they are joined by the Baltimore Sun and The Evening News, both of which have always beer trongly Democratic until within the ast two years. On the other hand he American, heretofore warmly Re iblican, is lukewarm in its support of Republican candidates, and The ald, which has hitherto been neutra its position, has espoused the Gorman se with considerable vigor.

TO CONSIDER REDUCTION. Possibility of the Beginning of a Strike In England's Mills.

London, Nov. 1 .- The industrial situation is the gravest yet reached. There is little prospect of a compromise being reached in the engineering struggle Meantime the trouble in the cotton trade has reached a decisive point, and this week may see the beginning of another great war, involving 200,000 operatives, which will paralyze the greatest trade of the empire. The spinners and weav-ers will decide tonight whether they will submit to the five per cent reduction in wages which the employers declare the exigencies of the trade demand.

The leaders of the operatives' unions are using their influence to secure a negative decision, coupled with an offer to curtail production. It is extremely ties by which McKinley was elected doubtful if the manufacturers will acgovernor in 1891 and '93. That fence at Wollaston will stand. That is the decision of the Railroad Commissioners and their report in full feet high and some 500 feet in length, tion, lengthening it at the same time in today's issue makes interesting reading. They not only refuse to order the fence down but they go further and say it is the legal duty of the railroad to maintain a fence along the highway at this point. With the widening of the Beale street bridge and the extension of Brook street under the railroad they consider that the present location of the station is an "ideal one."

The word "ideal" seems to be abused, and few Wollastonians will concur with the conclusion reached in this instance, and at what a cost the ideal is to be obtained. It is estimated that the cost to the city will be $10,000 located, is Newport avenue. This sides would secure two good public (possibly $20,000 would be nearer the avenue runs along the west side of the thoroungfares, both of them essential actual figures). Would this not be an railroad, abutting directly on the rail- to their proper accommodation. Of excessive sum for the people to expend road location. The station formerly the entire cost of this improvement, for something they don't very much stood on that side of the railroad, estimated $30,000, it was stated at the want? Better put the money into the abutting directly on the railroad, be- hearings that the railroad company was building of sidewalks.

But in the heat of this fence controversy, don't forget that tomorrow is election day. There will be no doubt of the result if a large percentage of the vote is cast. There are doubts, however, about it being a representative vote. This should not be the case. Let everybody vote.

The Railroad Commissioners Against Its Removal-The Recommendations.

The Daily Ledger has been favored by Chairman John E. Sanford with a special copy of the report of the Railroad Commissioners on the "Approaches the fence, to be opened on the arrival to the Wollaston depot," with a hope and desire that it be published. State Highway Commission to Consider Washington Street.

The Metropolitan Highway Commission gave its annual hearing at Dedham this morning for the discussion of questions relating to public roads. Nearly every town in the county was represented at the hearing, Quincy being looked after by Commissioner Knowlton.

The Commissioner stated that it had about $200,000 of the appropriation given them this year for next spring's work that had not been alloted as yet.

Commission Knowlton called he attention of the board to Washington street which he urged them to accept and build. He spoke at length upon the matter stating that it would be practically a continuation of the State highway of Hingham and Weymouth through Quincy to Boston.

Prof. Shaler of the board then stated that the Highway Commission had had this street under consideration for some time and the only question "was which he thought would be very soon.

Before the hearing adjourned the ommission announced that they would give the citizens of Quincy a hearing, upon taking Washington street, at their office in Boston early in December, probably Dec. 16.

Council Business.

There is considerable business to come before the meeting of the City Council tonight, in the way of reports of committees. # THE GEORGE FUNERAL.

Obsequies Attended by Thousands of Sincere Mourners.

Services Simple In Character and of Episcopal Form.

Character and Work of the Advocate Fee!ingly Eulogized.

New York, Nov. 1 .- A mourning city, a grief-stricken people, showed honor to Nathan Straus, Joseph Larocque, J. I. the man who had fallen from what he | C. Clarke, Senator Guy, Sheriff Tamser believed to be the right Sunday. Henry and Oscar Straus. George, leader of the new Jeffersonian Democracy, an apostle of the single tax and teacher of the equal rights of men, stricken on the eve of election, was honored as no private citizen has ever been honored before.

Public griefs have been many in the great metropolis of America. Many have robes. The service therefore was in been sincerely mourned, but none, save him who went to eternal rest after having served his people as a leader of soldiers and as chief executive of the land, had laid at his bier such evidence of public grief, widespread sorrow and incere grief as was poured out at the coffin of Henry George. The city forgot that he had been a political leader; no one would permit a reminder that he had been a candidate for public office, and had been carrying on a bitter attack on those who he believed were enemies of public weal; no one recalled the strong words of denunciation that fell from his lips, while on the political rostrum-he as remembered only as a man who so loved the people that he gave his life for

From the cold gray of dawn far into the sombreness of the night the outward evidences of grief lasted. Thousands gazed upon the familiar, beloved features, cold in death, yet smiling serenel s in sleep; other thousands heard stirring orations preached, magnificent ulogies upon the martyred dead. In every temple of God, wherever men gathered to worship, or gathered to hear ulture and philosophics taught, garands of fulsome praise were bestowed ipon the memory of the revered dead. In the vast auditorium where the dead ested, inspired men, teachers of all faiths, Jewish and Christian, Catholic and Episcopalian, with hearts wrung y fell far short of the great waves of motion that sought to find utterance Sixty thousand is a safe estimate of the said Father McGlynn. Claims of Campaign Managers. New York, Nov. 2.-John C. Sheehan issued the following statement Monday: "The great municipal political contest is about the close. It will result in a great Democratic victory. As in the days of Jefferson, the Democratic party in this contest has been arrayed against the party who believe that the masses of the people have no voice in the selection of their officials. It has had to fight against the greed of the party of monopolists, with the federal administration at its head."

The executive committee of the Democracy of Thomas Jefferson, in its final appeal to the voters, said: "The spon taneous and pathetic tribute of the citizens of greater New York paid on Sunday night to the dead tribune of the people has demonstrated beyond the shadow of a doubt that Henry George, the father would, had God spared him to us, have 10 lbs. FRESH ROLLED OATS been elected to the mayoralty of our great city. This CREAM. has been evident, especially since the meeting in Carnegie hail on Saturday night, over which the president of the Republican county committee presided. The abuse of Mayor Strong and the hoots and hisses which greeted the mention of his name have done their work; not as the machine intended, but have reacted in producing utter disgust in the minds of scores of Republicans who have come to the Citizens' union headquarters and Mr. Low. They are simply exasperated with the machine and its methods." At the campaign headquarters last night each party professed the utmost confidence in victory. The betting

He always succeeded in gaining the respect and affection of his pupils to a marked degree, and was one of the most accomplished teachers in New England of classics, French history and English literature.

Mr. Tyler was the son of the late Major William C. Tyler, nephew of General John S. Tyler and grandson of the late Hon. Royall Tyler, formerly chief justice of Vermont. He was born in Boston, Dec. 12, 1852. He was educated at the Boston Latin school and at Harvard College, where he was graduated in the class of 1874, among his classmates being Hon. Robert A. Southworth, Hon. Frederick Lawton, Richard H. Dana, Herbert L. Harding, Dr. C. M. Green, E. F. Fenollosa and others who have become quite well known in the community. Mr. Tyler took a very high rank in scholarship and had a brilliant social and athletic record, being president of the Athenaeum and O. K. societies, and of the board of editors of the Harvard

President Adams' Trees.

Thousands of Americans travel far to visit the White House at Washington and walk through its grounds, yet few of them know one of the most interesting facts connected with the place that is that John Quincy Adams of Quincy, when he was president, planted most f its fine trees. President Adams was full of energy. For months he made a practice of swimming across the Potomac every day; then he took to walking around the capitol square for an hour every morning; then he found the best exercise of all in attending to the planting of the White House grounds with trees; they were very bare in this respect, and he went into the whole science and art of plantation with an enthusiasm very like Sir Walter Scott's on the same subject. He was then 58 years old, but he wrote about the growth of his oaks and chestnuts as eagerly as a schoolboy would about hunting .- Boston Globe.

Retirement of General Martin. Boston, Nov. 2.—The Herald says that General A. P. Martin, chairman of the police board of this city, is going to resign his office and re-enter a business life as manager of a large manufacturing concern. General Martin's close friends have known that he was surprised and hurt by Governor Wolcott's finding on the hearing of the charges preferred against him several months ago by Roger Scannell and others, notwithstanding the mild and almost friendly stand taken by the governor.

When the council sustained him, however, notwithstanding the finding of the governor, he decided to fight the matter out. He was willing to retire from the field at that time, but his pride would not permit it. Conscious of no personal wrong-doing, he decided to fight, and he has retained his position more as a vindication for himself than because he desired to hold the place.

Public Debt Increased. _ Washington, Nov. 2.-The monthly statement of the public debt shows that at the close of business Oct. 30 the debt, less cash in the treasury, amounted to $1,020,563,901, an increase for the month of $3,441,188, principally accounted for by a decrease in the amount of cash on hand. The debt is recapitulated as follows: Interest bearing debt, $847,365,500 debt on which interest has ceased since maturity, $1,331,540; debt bearing no interest, $379,623,590; total, $1,228,320,690. This amount, however, does not include $580,456,953 in certificates and treasury notes outstanding, which are offset by an equal amount of cash in the treasury. The total receipts for October were $24,391,415, and the expenditures $33,701,-512, making the excess of expenditures for the month $9,310,097, and for the four months of the fiscal year $381,009,010 The receipts from customs during October amounted to $9,713,494, compared with $11,103,493 for October, 1896, and the receipts from internal revenue sources were $13,614,872, a gain of $251,716 over

October last year. Gas Turned on Full. New York, Nov. 2.-A man who is be lieved to have been a priest of the Roman Catholic church was found dead in a room in the Central hotel Monday. The gas was turned on full and the door and windows were closed. After midnight Sunday the man, looking pale and haggard, applied to the clerk for a room. He did not register, but requested to be called at 10 o'clock. As he did not answer the call at that hour, the door was forced and the man was found dead. In the pockets of the clothing were found envelopes containing bills. These were addressed to Rev. Father W. Thomas Stack. There has been an insane priestein Harlem recently who went under the name of Stack and also under the name of O'Brien. The matron at the East One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street police station house said last night that the deceased was Father Edward J. Holden, who had een silenced several years ago by Archbishop Corrigan on account of his dissipated habits. A priest who called at the station house later stated that the body was not that of Father Holden.

W. C. T. Union Temple's Big Debt. Buffalo, Nov. 2 .- At the convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance union Monday, Mrs. Stevenson, one of a committee sent to Chicago to investigate temple matters, reported that the income of the temple, if it was entirely rented, would be $175,000 a year. Its an nual expense, including interest, would be $125,000. About one-fourth of the building had been unrented last year and about one-third this year.

There was a lively debate, in the course of which Miss Willard said: "I believe we must not give up the temple. know it would be death to some of us. just thought I would go to some rich people who have been a little friendly with me and ask them to help us. I don't know about owning the temple, but I do want to keep a controlling interest in it. I believe it's going to pay a ne margin. If I didn't I would not try to raise the money. I thought I would go out and see what I could do. I am not going to make any appeal to the local unions, but of course if they set up nights and hanker to give, well, then, all Diplomatic Discourtesy. Washington, Nov. 2.-The attitude which Great Britain will assume toward the proposition on sealing and the treaty which is to take its place is awaited with much interest. Thus far the British authorities have not been informed as to what the conference proposes doing At the same time, the British expert Professor Thompson, has had several talks with Mr. Foster and Mr. Hamlin and these have been of such a satisfac tory nature that it was believed an amicable understanding would be reached by all parties concerned if Canada showed a disposition to assent to the agreement. Canada still stands in the way, and the continued absence of the Canadian Apert, Mr. Macoun, is regarded in the light of a diplomatic disourtesy, not only to the United States, but also to the British government.

CHURCH DIVIDED.

A Majority Ask Rev. Mr. Robinson to Remain.

The sudden, resignation of the Rev. attracted wide spread attention outside of the society.

Shortly after the resignation was read a canvass of the congregations was made, which revealed the following facts: Of 154 members of the congregation seen, 97 signed a paper asking Mr. Robinson to withdraw his resignation; 53 would not sign, some because they were opposed to him and others because they would have no part in the controversy.

Of the members of the church 64 signed to ask him to withdraw his resignation and 38 would not sign or John Bascom of Williamstown, P., have part in controversy.

Central Falls, Nov. 3.—The Republicans carried the day in this city, electing a majority of the officers. The principal fight was for the mayor and on the face of the returns Henry G. Thresher is elected by two plurality over William Von Gottschalk, Citizens' and Democratic candidate. The wardens' count gave Thresher a plurality of 17, but 15 ballots in the Third ward, marked for Gottschalk both as Citizen and Independent, must be counted according to a ecent decision of the supreme cour The Citizens and Democrats elected three of the five alderman, a Republi can loss of three, and elected three of the 11 common councilmen, a Republican loss of two. Incomplete returns indicate the election of the Republican state ticket by 10,000 to 12,000, but the result of the legislature is so close that no definite figures can be given out. The Demo-crats claim confidently both branches of the legislature, but give no figures on the number of representatives and senators. The Republicans claim 54 representatives and 17 senators sure, or 71 votes on joint ballot, 73 being necessary to elect a senator. The complete returns from all the wards in Philadelphia show a plurality of 71,019 for Beacom (Rep.) for state treasurer. The rest of the Republican ticket has approximately the same plurality. Swallow's vote is 15,556. The vote for Thompson (Ind. Rep.) is slightly over 3000. The majority in favor of the On the city ticket with Judge Van $12,000,000 loan is 15,694. Latest-The Republicans have elected of the county and borough offices along their municipal ticket in Baltimore by majorities ranging from 4000 to 6000, but the state ticket is in doubt, and there is some reason for believing that the Democrats have carried the legislature, and that Senator Gorman may succeed himself. Official returns from the state are most meager and unsatisfactory, so that even the chairmen of the state central committees hesitate to express an unqualified opinion as to the result on the state and legislative tickets. A conservative estimate based upon partial returns indicates that the Democrats will have 60 votes on joint ballot, while the Republicans will have 57.

KANSAS.

Kansas City, Kan., Nov. 3.-In no state were the returns slower in coming in during the last elections perhaps than in Kansas, and this year's will not be an exception to the rule. In this city, the first city in the state, the Republicans will probably elect their entire ticket with the exception of coroner, surveyor and clerk of the court of common pleas, by small majorities. The weather during the day was perfect, but the registration had been light following an apathetic campaign, and the vote polled was only moderate. The fusionists say they will elect a majority of the 13 district judgeships and about two-thirds of the 105 seats of county officers. The Republicans claim at least one-haif of the judgeships and a majority of the county officers.

IOWA.

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 3.-The Register, Republican, claims Iowa for Shaw (Rep.) by 16,000. It estimates that this will increase to 20,000 by the country districts. It is surprising how many voters need to have their patriotism kindled to get them out to the polls. The lack of interest in public affairs was very manifest at Tuesday's election. Will there be interest in the changes of the tax laws? There should be no more exemption.

All the Parties In Cuba Said to Be Disgusted.

Possibility of the Re-establishment of the Iron Regime.

Havana, Nov. 4.-Marshal Blanco's eception has been marked by coldness on all sides. This is due to the great dissatisfaction caused by his proclamations. They have disgusted all parties. A former director of the board of the autonoist party said Wednesday: "We sinmating all political parties will not result as he expects. He is afraid to put only autonomists in office, and we refuse to side with the Conservatives and the military elements. We will have to increase the general dissatisfaction. By insulting us in his proclamations, Marshal Blanco has placed all talk of surrender on our part out of the ques-

There is no public sentiment in favor of Blanco's policy. Everybody is dissatisfied, and annexation seems to be the only solution of the problem. The appointment of General Pando as Blanco's thief of staff has caused general disaffection among all Cubans. Pando favors an iron regime, and it is believed hat he will endeaver to compel Cubans o fight their own brothers in arms.

The Conservatives charge the government with placing the rule of the island in the hands of autonomists and exrebels, and predict that there will be a return to Weyler's policy when the government is convinced that autonomy is a failure. The reformists are disgusted at not being recognized by Blanco, in spite of having supported the policy he represents. Finally all sympathizers with the insurgents openly declare that they will refuse any and all overtures from the government.

Wha'ers In the Ice.

San Francisco, Nov. i .- The whaling eamer Alexander, just arrived from Point Barrows, reports that she left at Herschell island, Aug. 25 last, the whal ers Grampus, Fearless, Brie, Newport, Jennie, Belvidere and Wanderer hemmed in by the ice, with little or no chance for scape, although none of them had prorisions enough to last through the winter. Captain Tilton expressed great fears for the safety of the fleet, as all were in very precarious conditions.

The Alexander had a terrible exper ience bucking through the floes off Cape Smith, the ice being so solidly packed that it took the vessel with a full head of steam on over 18 hours to force her way through it for a distance of four again surrounded off Sea Horse island, but Sept. 17 a northwest wind moved the Church Robber (aught. Manchester, N. H., Nov. 4.—White-haired Delphisec Melancour was arrested by Inspector O'Dowd, charged with reaking and robbing poor boxes. It is charged that he broke the poor box in St. Patrick's chapel, McGregorville, not long ago and stole the contents, estimated at $2.50. He was seen by a lady who was in the vicinity at the time, and Melancour's arrest followed. He has done time before for the same rime. A few years ago he was caught eaking the box at St. Ann's church and vas immediately arrested, although he fell upon his knees and begged hard to be let off. He got a year and a day in state prison. Recently he was caught at the same game in St. George's church by one of the priests, and it is said that the clergyman gave Melancour a thrashng and then let him go on account of his

Chicago, Nov. 4 .- Aeronaut Steward Young was drowned in Lake Michigan at the foot of Monroe street yesterday morning while attempting to descend from his balloon in a parachute. Thousands of persons witnessed the accident. Young ascended from the Winter circus at Hubbard court and Wabash avenu A brisk wind was blowing, and the airship quickly veered to the east. Immediately over Lake Front park Young was seen to loosen his parachute and make ready to desert the balloon Evidently something went wrong, for the aeronaut failed to drop, and the balloon suddenly exploded and fell into the lake. Maryland is Surely Republican and Gorman's Hopes Are Blasted.

Columbus, O., Nov. 5.-Many talk Mr. voight replied: "I am a Republiabout a crisis in Ohio. Some believe that can, a sound money man and a supporter a crisis is impending. The talk about a of the present national administration. combine in the legislature against Senator Hanna has subsided, pending the interest in the official counting of the vote in close counties. As the official canvass of the vote in the 88-counties pro- whom I shall vote. ceeded yesterday the Republican plurality on the state ticket increased, and caucus?" on the legislative tickets it appeared to be getting toward a very close shave. While the Republican plurality on the state ticket exceeds 28,000, the vote on senator will you vote for him?" the legislative ticket is almost as close as it could be. For this reason there is vote for a Republican for United States still unusual anxiety at the respective state headquarters of both parties. The Republicans claim that the legislature stands 75 Republicans to 70 Democrats on joint ballot for senator, and that their condidates for representa tives in three of the close counties have room for doubt that the Republicans en elected by the following pluralities Delaware county, 29; Wood county, 28 Noble county, 85, a total of 142 in the durality of these three counties. change of 72 votes properly distribute n these three counties would therefor have turned the result in the legislatur by giving these representatives to the Democrats. Then the legislature wou have stood 72 Republicans and 73 Demo crats on joint ballot for senator.

When it is remembered that the total gives the Republicans 49 members in the vote of Ohio last year was over 1,000,000, and is almost 1,000,000 this year, it is readily seen that 71 is such a small perto eight for the Democrats, and a macentage that it cannot be clearly ex. jority on joint ballot of 17. pressed in figures or language, and this is what makes the state committees coninue to claim the legislature and both ides to be so closely on guard in watchtwice for the Democratic ticket. The ing the counting in the close counties The official count of Delaware is in, but with protests and notices of contests from the Democrats, and the same is by four votes, while in Carroll the retrue of Noble county. The official count of Wood county may not be completed until Saturday, althugh the officials expect to get through today. In Noble county there was a long contest over 27 scratched tickets that were finally thrown out because they were not properly marked. This was a Republican loss. Every point is being contested in the official count of the close counties. Chairman Nash says that the Republicans have a safe majority of five on joint ballot in the legislature. He admits that defeated in the close counties have been the pluralities are small in some counes, but claims they are safe. Stead and Croker. London, Nov. 5.-An Englishman who does not cherish a totally gloomy view of the result of the recent election in greater New York is William T. Stead, the well-known newspaper man who recently figured in the public eye here as the sponsor of Richard Croker because of his somewhat flattering pen portrait of the Tamo any chieftain, and who can discern a gleam of hope of good government plercing the clouds under which the citizens of the United States are, in some quarters, said to be buried. Mr. Stead gave his views to a representative of the press in the original phrases which characterized his utterances.

Mr. Croker, it appears, while convers ing with Mr. Stead, predicted that the Tammany majority would be 100,000, adding: "If I were to run for mayor. should want all the newspapers against tive candidates majorities ranging from me." Mr. Croker added, says Mr. Stead 'If you intend to write about me, please lar correction elected Underwood (Rep.) say that Tammany must give New York the best government it ever had. Engine Left the Rails on a Curve.

Four Persons Killed and Seventeen Wounded by Cars Going Down Embankment.

Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 5.-Four persons are dead and 17 are suffering from various sorts of injuries as a result of the wreck of a train running from Cincinnati to Washington. The disaster befell a Chesapeake and Ohio express five miles east of this city, near Old five miles east of this city, near Old Shadwell. What brought it about is as yet a subject of conjecture, the spreadng of the rails being assigned as one reason, but a broken axle is the most

The dead: Henry Burnett, colored porter, Keswick, Va.; a woman named Merara and infant, believed to be from Cincinnati; Felix Mareno.

The injured: Moses Goldblatt, Cincinnati, knee cap fractured; Conductor C. S. Buster, legs injured: Engineer Duke, dangerously hurt; Baggageman Pears, Gordonville, Va., badly hurt from shoulders down, and probably internally injured; A. Merara, badly hurt; Mary Mareno, hurt about the head, but not seriously: two children of Mary Mareno. one badly hurt; W. L. Gochenor, right hand cut; J. N. Miller, Pullman conshocked; J. N. Haig, Baltimore, knee sprained slightly; Mrs. Busch, presumably New York, bruised about the head and arms, not seriously: Lee Crandall, Globe, Ari., slight scalp wound; J. W. Elder, Washington, head and nose con siderably bruised; C. E. O'Brien, Louisville. Ky., slightly cut about the head; J. H. Hinckle, Trenton, O., left hip painfully injured. It is reported that the body of another child is under the wreck, but this cannot be confirmed.

The engine left the track on a sharp curve and was hurled against a rocky Including NEUFCHATEL, ROQUEFORT, hill. All of the cars execp the dining EDAM, PINEAPPLE, MACLAREN'S, IMcar and the Richmond sleeper were derailed. Two cars plunged end foremost down a steep embankment, and one of them went into the Rivanna river. The day passenger coach and the exress car were badly wrecked. As the omotive piunged from the rails and was overturned. Engineer Duke was nurled from the cab and crushed under the engine, besides being terribly scaleed by escaping steam. He was rescued by his fireman and the conductor. As soon after the crash as possible the njured passengers and trainmen began the work of rescue and of aiding the injured. Word was sent to this place. and a wrecking train with physicians was immediately dispatched to the scene | Teeth extracted absolutely without pain by the

The body of Burnett, the colored porter, was the last recovered. He was terribly mangled. A foot, supposed to have been his, was first recovered and later, a portion of the head. The body had both legs cut off and died at the hospital at Charlottesville.

Among the uninjured passengers on the train were Senator Orville H. Platt of Connecticut, Commissioner of Pensions Evans and Representative Walter Evans of Louisville.

The local railway officials, after inrestigating the cause of the accident. declared that it was not due to the spreading of the rails, though they are unable to give even a theory. They state that the tracks at the spot are true and examination revealed that they are tied securely. For Lack of Evidence. Springfield, Mass., Nov. 5.-The case of W. J. Hickey, charged with manslaughter, was heard before Justice Bosworth and the detendant was discharged for lack of supporting evidence. The charge was based upon the death of Joseph R. Davies, it being alleged that Davies' death resulted from injuries received at saloon where the defendant works. The evidence showed that the defendant was Instrumental in inducing Davies to leave the saloon, but there was nothing to 172 Boylston street, Boston. prove that undue force or violence was used, neither was it proven that the defendant struck Davies a blow in the face, although it was found that Davies had a bruised and blackened eye. The evidence of the physicians showed that Davies sustained a fracture of the skull and contusion of the brain, which might have resulted from a fall. Police Work at Lawrence. Lawrence, Mass., Nov. 5.-The polic made a good haul yesterday when they arrested Frank Walsh, 18, and William Cunningham, 10 years old, in the Carlesonville woods. Joseph Kenyon, Alsar La Vasse and Julius Fancher, storekeepers, were robbed of various articles this week. A caboose of the B. and M. railway was broken into and these boys are the alleged thieves. Further search in the woods revealed a cave Stephen Matthews of Boston was ar-

By this time the entire town was aroused and the local department, which onsists of three hose carriages, was on the scene. The town has no steam engine service, relying entirely on hyirants. Before an effective stream could turned on the fire the entire Young block was a seething mass of flames, and n a very few minutes the Odd Fellows' lock had caught. The authorities at once realized the seriousness of the fire on their hands, and help was summoned from Manchester, 12 miles away.

The Odd Fellows' block burned like tinder, and the contents of the three stores on the lower floor added not a little to the fury of the fire. Both C. F. Kimball, boots and shoes; and W. H. Moody, gent's furmishings, who occupied two of the stores, carried heavy total loss, Mr. Moody's being over $14,000. The Manchester engine and hose wago: with 30 men arrived shortly after 3 clock, but by this time the progress of the flames had been stayed. Their services, however, were gladly welcomed, for the work of subduing the smouldering embers was a difficult one. The Young block was almost new, having been erected within a year. All the sufferers were fully insured with the exception of Moody, who had only a small amount. The aggregate loss is nearly $60,000.

The young people were made welcome and lost no time in making themselves at home. Games music refreshments and dancing made the hours pass all too quickly, the Italian string orchestra furnishing music. During the height of the festivities, Miss Alberta Turner, in a few well chosen words, presented the host, in behalf of those assembled, with a handsome banjo. Mr. Barron, being an accomplished player of that instrument, feelingly responded.

THE BIG POLICEMAN

pleasant this morning notwithstanding a manner that when it came dashing around the street corner it caused profane pedestrians to say words which would look ill if printed, and the "other kind" to say "My goodness," or up indignation

Looking down, the big policeman saw a little woman, attired in some kind of gray stuff and with big pathetic eyes, standing beside him, and somehow she seemed frightened at the crowd, the passing vehicles, the clanging street the cars themselves. She was white heart a crisp, new $1 bill, and this she and shivering, and her garments, wet placed inside of her worn little pocketthrough, clung about her in a hindering fashion, which kept her from rapid movement, and as she stepped close beside the big policeman he felt a curious desire to take her up, much as one would take up a child, and carry her to a place of safety. She hesitated a moment and then she attempted to go forward, but, alas, whether the rain blind ed her or she just then remembered that she was in haste and must at any risk go on her way, she attempted to cross over the track just in front of a swiftly moving *car. In vain did the gripman shout, in vain did the bell ring. The little gray clad figure fluttered on and the crowd just behind her, feeling that a tragedy was about to be enacted, was hushed into instant silence. The big policeman also comprehended the awful danger of the woman and his teeth came together with a snap and his fine eyes flashed as he sprang after her, his hand outstretched in a frantic effort to reach, grasp and pull her back. The car was almost upon him, the noise of the grinding wheels filled his ears, he knew, as men know whose wits are ever on the alert, that it was risking his life for the life of a stranger, but a mighty effort, the flinging of his body forward, and the deed was done, the woman was drawn out of the reach of the cruel wheels; but the big policeman's left leg gave the passengers in the car a sickening jar as the wheels passed over it and the tragedy for the crowd had been furnished. Nobody noticed the woman, who, unhurt, mingled with the crowd and went her way, but had they done so they would have seen her crying behind her veil and every now and then clutching her fingers together as if in mortal misery. And she was miserable, poor little Marie Denton, who was only a dressmaker's assistant and who had lost her mother, her only known relative, only a few weeks before. She had cried so much in the little room she called home at night that sleep went away from her and she was so exhausted when morning came that she could hardly eat her meager breakfast, and it was late when she started for the down town establishment where she was employed.

It was this thought that impelled her when she tried to cross the street and which had resulted in such a disastrous fashion for the big policeman. Marie remembered that his glance had fallen upon her kindly, and while she had made no effort to push her way to where ready but tender hands were caring for the brave fellow who had risked his life to save hers, yet she registered a vow in her heart that she would never rest until she had told him how grieved she was at his hurt and how much she appreciated his heroism.

He might hate her for being the cause, but Marie was a brave little woman when her duty confronted her, and she knew as well now as later on that she must do what she could to atone to the poor fellow who was enduring the torture of an awful hurt.

All day she worked in silence, but she saw the picture of the kind eyes ever before her, and she resolved that she would buy an evening paper and in the account of the accident would ascertain the name of the man who at one bound was raised to the dignity of a hero and who was a hero, too, as great as any of those whose names were blazoned on fame's banner. What if he was only a policeman and the saving of life was in the line of his duty? No man is required to risk his own life to save that of another, and as Marie remembered that, save a bruise or two, she had escaped without injury while her rescuer was suffering, and all for her sake, she whispered low to her heart not "the hero," or "a hero," but "my said it, but somehow it was so much it away, but kept it near her and around it wove dreams.

When she started home in the evening,

To friends who go a little from my sight,
And some through listant years shine clear head in assent—and the "story" went on to say that, "while he would not lose his leg, yet the officer would be crippled for life," etc. But what Marie wanted to know was where the hurt man was to be found, and this the newspaper story failed to tell beyond the fact that he had been taken to a pospital. Marie sighed and puckered her white forehead into a frown, while she thought of a "way," and then at the next corner she climbed off the car and waited for a policeman. She asked him if he knew where Officer William Smith, who was hurt by a cable can that morning, had been taken, but the policeman did not know anything about The big policeman felt unusually the accident, and he did not know Officer William Smith, and, being a gruff the fact that a disagreeable rain was fellow and tired of the mud and other falling-mean spring rain, which had disagreeable things which follow a mixed itself up with a cold rain in such rainy day, he added he "didn't care." Marie was also tired, and it was past her dinner time, but she went on until she found another wearer of the star, and to him she put the same query regarding Officer Smith. This time she was given the desired information, and something equally relieving to pent she boarded another car, with a heart which held in it a determined purpose. The next morning she went to work as usual, but when it was time to return home she asked her employer for a "day off," and because of the unusual request readily secured permission to be away the whole of the next day. That night when Marie reached home she car bells, and the constant passing of carried somewhere next to her innocent book Yes, she meant to do it-she meant to buy some flowers and some fruit and take them to her "hero," and that night she did not feel so lonely as she had done when she remembered that her mother was lying in the grave far from her own sunny France, for a new interest had taken possession of her, and a new purpose had been evolved in her brain through a sense of justice. She carefully brushed the pretty brown hair the next morning and tacked a little fresh lace in her collar and mended a very small hole in her best gloves be fore putting them on, and then, when she was quite neat and very, very sweet, she went forth in search of flowers. She bought a single pink rose and a few ferns and a half dozen white carnations, and then she bought a tiny basket of pinkish green grapes, and she was ready to find the hospital.

It was a long ride, but not a very long walk, and finally Marie, with her heart fluttering like a bird in its cage, found herself in the presence of the man who but yesterday was strong and well, but who today was as helpless as an infant. His eyes did not shrink when Marie stood beside his narrow cot, but looked at her with the same kindly light which they had worn when she stood beside him at that fatal crossing, and there was a strange sweetness in the thought which came to Marie that at least he did not hate her for the misery she had brought upon him. She began to say in a hesitating fash ion how sorry she was for the accident, but, as was said, she was brave in what she considered her duty, and presently she grew calm and, with only the encouragement of the kindly eyes, went on and confessed that she meant to do what she could to atone for her heedless conduct, and that she "had begun by bringing him some flowers and a bit of fruit." The big officer held out his hand to the little woman, and without any hesitancy she placed hers in it, and a kind of a compact was thus sealed. He said in a gentle way he "was glad he saved her life," and when she had promised to come again and had gone the flowers were laid against the mustached lips, and there was a feeling in the big heart for the little woman that was very tender and very sweet.

Well, of course the little woman came again, and of course the big policeman was glad to see her, and as the days went on the old story was again new for these two people, who had been so near to death together, and when the blessed day came that Officer William Smith was released from the hospital almost well and not so very lame, either, it was understood that there was to be a wedding, by which Miss Marie Denton was to become "Mrs. Officer William Smith." And, sure enough, the wedding came off in due time, and the big policeman's chief was present, besides many of his brother policemen, and among the gifts was a gold medal, which was bestowed on the groom in a neat speech by the chief and which bore the inscription, "For bravery," and there is a pretty little home in one of the quieter streets which bears upon its simple brass door plate the name "Smith," but at which nobody thinks of asking for the big policeman for all that. He has a rival—a pretty, pink cheeked, round, rollicking baby, which the neighbors, as well as the silly parents, call the "little policeman," and which looks enough like the big policeman to be called "a chip off the old block."-Rosa Pearle in Chicago Trib-

Night.

Night is the time for rest. How sweet when labors close To gather round an aching breast The curtain of repose, Stretch the tired limbs and lay the head Down on your own delightful bed!

Night is the time for dreams, The gay romance of life, When truth that is and truth that seems Mix in fantastic strife-Ah, visions less beguiling far Than waking dreams by daylight are!

Night is the time for toil, To plow the classic field Intent to find the buried spoil Its wealthy furrows yield, Till all is ours that sages taught, That poets sung and heroes wrought.

Night is the time to weep. To wet with unseen tears Those graves of memory where sleep The joys of other years, Hopes that were angels at their birth, But died when young, like things of earth

Night is the time to watch, O'er ocean's dark expanse To hail the Pleiades or catch The full moon's earliest glance, That brings unto the homesick mind All we have loved and left behind.

Brooding on hours misspent, To see the specter of despair Come to our lonely tent, Like Brutus, midst his slumbering host, oned to die by Cæsar's ghost Night is the time to think,

When from the eye the soul Takes flight and on the utmost brink Of yonder starry pole Discerns beyond the abyss of night The dawn of uncreated light.

Night is the time to pray. Our Saviour oft withdrey To desert mountains far away. So will his follower do— Steal from the throng to haunts untrod And commune there alone with God.

Night is the time for death, When all around is peace Calmly to yield the weary breath, From sin and suffering cease, Think of beaven's bliss and give the sign To parting friends. Such death be mine!

BRAIDED CLOTH GOWN FROM HARPER'S BAZAR

In many of the gowns this season the waist is so short as almost to give the effect of a belted princesse gown, and this, says Harper's Bazar, even with cloth costumes which have usually been made with somewhat of a coat effect. While the style is one that is peculiarly becoming to a tall woman, it can easily be so arranged as to look well on a short figure, as the lines are long and slender, and the belt can be adjusted to make the waist-line long if so desired. The gown illustrated above is in one of the new shades of brown, made to fit closely over the hips and with all fulness thrown back; the skirt is cut to flare out around the bottom; the front breadth has a graceful pattern in braiding, in which three kinds of braid are used-black with a touch of white, gold, and a flat black braid that runs from belt to hem, giving the effect of the skirt opening at one side. The waist fastens at the left side, and the braiding is put on to give the effect of a pointed yoke. Directions for cutting the skirt, waist, and sleeves are given with the tissue-paper patterns of the gown sold by Harper's Bazar. Ruffles at the wrist and a belt of gold-colored taffeta carry out the gold of the braiding.

The hat has a stiff brim, but the soft crown of shirred brown velvet takes away any hard lines. Around the crown is a roll of dark brown velvet; a long black ostrich plume adds height, while the touch of color in the cerise rosette under the brim at the left side makes the hat much more becoming.

President of Brazil Shot at by a Soldier In Rio Janeiro.

His Nephew Wounded and a Cabinet Officer Killed.

Great Excitement In the City Over the Attempted Assassination.

London, Nov. 6 .- A dispatch to The Times from Rio Janeiro says: "At 1 o'clock yesterday (Friday) a soldier of the Tenth battalion, which constitutes part of the local garrison, attempted to shoot President Moraes with a pistol. The president was just landing at the marine arsenal, after visiting the steamship on which General Barbose, minister of marine, had returned from Bahia. The bystanders frustrated the attempt, but Colonel Moraes, the president's nephew, was slightly wounded in disarming the soldier. General Marcus Betancourt, minister of war, then interfered and was himself stabbed. The wound was so serious that he died soon afterwards. The attack has caused the greatest agitation throughout the

PRESIDENT DE MORAES.

Dr. Prudente J. de Moraes Barros president of the United States of Brazil was inaugurated for a term of four years on Nov. 15, 1894, in succession to President Peixoto. He had previously been president of the Brazilian senate. In his first cabinet the minister for war was General Bernard Vasques, who, in May last, resigned and was succeeded by General Betancourt, who is presumably the minister of war referred to in the foregoing dispatch.

Afioat or Sunk-Which? Newport, R. I., Nov. 6 .- A very sad story was brought to this city by Captain Stanton of the schooner Cornelius which arrived here yesterday with a cargo of coal. It relates to the foundering of a vessel with those on board. That the crew is lost appears to be a certainty, for had the members been aved from the ill-fated vessel they would have been heard from before this time, in Captain Stanton's opinion.

The captain says: "Last Wednesday afternoon we fell in with the two masted schooner William Ellis, Bradford, Conn., about two-thirds of the way between Watch Hill and Point Judith. The Ellis had sailed from Port Johnson, N. Y., last Saturday with a full cargo of coal in her hold and a deckload as well, bound to some port in this part of New England. The sea was very rough and the wind strong from the westward, so strong indeed that we wree compelled to carry our sails reefed. We watched the Ellis and could see that something was wrong with her. About this time our jib-stay was carried away, and our attention for a time was taken from the Ellis. When I looked for her again she had completely disappeared. "The Ellis was two or three miles astern, and she could not have sailed away without being seen, and it is believed she was leaking and wrenched by the heavy sea raging at the time. The captain was thus able to keep her afloat, and she must have sunk. There were two or three small sailing vessels closer to the Ellis than I was. The people aboard these could have gone to her assistance if there had been any time to do so."

After the vessel disappeared Captain Stanton saw wreckage afloat, which he believes to have been a part of the galley

anual Report Shows Nearly a Million on the List of Pensioners. Washington, Nov. 6 .- In his first an-hual report Commissioner of Pensions H. Clay Evans says that there were udded to the rolls during the year the names of 50,101 new pensioners and there were restored to the rolls 2971 pensioners who had been previously dropped, a total of 54,072. During the same period the losses to the roll were 31,960 by death, 1074 by remarriage of widows and mothers, 1845 by legal limitation (minors), 2683 for failure to claim pension for three years, and 3560 for other causes, an aggregate of 41,122. The whole number of pensioners on the rolls June 30, 1897, was 976,014. The net gain over the previous strong the temptation to retort, "Mind year was 5336. It will thus be seen that the pension roll has not yet begun to show any diminution.

Seven widows of revolutionary soldiers and nine daughters of revolutionary soldiers are still on the rolls. During the year 94,454 pension certificates were issued, of which number 50,101 were original allowance and the balance were reissues, increases, restorations, renewals, etc. Of this number 14,671 certificates of various classes were held in this bureau until July 1, 1897, and are accordingly not credited to the past fiscal year. During the same period 76,234 claims of various classes were disllowed.

The amount disbursed for pensions during the year was $139,792,242.12, and the amount disbursed by treasury settlement was $150,475.23, a total of $139,949,-717.35. This exceeds the amount disbursed during the fiscal year 1896 by the sum of $1,584,480.18. The appropriation for the payments of pensions for the fiscal year of 1897 was only $140,000,000. The average annual value of each pension at the close of the year was $133.17. The average annual value of each pen sion under the general law was $162.04 each; under the act of June 27, 1890, was $109.25. The aggregate annual value of all pensions at the close of the year was $129,795,428.

There were 44 original and seven duplicate bounty land claims admitted and 145 original claims to this character rejected. Referring to the consolidation of agencies, Commissioner Evans recommends that the executive order of July 14 last suspending operation of the order of Feb. 6, 1897, the latter of which provided for the consolidation, be continued indefinitely, and adds: "I am still of the opinion that the reduction and consolidation of the pension agencies at this time is not only unnecessary but inexpedient; that the disruption of business in the agencies, the business for the interior department and the general inconvenience of the service would more than offset the anticipated saving to the government." Attention is called to a significant saving in rentals of agencies, a policy still being continued.

In conclusion the report recommends the publication of a complete list of pensioners, and of the passage of a law to the end that no pension be granted to the widow of any soldiers that shall marry hereafter.

Well Known Couple Before Courts. Northampton, Nov. 6 .- The divorce case of Mary N. Walker of New York

vs. Colonel Myron P. Walker of Springfield began in the superior court yesterday. Great interest is felt in the outcome of the suit, as both Colonel and Mrs. Walker are very prominent. Colonel Walker is an ex-state senator, and at different times he has been candidate for governor, lieutenant governor and congressman. Mrs. Walker is a sister of Mrs. J. Sloat Fassett of New York. Infidelity on the part of the husband is alleged as the ground for the Mrs. Walker was formerly Mrs. Scudder, a wealthy resident of New York. Having been divorced from her husband she was at liberty to marry Colonel Walker. The wedding occurred in London in June, 1878. On their return to America a home was established at Belchertown, Mass., Mrs. Walker also retaining her New York residence. Colonel Walker claims that after a disagreement between his wife and himself over some question of property, Mrs.

Walker left their home and went to New York, taking her possessions with her. The next summer, when Mrs. Walker's daughter was married, a partial reconciliation took place, but another estrangement followed, and they have lived apart since then.

Shot His Captain.

Boston, Nov. 6.-The schooner Cameo sailed into the harbor yesterday afternoon with her captain severely wounded and her steward bound hand and foot, under lock and key, the other members of the crew haggard from sleeplessness and hunger, and with her sides and rigging marked and scarred by the fury of the seas.

No sooner had anchor been cast at the South Boston flats than the harbor poice were sent for, and the steward, Henry Hecker, was placed under arrest on a charge of attempted murder and to await developments in the wounds to Captain Ira W. Colbeth. Two bullets are lodged somewhere under the epidermis of Captain Colbeth. His left hand bears the marks left by a piece of murderous lead.

School Superintendents Meet.

Boston, Nov. 6 .- The election of officers by the School Superintendents' association resulted as follows: W. D. Parkinson of Amherst, president; Benjamin Barber of Newport, vice presi-lent; Mary S. Snow of Bangor, secretary and treasurer; Henry Whitmore of Waltham, M. Belle Smith of Brattleboro, Vt.; James H. Fassett of Nashua, N. H., one year; Bessie M. Schofield of Providence, N. B. Ferguson of Middletown, Conn.; Channing Folsom of Dover, N. H., two years; H. W. Lu of Quincy, M. S. Stone of Montpelier, Vt.; George H. Martin of Boston, three years, xecutive committee.

Time She Refermed.

New York, Nov. 6 .- Ellen Peck, who has been known for years as "the queen of confidence women," has been senenced to a term of five years in prison. Mrs. Peck, who is 73 years old, was convicted last week of the larceny of $1200 vorth of jewelry from Christopher Gini. She secured the jewels under the pretense that she wanted to purchase. As security she gave the jeweler a $1000 bond which proved to be worthless.

sium in the columns of this paper on the subject of "If I Were a Man." Many of our bright women contributed their ideas to make an interesting study as to how women would act if they were men. Now Eve wishes to ask one question of men in general: Is not one of the best privileges of being a man that in most cases he is permitted to manage his own affairs? Is there not a tendency on the part of us women, especially now we have started in to reform the world to give gratuitous advice to each other, sometimes in a very gracious way, but often in a very spicy and rather insolent way, and when it is the latter how your own business?" Mortals are not omniscient, and how few there are who have the sympathetic insight and broad minded view that render them fitting advisers. How little, after all, we really know of the needs, the natures, the trials of others whose lives apparently lie open to view. There is an exquisite legend written somewhere of one who pleaded for a certain kind of help toward an end in view, and all who were their wisdom suggested. At last one silence and sympathy the service asked, and then amazed beheld the saint or came who questioned not, but gave in angel transfigured pause to bless the already won an enviable place in the Pation, promptly and permanently. artistic world. She and her work have become a fad, based, however, on ability that is marvelous. The spirit of youth, with its freshness and modesty, clings about everything she paints. Those who see even her studies buy them to hang upon their walls.

When Miss Twyman was only 4 years old, she might be found in a room alone, lying flat on the floor, with her box of paints, hard at work. At 7 she painted pictures of herself in just the kind of frock she wished to have, with the color and fashion distinctly shown and always harmonious. When scarcely 9, she made some splendid color sketches in the woods of Mackinaw, and since then, in the intervals between her study years, she has painted Christmas, Easter and valentine cards, which found immediate sale. Her mother, a cultured woman, and her poetic and artistic father write the lines for the painted cards where, on the margins or the heads, her dextrous touch of color brings the market to her feet.

The Vogue of Fancy Waists.

So many efforts have been made to crush the fancy waist out of existence that no better proof of its popularity could be desired than the fact that almost every day sees the cropping out of new ideas in this convenient affair, which affords such a variety in dress to the woman whose extravagance. The bolero effects, which have been so much worn, are still seen and are always pretty, though the blouse in its variations is fast taking the place of this dainty conceit, that has helped use up so many odds and ends of "left overs" and bargain remnants. Even the blouse waist has been condemned by dressmakers, yet it continues to flourish. In its infancy it was merely and strictly used for negligee costumes, but now is made into a costly and ornate confection and can no longer be recommended for its economy. It appears at all fashionable evening functions made of the most expensive textiles and boasts of trimmings that would adorn a handsome evening gown. This all goes as potent evidence that they are still at the height of favor by women of fashion. - Woman's Home Companion.

Jersey City Woman's Club.

The Jersey City Woman's club is bright, energetic organization which has done much good work in the short time it has been in existence. A retrospect of the club work is given in Our Club Outlook, a little paper published by the organization. The retrospect is written by Miss Ada Davenport Fuller, editor of the paper. She says:

"We have grown from 26 charte members to a membership of 179 in three years; maintained for over two years an exchange for woman's work, for the whole three years an active and successful girls' club; each winter we have had classes in parliamentary law and papers on current events, and last year we established a most successful free kindergarten, as well as a literary class of great interest; most of these will continue this winter."

The club has a town improvement department, which hopes to do a great deal of good work in the future. A woman health inspector, woman city phy sician and women on the school board lic offices this department hopes to bring about.

the empire scarf. It comes two yards and a half long and is meant to be fas tened about the brim of the hat, crossed at the back and brought round and knotted on the left shoulder. These scarf veils are usually of dotted net in black, white or white with black dots and are edged top and bottom with very narrow edged top and bottom with very narrow black ribbon velvet. Across the ends of GRANTE STREET, near the Endge, QUINCY. the scarf is a plaiting or frilling of fine lace a finger wide, with three rows of the narrow velvet run on above it as a border. Others of these scarfs are of chiffon veiling or brussels net in cream color, cardinal or russet brown. When of a becoming shade, these soft, fluttersome veilings form a pretty frame for a delicate face and enhance the bloom of even a glowing beauty. - New York Sun. | Aug 28

Quincy Real Estate Trust— Messrs. King, Graham, Durgin, Merrill and Gordon-for much that a progressive community should have. First, Messrs. Durgin and Merrill gave us the up-to-date business block which bears their name and it is credit to the city. Then these gentlemen with others while The Greenleaf is not a great financial success, yet these gentlemen realize that a first class hotel is one of the needs of Quincy, and this they are maintaining. The Trust has revolutionized "The Hollow," and rand furniture block of H. L. Kincaide & Co., and also erected a block of smaller stores near by, and finally has given us the Quincy Music hall block, which not only supplies the much needed large hall, but also some city stores.

The attendance at the opening of the hall was not as large as it should have been or what the enterprise of the builders seemed to merit. Whether great grandfather, Deacon John it was the attraction offered, or the prices, or that Quincy does not really need a large hall the immediate future will tell. We believe Quincy does need such a hall and that it will be in demand this winter, and we hope it may be a grand financial success for the and they called the street Columbia

M'CONVILLE'S CLAIMS.

Ohio's Democratic Chairman Figures Out a Legislative Majority.

Contests In Close Counties Discourage That Idea.

Likely That the Courts Will Have a Plenty of Columbus, O., Nov. 6.—It will rest with the courts in a measure probably to decide whether the lower branch of the legislature will stand politically as the partial completion of the official count shows it to be today-74 Republicans, 70 Democrats and one seat in doubt. Owing to the closeness of the vote in many of the districts, technicalities were made use of, and it is upon the construction of the several points by the ballot counters that the legal proceedings will rest. This is true particularly of Wood county.

Chairman McConville of the Democratic state committee has not changed joint ballot, and will not do so until the official returns are all in and show the final results to differ from those he has at hand. He and other leaders went to Cincinnati to confer with Mr. McLean and others regarding the contests that are to be made in the close counties.

Chairman Nash insists that the legislature stands 75 Republicans to 70 Democrats, and that the majority on joint ballot for senator will not be less than five. He says he is satisfied with the situation in Wood county. What he feared was that the official count might wipe out the small Republican plurality in that county. Since the face of the official tally sheets showed a plurality of 31 for the Republican representative. Judge Nash is ready to have any court pass on the case. He says the law provides that the members of the board of election cannot go behind the returns, and the supreme court has held that they have no ministerial powers whatever-they cannot hear evidence or use their discretion in throwing out any vote. That is left to the courts and to each branch of the legislature in passing on the credentials of its members.

In Wood county yesterday, Norris, the Republican candidate for representative, filed a protest against the board counting the vote of Freedom township because the ballots should be tallied in blocks of five. This precinct gave Norris 151 and Mears, the Democratic candidate, 263. If the vote of the township had been thrown out it would have increased the plurality of Norris by 112, but it was counted. The Republicans insist that Norris will be declared elected in Wood county, and that the legislature stands 75 to 70.

Counsel for both the Democratic and Republican committees at Bowling Green have agreed to submit the Wood county case at once to the circuit court. The court will be asked to decide whether the election board can go behind the returns. It will be left for the proceedings in the contest in the house to decide whether the vote of Center township shall be counted.

Information has been received at Republican headquarters of protests to the soldiers' home vote at Dayton on the ground that the voting precincts were not in the proper place. If that vote should be thrown out, the Democrats would gain two representatives from Montgomery county and one senator, enough, according to the claims originally advanced by the Republicans, to make the legislature stand 73 Democrats to 72 Republicans on joint ballot. Chairman Nash says there are about 40 precincts in the state where the technical points on the location of the polls can be raised, and if it is made an issue of the contest it will work both ways, with no one knowing the final result.

Will Not Affect Result.

Baltimore, Nov. 6.—The Evening News (Ind. Dem.) publishes a report to the effect that one of the Democratic supervisors of election in Somerset county refuses to sign the returns from that county, thus making it possible for the Republicans to lose three members of the legislature who were elected from that county on Tuesday last. The report has caused considerable uneasiness at Republican headquarters, although the Republicans will be able to organize the Louse without Somerset county's vote.

Murray Vandiver, chairman of the Democratic state committee, admitted Senator Gorman's defeat on the face of the returns, and added that he was convinced of their correctness.

The Democrat refused to sign the certificate of election because of certain irregularities in the tally-sheet and ballots, in that the judges of elections in several instances failed to sign the former, and that at least 500 of the latter were counted in spite of the fact that they were not endorsed with the initials of one of the judges as required by law. The Republican supervisors, upon advice of counsel, decided to disregard these apparent irregularities whereupon the Democrat, who had been elected secretary of the board, withdrew. The other two then reorganized the board and issued sub-poenas to the judges and clerks of the various precincts to appear before them on Monday to make the necessary corrections in the sheets. Mr. Sanford, the Democrat, thereupon entered a protest, claiming that the whole course of the board is illegal, and the question is likely to be taken into the courts, where an attempt may be made to throw out the unmarked ballots and reverse the result of the late election, in which event the four assemblymen and one senator from Somerset may go into the Democratic instead of Republican column.

Meeting of Greenhalge Club. Boston, Nov. 6.—The Greenhalge club held its second meeting last evening, and there were forcible comments by Governor Wolcott on the result of the election in New York city, which he characterized as "lamentable." In his speech, following that of the governor, Senator Lodge concurred in all that the executive had said.

length on the elections, alluding to the great plurality of Governor Wolcott last year, and then saying that this year, when 100,000 Republicans disgraced themselves by remaining home on election day, Governor Wolcott was still re-elected by the largest plurality in the history of the state, with the exception of 1896.

There was great applause for Governor Wolcott when he was presented. He said in reference to the election of Senator George P. Lawrence in the First congressional district that he would be an honor to the district and the state. The elections in the country were absolutely satisfactory with one exception. The exception was the election in New York. There they were trying the greatest experiment in democratic national administration ever tried on the face of the globe. They had united 3,000,-000 more people than there were in the whole state of Massachusetts. Mr. Low was a loyal Republican, and had shown devotion to honest politics. Mr. Tracy's distinguished ability was admitted, but his candidacy when launched could have meant but one thing-op-position to Tammany hall. While resentment was natural, to put a second Republican in the field was madness. It seemed to him that everyone saw with amazement this great experiment handed over to Tammany hall for four years. itself and the Democratic party; it may as a lamentable result. Governor Wolcott then eulogized Gov. Greenhalge at some length. The other speakers were Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Judge Sheldon of the superior court and Postmaster Henry A. Thomas.

Washington, Nov. 6 .- Postmaster General Gary has approved the report of €laims of the first assistant as sole referee in the case of the Western Union Telegraph company vs. the United States, involving a large claim for tolls under the Wanamaker rate and accrued under that administration. Mr. Heath's report found that there was due to the company $253,869. This represents the difference between the rates paid prior and subsequent to the adoption of the Wanamaker rate.

It is understood that the government will enter no defense to a judgment in the court of claims except to waive an acknowledgment that this would permit anyone to question the right of the postmaster general to fix an arbitrary rate. The case is expected to come up in court today, when the government, in making this stand, will say its conclusion was a voluntary one, based on the conviction that the rate was too low.

Leading manufacturing industries continue fairly well employed. Rhode Island woolen mills are advancing wages of employes. While there has been a moderate reaction in iron and steel, furnaces and mills continue well employed, and the outlook for higher quotations next year is unchanged.

There are 223 business failures reported throughout the United States this week, compared with 218 last week, 223 in the week a year ago, 260 two years vember, 1893.

Net railway earnings for September make a good showing. The total gross earnings of 48 roads aggregate $49,888,-074, and the net earnings $18,342,000, a gain for the month over last year of lneers set fire to the ship and, taking to 9.7 per cent in gross and over 21 per cent give Tammany hall time to intrench a small boat, landed at Bahia, where in net. For the nine months of the calsome of the men told the authorities of endar year the gross earnings of 51 roads show a gain of four per cent in gross and 12 per cent in net.

October bank clearings show but few effects of the quieter trade conditions during the month. Though showing a smaller gain over last year than did September or August, the total volume of clearings is 1 per cent larger than for September, 22.8 per cent larger than October a year ago, and 7.2 per cent larger than in October, 1895. The ixcrease as compared with October, 1894, is 31 per cent, with October, 1893, 39 per cent, and is only 3 per cent smaller than in October, 1890. Every group of cities but one, and that the southern, shows a heavy gain over a year ago. Yellow fever quarantines have cut down the gain at the south less than 2 per cent. Heaviest increases are in the middle and southwestern states. Only one city outside of the southern states shows a falling off from its October total a year ago. Total clearings at 78 cities for the 10 months aggregate $45,669,537,952, an increase of 10 per cent over a year ago. nearly 6 per cent over two years ago and 23 per cent over 1894.

QUADRUPLE MURDER. Four Children of a Canadian Farmer Hacked to Pieces. Montreal, Nov. 6.-Word reached here Friday from Rawdon, 12 miles from St Julienne, Que., of the murder of four persons, the children of Captain Michael McNulty, a farmer. Thursday morning Mr. and Mrs. McNulty went to St. Julienne, leaving their four children in the house. Three of the children were girls, aged 18, 16 and 14 respectively, the fourth child being a boy, aged 10. The discovery of the murder was made by a friend of the family named Merrin. He called at the McNulty house in the afternoon and found the front door broken in and two of the children, the boy and the youngest girl, lying on the floor of the hall, their heads literally backed to pieces. On the road to the barn he found the body of the second girl, and in the barn the body of the oldest girl was found terribly lacerated. clothing had been torn from her body. Morrin alarmed the neighbors, and the parents were sent for. They reached the house in the evening and were horrified to find all of their children dead.

A tramp, who was seen in the neighborhood of the house, is suspected of the crime, and detectives are looking for SALMON, 9 cents per can. THE WEATHER INDICATIONS.

The threatening weather will last but a short time, as the storm is moving rapidly. The clearing conditions following will probable extend to New England tonight, and for Sunday fair and generally clear weather now seems certain, with slightly cooler temperatures and fresh westerly winds. Monday also promises fair and slightly warmer. ALMANAC, SUNDAY, NOV. 7. Sun rises-6:26; sets, 4:30.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 7. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. TOPIC.—"Influence—why to get it, how to get it, how to use it."—Deut. xx, 1-9. Math. v,

No man lives to himself in this world. Our lives are constantly coming in contact with the lives of those about us and leaving an impress upon them either for good or evil. Even the weak, faint hearted and cowardly have an influence in life as well as the brave and strong. In the laws given to govern God's people in battle three classes are exempted from service and one class is forbidden to enter (Deut. xx. 8). This is the class of faint hearted and timid. They were forbidden for fear of their influence upon others. The law said: 'What man is there that is fearful and faint hearted? Let him go and return unto his house, lest his brethren's heart faint as well as his heart." The coward was not to enter battle lest he should infect others with his cowardice.

It is God's desire that His people should have influence in the world. This is one reason why we should seek influence. It is God's desire and intention to influence the world for good through the lives of His people. "Ye are the salt of the earth," He says. "Ye are the light of the world." Since this Is God's desire, we should seek to do it. God never sanctioned putting the light of Christianity under a bushel. His command is, "Let your light shine before men," and why? That men may be thereby influenced for good; "that they may see your good works and glorify your Father which is in heaven.

The best way to get the right kind of influence is to live a noble, Christian life. Men today are guided more than ever by what they are and what they do. The lives of all are closely scrutinized. False professions are easily discerned. The eye of the world is keen and the conditions of the world is keen to Thomas' Corner only.) and readily perceives the sham coatings of hypocrisy. It is life that influences life. Let us, therefore, so live before men that they shall see that we have been with Jesus and be influenced by our lives to consecrate themselves to

Our influence should be used for good. We should let our light shine to lead men to praise God and to believe in on the hour and half hour until 9.50 P. M., then Him. The Judge of all has pronounced at 10.20 and 11.20 P. M. men to praise God and to believe in judgment against those who .use their influence for evil. "It must needs be," He says, "that offenses come, but woe, He adds, "upon that man through whom the offense cometh!" It is a solemn thought that each day we are making an eternal impress for good or evil upon the lives of others. By our words and lives we are directing immortal souls to heaven or to hell. What is our influence? Bible Readings.—Judges xvi, 1-21;

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and, therefore, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taker internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send to circulars and testimonials. Address,

About Parlor Stoves_

A LL homes are not blessed with a furnace, and its better so, for the amount of coal it takes to run some furnaces, will keep a man poor for life.

For genuine comfort and economy, nothing can approach a good PARLOR STOVE, and the beautiful new fall creations are works of art and science.

They beautify your home and make your rooms as comfortable as though they were fleece lined.

There isn't a store in Boston that can show the assortment of Parlor Stoves that we have here. 50 patterns to choose from, $2.98 to $25.00. Economical coal consumers and wonderful heaters. What isn't here isn't worth talking about or worth looking at. That's not all, for our prices, without question, are acknowledged by shrewdest buyers to be the lowest.

Lake Erie the Scene of an Easily Avoidable Disaster.

of the Western Transit line (New York Central), foundered in eight fathoms

William Gillies of Buffalo, and having on board a crew of 21 all told, left Buffalo reight. A strong southwest gale was plowing at the time, and the weather office had storm signals up for the lake. Captain Gillies thought he could weather the gale and headed straight up the lake. to reach the top of the signal spar that stood above the water. These they the Mariposa of the Minnesota line.

Captain Root had this to say regarding the storm on the lake and the rescue of gales I ever experienced in all my years on the lakes. We started from Chicago with a load of oats. All the way down the lakes we had to fight with the storm and I thought once or twice of putting in somewhere until it blew over. I am glad I did not, for I fear that if I had nd told me that he had sighted a spar off to the north, and he thought there was a couple of men clinging to it. When I got my glasses on it I could distinguish the men plainly. We were running under a good head of steam, and I put on more and headed for the spar. When I got near I was puzzled how to help the men off, for I could not lower a boat in such a storm. Finally I circled about the spar until I ran alongside and my men picked the poor fellows off. They had to drag them away from the spar by force, for they had been there so long that their arms had become almost paralyzed and were twisted about the mast and almost frozen fast to it. When we got them on board we put them in bunks and gave them warm food and soups, and had them feeling pretty good physically when we reached harbor.' The Idaho went out of commission three or four years ago, but this summer that organization used as the flagship during the G. A. R. encampment in August. At the close of the encampment ne was put into commission again as a reighter. The captain of the ill-fated steamer, Alexander Gillies, was one of the most widely known of the lake seamen. He was 41 years old and knew the lake waters like a book. The lost comprise the following: Alexander Gillies, captain, Buffalo; George Gibson, first mate, Buffalo; William Clancy, chief engineer, Buffalo; John D. Taylor, steward, Buffalo; Nelson Skinner, first assistant engineer; Louis Gilmore, watchman; Richard McLean. wheelsman; Robert Williams, wheelsman; J. J. Richard, lookout; Henry Thompson, lookout; Conrad Blanker fireman; William Gregory, fireman; John Rochester, N. Y.; Mr. Bell, deckhand The names of three of the men drowned are unknown to the steamship company. One was a fireman, another a deckhand and a third a porter.

William Gill, the rescued deckhand, has sailed on the lakes for many years. His story of the disaster is a thrilling one. He said: "We left here Friday night bound for Chicago with a cargo of general merchandise. Everything seemed to be all right until we got outside the breakwater, and then we were saw. When the first big wave struck us we were tossed into the air like a top, and a second later a big roller came over the port bow and rolled down amidships a foot deep. The wind shrieked and howled, but we did not pay much attention to the storm. We had felt the wind before. The captair consulted with the nate and decided that we could weather , and he kept on his course.

"As we headed up the lake, dead against the gale, it appeared to be getting worse every minute. The waves were unning high and the wind threw the tops from the breakers like dust. We noved slowly against the heavy wind and sea, and when we were well up the lake we found the boat was making water. It kept coming faster and faster. and the bilge pumps were put to work, but the water gained, and every minute The ship kept getting less buoyant and the big combers kept breaking over her. "We were near Long Point at this time, and the captain started to put in there with the intention of beaching her, but the water gained so rapidly that it was too late. She was already laboring, and the two men at the wheel could do nothing. A couple more men went to work with them, and brought her around and headed her towards land. "Captain Gillies started the pumps and ordered the men to the fire buckets. We formed a line and began to bail, but it was no use. The water gained on the pumps and the buckets, and soon the water put the fires out. When it was found that the power had gone and that she could not move, we knew we could not live in the trough of the fearful sea. and the only hope left us was to run out the anchor and bring her head up to the ea and let her ride out the gale. Every eaman realizes the danger of attemptng to do that in the face of a hurricane and when Captain Gillies decided to do it he ordered the lashings of the boats cut and told the men that they were forced to take one last chance for their lives.

"At the word the anchor dropped from the bow and the chain began to pay out; but the sea was too heavy, and instead of the anchor catching with a firm grip and bringing the ship's head up to the storm with a jerk, it went too slow, and she simply tumbled into the trough of the seas, which broke over her in torrents. In an instant she was as helpless as a log, and she was tossed here and there f water at 4:30 Saturday morning off and taking every wave aboard. From ong Point on Lake Erie. This point port to starboard the great mountains uts out into the lake from the Canadian of water poured, rolling into the hold, side our spar, and as she went past hore about 65 miles west of Buffalo, and this added to the quantity already and its vicinity has been the scene of weighting her down. The load was too nuch, and after a moment, when we all felt that we were lost, the ship keeled The Idoha, commanded by Captain

"What became of my mates I do not know. I remember that the boats had been loosened, and that some of the mer were ready to take to them if the vessel went under, but no boat could have lived for a minute in that terrible sea, and i any of them did get in the boats it was simply to be swamped as soon as the first wave struck them. Maybe they did not leave the ship at all. I was near effect, and the Idaho foundered with 19 the spar, and when the stern of the vesse began to go under I went for the rigging named William Gill, of Rochester, and and went up as fast as I could. Another the second mate, Louis Laforee, managed man went with me-the second mateand I thank the Lord that he was with me, or I would have gone mad during all dung to until eight hours later, when the long hours that I was up there hangthey were discovered by the outlook on | ing on and trying to keep off the fright-from port to starboard the spar remained out of the water, with my mate and myself clinging to it. All this time the hail and sleet was coming down in a cutting sheet and we were covered with ice in a few minutes, for though the top of the spar on which we were hanging was 25 feet above water, the big waves struck us and broke over us, and the hail cut us like shot. I knew that it was about 3 o'clock when we went down, and it seemed to me that daylight would never come. For what seemed to be an age we hung on to the rigging, and we twisted our arms about the spar and let them freeze in position, for we would

as bad as ever. There did not seem to be any chance of it going down. Hour after hour we waited there, and then we saw the Mariposa coming. For a long time we did not know whether she would sight us, and we watched her from the time she was a little, smoky haze up the lake until we could see that she was a big vessel. When she finally sighted us and we saw her head for us, I tried to tell my mate, but I could not, and he looked at me with a happy look in his face. It was a terrible time to us before she came up to us, and then I knew we were no yet safe, for the sea was running mountains high and the big steel boat was rolling like a skiff. Every wave sent her up in the air until we could see her white bottom under her waterline. We knew at once that her captain would not attempt to lower a boat, for it would have been chewed up. When the Mariposa got within a cable length of us a man with a strong voice yelled to us to hang on. Then the boat circled around us coming as near as she could, but then she went off to starboard, rolling heavily when she got in the trough of the sea Then she came back again and again missed us, and we could not take a line had one been thrown to us. Again she went around, and we watched her and watched the men on her rail waiting to give us a lift when they could. On the dozen men reached for us. I do no the engineer, got hold of me and dragged although it seemed a week.'

The second mate, Louis Laforce, told a harrowing story. He said that in the rush of the men from the hold, one of them, a watchman, was trampled to death. The crew was frantic to get out of the place. Six or eight, he said, mushave been drowned like rats in the hold They were not warned of the sinking of the boat. The first long dip of the stern was the first intimation they had that the final danger was at hand, and then the made a grand rush to get on deck. The hatchway was too small to let them through together, and the result was that one of them was trampled to death and several were left to drown.

Jury Drawn From a Panel of Eighty-Eight Men.

Kelly Disapproves of the Purpose of Counsel te Establish Insanity.

Dover, N. H., Nov. 8 .- Saturday evening all preliminaries were completed for the trial of Joseph E. Kelley, the murderer of Joseph A. Stickney, cashier of the Great Falls National bank at Som-Ladies' Plaid Shirt Waists, $1.25 at 99c., all ersworth, on April 16 last. The trial began here just before noon with the im-Men's wool fleeced Shirts and Drawers, $1.00 panelling of the jury from a list of 88. Edgerly of Somersworth and Postmaster James Ryan of Dover are looking after the interests of the murderer.

The residents of Amesbury, Mass., where the youthful murderer passed his boyhood days, are greatly interested in the case and not a small number are already here. Mr. and Mrs. Kelley, the father and mother of the prisoner; Frank W. Kelley, a brother, and his two sisters, Annie and Lizzie Kelley, will be the only relatives from Amesbury, while there will be at least 11 more witnesses, including Drs. Murphy and Fitzhugh, who attended Kelley during sickness while he was under the parental roof. The defense have been unable to secure an important witness in the person of Dr. Norton, who attended Kelley when he is said to have fallen from the roof of a building and injured his head several years ago. Dr. Norton, when last heard from, was in Washington, but a most diligent search failed to locate him. Since Kelley's arrest he has frequently told how he took the life of Cashier Stickney and accomplished the theft of the money belonging to the bank after the deed was committed. The trial will be of unusual interest from the fact that their client was not responsible for the murder on account of insanity.

"I was hard up and wanted money," said Kelley. "I had thought of going to my father at Amesbury to ask him to help me. The idea of robbing the bank had not entered my head at that time. On the Wednesday before the murder, while sitting at my window opposite the bank, I saw Cashier Stickney putting great piles of bills and rolls of gold into the vaults of the bank. It seemed to come as a sort of inspiration that only a few feet away, across the street, was a large quantity of the very cash I needed o much. Then I knew I should rob the

The most careful preparation had been made for carrying out the crime. The ntered the bank at a time when he knew the cashier would be alone, as it was Mr. Stickney's practice to let his assistant, Miss Parcher Swasey, go to dinner first. Having seen Miss swasey leave, the murderer went up the stairs without being observed by any person. He softly turned the knob in the unlocked door, and entered the IOURS: 1 to 3 and 6 to 8 P. M. Telephone, 22-2. banking room. Stepping up to the wicket behind which the cashier was at work, he demanded money. Mr. Stickney refused and the desperado then sprang against the light door in the partition, burst it open with one trenendous kick, and fell upon the aged bank official before that person could make an outcry. Blows were rained upon his head in quick succession, until the blackjack broke and was dropped from the hands of the murderer to give place o a razor with which to finish the work. The blows from the leather-covered ball of lead were sufficient in themselves to cause death, for the first one must have rendered the victim unconscious, but the murderer apparently wished to make sure that he would not be interrupted. After dispatching the cashier it was quick work then to seize the money in sight, about $4100 in all, and leave the

Then he went back to the business section of the went back to the business section of the city, ate dinner, hired a team, drove along and picked up the bag and disappeared. He was followed to Milton, N. H., where he left the team and took a train for Montreal, at which place he was arrested, in a house which he had entered disguised as a woman. About $2700 were found on him at that time. Kelley at once acknowledged that he was the man wanted and later confessed his guilt.

Boston's Murder Mystery. Boston, Nov. 8 .- The police spent all Sunday in running down clues on the murder of Alice Brown, who was found strangled in a lodging house last Thursday, and the only one which gave them any encouragement was that relating to a man who was seen in a restaurant with the girl on the night when the mur er is supposed to have been committed. Minor League Representatives Advocate a Modification.

Meeting of Harvard and Yale at Cambridge the Coming Saturday.

Philadelphia, Nov. 9.—The National ague meeting, which had its prelimin ry or curtain raiser in a session of th arbitration board last night, has drawn quite a representative gathering to Phil delphia. The league proper began its 6 to 4. sessions today. The board remained i session until midnight. In the disput over the services of Second Baseman Eagan, the board decided that the player arded him to that club. The board home, 5 to 2. he agreement existing between Pitts burg and Syracuse, had no right to ne gotiate with Syracuse for Eagan's ser vices, and the deal between those clubs which also included the transfer of Canavan to Syracuse, was declared null

A number of the representatives of ninor league clubs were called before the board in relation to the petition for a modification of the present drafting rule. After hearing them the board, upon sug gestion of Mr. Hart, asked the minor league men to resolve themselves into a convention some time during the pres ent league meeting and agree upon form of amendment to the constitution on the subject of drafting, and to present this in writing to the board for its versity football team has begun the process of closing up its ranks preparatory to the great contest with Harvard at Cambridge Saturday. From 2:15 until 3 o'clock the practice was of the star chamber order, and from 3 until 3:30 spectators were admitted Monday. Early in the season it was decided that Yale football must undergo complete econstruction, and lines for action were drawn which had for their purpose the e-establishment of Yale's impregnable defense. The work was planned with insulated electric light wires are supthe determination to develop material of a character which would insure fine teams in the years immediately to come. The whole univeristy has been gone over, were arrested, charged by the employers and every available man has been called out. Today Yale has a little army of men, all of whom are good football players. The eleven best men have been picked, and hope of victory is by no means abandoned. One thing is announced as certain: Yale's 1897 football team is one of the sandiest and most gritty in the history of the game at

THE BOSTON MURDER.

Police Declare That They Have Evidence Against a Suspect.

Boston, Nov. 9.-William Leavitt, the blind song seller, who lodged in the same house with Alice Brown, was arrested last night and charged with the crime. Upon just what evidence Leavitt has been taken into custody on such a serious charge, the police refuse to state. It is said, however, that Leavitt's arrest was brought about by the threatening language which he is said to have used against some woman during his conversation with McMillan.

Leavitt, for the past four days, has talked considerably about the murder but he has been allowed to pursue his customary occupation of song selling of the sidewalks of the city without being led to suspect that he was being watched The fact that the woman was strangled to death instead of killed by a more usual method with some instrument has been considered for some days as a particularly strange aspect of the crime, and might seem to show that it was a blind man's only method of dispatching his

The police believe that Leavitt has spent a portion of his life in state prison in other states, but for what offense they are at present unable to ascertain According to his story, he was born in Seekonk, R. I., 31 years ago. He says that Leavitt ie not his real name, bu that of the man who adopted him, and who was H. D. Leavitt, formerly o Faneuil hall square. He declines to have his right name known, ostensibl for his father's sake, and says that Mr. Leavitt sent him to the Perkins institu tion for the blind when he was a boy but that he would not study, and after two years stay there was expelled fo misconduct. At the age of 17 he ran away and since then has been roaming about the country. He sold anythin from lead pencils to patent medicine He says that he is not a mendicant, an does not want charity; that he uses his "blind" badge not to solicit alms, but for the sake of his business.

The murdered girl has been positively identified as Mary Alice Ruderham Rindge Center, N. H. The identifica tion was made by Mrs. Lucy S. Brown of Cambridge, for whom the girl worked about a year ago, and whose name she assumed when she left and took up he abode in this city. A sister of Mrs Brown, as well as a neighbor, also identified the dead woman, and the state ment of the three is taken by the police as conclusive. Mrs. Brown stated tha the Ruderham girl went to her house as a domestic in 1895 and remained nearly

As far as Leavitt is concerned the police are positive that they have the very best evidence against him. He was arraigned in court today on a charge of murder and held for examination.

Prof. Wrigley in reply said nothing rightened him more than to make a speech or to play at an organ recital. He was pleased to meet so many of his friends. He had been to England before but not to stay, but now he was going to stay. He had been here ten years and had more friends on this had none but relatives on the other still growing. side. He hoped to return some day and visit his Quincy friends. He had been very glad to help the Quincy club and to hear through the Ledger of adult life on land. their good times. He wished he could take his choir with him, for he should not meet with any better set of fellows on the other side. He would wear the watch and show it with great pride. He hoped his ehoir would stand by the new organist, for he was a good man. Again, thanking you for your kind wishes and present, I am yours truly.

The watch, which was a gold one, was very handsome and on the inside case had the following inscription: 'Presented to Frank Wrigley by his Quincy friends, Nov. 11, 1897." Other brief remarks were made by Herbert M. Federhen, Jr., William W. Osborne, Councilman Packard, Dr. Fred Jones and A. G. Dolliver.

At the conclusion of the speech makng, refreshments were served, and after the cigars, which had been sent in by Mr. Sears, had been lighted, there was an impromptu entertainment, consisting of organ solos by Prof. Wrigley and Prof. Frank Gilbert; banjo olos and songs by Sam Weston the amous end man; vocal solos by Prof. Wrigley, and choruses which all oined, and it is unnecessary to add that these choruses were fine.

Thus the hours passed until the new watch warned the party that it was ong, "Auld Land Syne," they parted. Prof. Wrigley took leave of his and well wishes for the future.

SUFFOCATION OF FIVE.

French Merchant and Speculator Planned His Family's Death.

His Wife Agreed, and Three Children Died With Them.

Mr. Chamberlain's Contrast of English and American Methods.

Paris, Nov. 9.-A man named Dreyfus a cousin of Captain Dreyfus, the deported artillery officer imprisoned on an island off the coast of French Guiana, his wife, formerly Rebecca F. Abraham, an American, and their three daughters, respectively 13, 11 and 7 years of age * committed suicide Monday morning or Sunday night at their residence by inhaling charcoal fumes. The porter of the house found the bodies on the floor in the bedroom of the youngest child Drayfus left a letter for the commissary of police of that district, enclosing 400 francs with which to defray the expenses of the funeral of the family. Dreyfus was so terribly upset by the sentence imposed upon Captain Dreyfus that he changed his name to that of his wife, but recent losses are believed to have been tne cause.

Dreyfus left a long letter to The Times and others to his financial partner, Mr. Dikof, and to his mother-in-law. In the argues that suicide is justifiable, urges do well to follow his example, and says: "It is better for the children to die with their parents, as their mother has also elected to commit suicide." He refers, the letters treat the reasons for the suicide evasively.

Mr. Dikof asserts that the man was in comfortable circumstances and had property, with an annual income of about $2500. Dikof's theory is that the tragedy resulted from excess of melancholy o madness. He had heard Dreyfus allude 4 Faxon Block, Quincy. approvingly to recent suicides in Paris.

The apartments occupied by the fam ily are richly furnished. In the dining room the police found the remnants of an ample repast. It appears that the two elder children, Gladys and Stella, went to school daily and were registered s "Jews of American origin." Last Saturday the girls bade the superioress of the school goodbye, saying that they were going to London with their parents. In addition to carrying on his business tea, coffee and dried fruit, Mr. Dreyfus had speculated a good deal on the bourse. He often complained to Dikof about his losses, and the latter says that he often remonstrated with Dreyfus against indulging his despondency. Mme. Dreyfus last week made extensive purchases of furs and clothing for the children, and was getting ready to visit her sister in London. This seems to show that she had had no inkling of her husband's intentions at that time,

A FIGHT WITH ROBBERS. Man and Woman Battled With Masked Marau-

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Nov. 9.-Three masked men broke into the homestead of the late Ira. Shafer at Oakes, opposite this city, Monday morning. As they were about to go through the rooms on the second floor they were interrapted by Howard Shafer, son of the dead law-yer. Shafer went to a bureau to get a revolver, when he was seized by the burglars, and an exciting struggle took place. Shafer, who is a small man, was not match for his burly assailants. His wife came to his assistance, and together they managed to prolong the fight. Eventually, however, they got Shafer's revolver away from him and overpowered the young man.

By this time Shafer's sisters had been aroused, and were screaming lustily out of their window for help. Then the burglars made a hasty exit, firing two or three shots at the house in parting. May Shafer, who had been asleep in an adjoining room, was awakened by the battle in her brother's room and, taking her diamonds from her dresser, placed them in her mouth and held them there until the burglars disappeared.

Counsel Gives It Up. New York, Nov. 9 .- W. E. Ward, counsel for Mrs. Angell, who made claim to being Jay Gould's widow, appeared before Justice Smith in the supreme court and asked the judge to make an order dismissing the complaint and giving him eave to discontinue the action. He said he was thoroughly convinced that there vas no foundation for this action, and he made this motion for the reason that, having commenced this action voluntarily and made the charges, he thought it was no more than justice to the defendants that he should take the initiative in having the action dismissed rather than allow it to be called on the Elihu Root, who represented the Gould heirs, warmly commended Mr. Ward's action. He thought, however, that the complaint should not be dismissed without such a record being made as to con clusively and forever bar the plaintiff from reasserting her claim. They intended, he said, to take action against the authors of this conspiracy to blacker the reputation and blackmail the heirs of the late Mr. Gould. He thought that Mrs. Angell should be committed to this motion, and suggested that the justice should make such an order as would provide for personal notice to her that this proceeding had been dismissed and prove that she had authorized the iscontinuance of this suit. Otherwise she might afterwards claim that she was not a party to this motion. He yould rather have the case set down for trial and let her employ other counse and, if she failed to avail herself of hat opportunity, then her case should be dismissed on the merits.

The ustice directed an order to be entered denying the motion, and followed that by another order providing that the action should be preferred or the circuit calendar for the first Monday in December and that personal service of this order be made upon the plaintiff in the action.

"I Pardon In Full," Says Blanco. Havana, Nov. 9 .- Marshal Blanco has issued the following edict, officially described as "expressing the magnanimous sentiments of the queen regent and the firm determination of the national government:" "I pardon in full all l'all and Winter Willinery those who have been prosecuted for the crime of rebellion Rehels for common crimes, independent of rebellion, such as spoliation, immorality and the like, will be pardoned as rebels but judged for other offenses committed by them. Those suffering sentences imposed prior to the date of this edict will have their sentences commuted to certain extent, and perhaps in some eases in full

"Persons pardoned should appear before the civil authorities at their respective places of residence, which they will designate and which will be communicated to me. Should they designate places of residence outside the principal owns, they will be advised of the necessity of residing within the military zone of civilization. The military authoriies will be careful not to invade the jurisdiction of the civil authorities. Therefore, those pardoned cannot change their residence without obtaining the permission of both the civil and military au-

Geor is Policeman Killed. Atlanta, Nov. 9.—Patrolman Pender as killed last night while he was shadowing a supposed burglar who had entered the wholesale whisky house of . Steinau. The officer saw a man enand struck a match he was fired upon five times and died in a few minutes.

The business of Steinau had been placed in the hands of a receiver. The police intimate that some member of the firm endeavoring to secure money from the vault entered, and when he found himself discovered he killed the only witness. Steinau was immediately placed under arrest.

Death of a Desperado. Weston, W. Va., Nov. 9.—Milton Hick-man, leader of a gang of desperadoes, was shot and killed near a church by Deputy United States Marshal Reader nd a large posse. The fight was proracted, and Reader and two of the Hickan gang were wounded. Hickman left the mourners' bench to ngage in the fight. He was a postoffice robber and the leader of a dangerous gang. The affair was in the mountains, near Mudd Lety. Burglary In a Maine Town. Harrison, Me., Nov. 9.—The general store of Marshal Jordan & Son was broken into yesterday morning bg burglars, who blew the safe to pieces with dynamite. Of the contents $8000 worth of stock was taken, but the change was afterwards found scattered on the floor, as if it had not been desired by the men. The burglars are supposed to be the same who have been making breaks and highway robberies in this vicinity for a number of days.

Chicago Alderman Killed. Chicago, Nov. 9.-Alderman Henry Ludolph of the Sixteenth ward was run over and instantly killed by a passenger train last night while on his way to attend a meeting of the council.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Yellow fever continues on the decrease at New Orleans, and the board of nealth is elated over the prospects of an early termination of the scare. Helen A. Brigham, ex-departmen president of the Massachusetts Woman's Relief corps, died at her home in Hyde Park, Mass., Tuesday afternoon from a complication of diseases.

All of the strikes in New York on account of broken contracts on the part of the cloakmakers have been settled except that in the shop of Friedman Bros. The 500 operatives there went out yesterday when an attempt was made to decrease wages.

At Braidwood, Ills., 500 coal miners who have been on strike since July 4 returned to work. They will receive 774 cents per ton, an advance of 10 cents; no rent will be collected for the strike period, and coal will be supplied to them at a reduction of 50 cents per ton.

The 3:40 express from Boston to Keene N. H., crashed into a shifter and two coal cars of 60,000 pounds capacity, which were crossing a switch at Lowell yes terday. No passenger was injured though the two forward cars of the train and the two coal cars were splintered. Captain Devoll of the whaling steamer Baylies, now at San Francisco, says there are about 400 barrels of flour at Point Barrows, probably within reach of the closed-in whalers. He does not think there will be any starving among the whalers this winter, though they may be on greatly reduced rations. The recount of the votes in the contested representative district in Pittsfield, Mass., gives the election to J. M. Stevenson (Rep.) over John Ganwell (Dem.), who was returned elected by the lection officers. Stevenson gained six votes by the recount and Ganwell lost four, giving Stevenson a lead of one vote. ### Anti-Football Bill Passed.

Atlanta, Nov. 9.—Representative Côle's football bill prohibiting match or prize games of football, or games of football where admission fees are charged, came up in the house Monday with a favorable eport from the general judiciary committee, with an amendment striking out 'games of like character." This was adopted and the bill passed without discussion by a vote of 91 to 3. This remarkable result was anticipated notwithstanding the warm opposition of the state university which ecovering from the shock of Student Von Gamon's death, tried to stem th ide of opposition in order to save the tide of opposition in order to save the game. ## PROCLAMATION URGED

Great Essential to Permanency of Prosperous Conditions.

Acceptance of Gold Standard PLAS

New York, Nov. 10 .- The semi-annual neeting of the executive committee of the National Sound Money league (nonpartisan) was begun yesterday. General Secretary Smalley reported that there was lodged to the league's credit

Among the letters read was one from J. Sterling Morton, vice president of the eague for Nebraska, who wrote: "Mr. Bryan and his disciples are actively end in a propaganda of the money fals. They have united in one conerate all the fanatics, bigots and s in this state for the purpose of up ding free coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1. It is very painful to observe hat this aggregation may quite possibly make a majority of 20,000 at the coming ection by the candidates who represent all that is inimical and disastrous to agriculture, and in fact to sound govrnment everywhere.

JULIUS STERLING MORTON. A committee appointed to prepare claration on international bimetalism submitted the following, which the eague accepted: "The executive committee of the National Sound Money league, in behalf of ts members throughout the United States, issues the following address: Inernational bimetallism as a world pos bility is dead. Let us recognize this. The international bimetallic commission appointed under the St. Louis pledge of the Republican party have made strenuus efforts on behalf of this policy These efforts have proved futile. The commercial necessities of the world have demonstrated that a dual standard is ommercially unacceptable and, in the present stage of civilization, impossible. The hour has come, it seems to us, when nal recognition of this fact is "The situation demands a definite, clear, unequivocal declaration that international bimetallism is a dream of the past. The United States must proclaim their acceptance of the world-fact and plant themselves finally on the single gold standard. The proclamation of this monetary position will quicken our commerce, increase foreign investment and make permanent the prosperous conditions which have begun to manifest themselves in our country.

"We invite the friends of sound money and all who would contribute to the well being and safety of our commercial life to join in bringing about the unmistakable declaration that now and hence-forth the monetary system of the United States shall rest on the single gold standard."

The members of the committee stated that President McKinley had intimated his intention of recommending in his next message to congress the advisaility of separating the issue department the treasury from the regular go nment expense accounts. In other ords, it will be proposed to hold the gold reserve as a redemption fund for eenbacks and to make the gold and eenbacks interchangeable. It was said that the president had spoken freely on Monday with a prominent official of the league on this question.

Thorn was said have confided the story of his connecon with the murder to a fellow barbe named Gotha, and his arrest was effected through the latter, who informed the police of what Thorn had told him. After his arrest Thorn still kept talking to fellow prisoners in the Tombs, of one of whom named Clark he made a con idant. When the stories of Clark and Gotha were compared they dovetailed so neatly that the prosecutors were jubilant. Mrs. Nack was also incautious, as she sent several verbal messages and at least one written one to Thorn and the document fell into the hands of the prosecutors. The last named epi sode occurred while both prisoners wer in the Queen's county jail, and it had such an effect on the lawyers for the prosecution that they believed the letter would prove to be the convincing link in the chain of evidence by which they proposed to establish the guilt of the pris-

About 1 o'clock Tuesday night, Mr. Howe was awakened from a sound sleep by a messenger boy, who brought to him a message that Mrs. Nack had made a full confession, implicating Thorn as the murderer of Guldensuppe, and that she had offered to become state's evidence against her former lover. To most men this would have been a staggerer, bu Lawyer Howe has been practising too long to give way under such circum stances, and he went back to bed and slept over it. In the morning when he

Thank God I never did such a thing." "Did what?" asked the reporters. Lawyer Howe half closed his eyes and, after thinking for a few moments, said: 'Allow a client to plead guilty when the evidence was insufficient to convict." Later Lawyer Friend volunteered the information that Mrs. Nack had made a full confession and would be put on the stand. Thorn was still in his cell without the slightest warning of his impending fate. When he arrived in the courtroom he was informed by his counsel of the action that Mrs. Nack had taken, and for a moment his face flushed and with brows contracted and lips

REPUBLICANS DINED.

ome Market Club's Annual Dinner Served In Mechanic's Hall.

Organization Thanked by Senator Hanna For Its Work.

Principal Addresses Delivered by Congressman Dingley and Senator Lodge.

Boston, Nov. 11.-There must have been about 1200 seated at the tables which were set in the main hall of the Mechanics association's building last right, the occasion being the annual dinner of the Home Market club. By the time the speaking began the first balcony was pretty well crowded with spetators, men and women, as was much of the vacant space on the floor, so that all told there were very nearly 3000 persons in the hall.

At 6 o'clock the members of the club and the guests sat down to dinner in the main hall, which was elaborately decorated with flags and bunting, and pictures of many men who have been identified with the development and history of the Republican party.

Promptly at 7 o'clock, President Charles A. Stott of Lowell called the meeting to order and introduced Lieutenant Governor Crane, who congratulated the Home Market club "on the fact that it has always stood for good government, sound money and protect Senator Hanna said in a letter expressing his regrets at not being able to "In behalf of the Republican national committee I thank the club for ts most valuable services to the whole country, and I bespeak for it a long continuance of usefulness and of increas-ng influence." The principal address was that of Congressman Dingley of Maine, who said among other things: "The people of this country have been attentive although reluctant pupils in a national kindergarten. The tuition has come high, but no people ever learned so much four years, although there are some ersons with very short memories.** The realized fact that has been burned nto the consciousness of so many of our seventy odd millions of people is that the unexampled prosperity which had een ours under a protective policy for 32 years, even in spite of the burden: nposed by a gigantic war, and es ecially during the 14 years from 1879 hen we got back to a sound currency nd normal conditions, to 1893, began to isappear when the industries and busiess of the country started out to disount the free trade verdict near the ose of 1892; that during the four years n which first anticipated and then artially realized "tariff reform" was earing its bitter fruits, distrust of the future, distrust even of the credit of the government, industrial and business dustrial and business recuperation began a few months ago as soon as it was as advanced with a steady tread since ch legislation has been placed on the tatute books, although everyone recogizes that while you can tear down in few months, yet it requires many onths to rebuild. It is not an ounce out many tons of fact that have overwhelmed the free trade theories.

"It is not surprising that the conin the camp of our free trade riends in view of such an object lesso should have resulted in contradictory explanations of their apparent failure s prophets. Some of them-doctrindires who study maxims rather than markets—deny that there has been any estoration of confidence or revival of business. If facts before their eyes disprove their theories, the worse for the facts. Others, who are not entirely olind to facts, admit the improvement, out insist that it comes in spite of protection, from what they call 'natura Isn't it surprising that the causes.' 'natural causes' were powerless to bring such help until protection came to help

"I shall leave our free trade friends to reconcile their antagonistic explanations of the failure of their theories, imply remarking that the common sense of the people concludes that the repeated coincidence between the pro tetive policy and prosperity, and between the overthrow of that policy and adversity, establishes the relation of cause and effect, even if this cause b nly contributory to the tendency in odern business to periodic alternations of confidence and distrust; and such ommon sense finds a reason for this conclusion in the fact that all history shows that the prosperity of a country is guaged by the extent to which its people are employed at such wages or profit as insure the highest standard of Senator Lodge followed the congress-man in a brief address. "I want to say a single word about the elections," said he. "The Republican party is never afraid to look facts in the face. If the facts in the late election are disagreeable, we are just as ready to face them and learn their lesson af if they were the most agreeable in the world; but while it is wise and manly to look facts in the face, there is no sense in drawing conclusions from falsehoods or looking falsehoods in the face. If we want to arrive at an intelligent conclusion in regard to the recent elections, we must compare them, not with the vote of last year, but with the vote of similar years, If you were to compare the earnings of a summer hotel in January with its earnings in August you would probably find a great decline in its business. (Applause). If you start to compare the earnings of a wheat-carrying railroad in September you compare them with the previous September and not with the

In the next congress none of the Republican house; it cannot get by in other words, and to use a common ex the Republican president. But I think it is our duty to meet that question broadly, to bring forward reasonable neasures; to pass it through the house to see it stopped in the senate—we know it will be stopped there beforehand—and make it clear to the whole country that they cannot have any improvements in the currency or in the banking system until they give us both a house and a

KELLEY'S DEFENSE. Plea of Insanity to Be Supported by Numerous

Incidents. Dover, N. H., Nov. 11 .- The trial of Joseph E. Kelley has progressed rapidthe afternoon session Wednesday after putting a large number of witnesses on the stand. They were mostly from rested, and included the detectives to whom the accused made a confession as to the killing of Cashier Stickney. In outlining the defense, Mr. Ryan said: "We are prepared to lay before you testimony of the strongest and most unimpeachable character that this prisoner is not now, and was not on the 16th their legislation can pass; it cannot pass day of April last, a responsible being; pression, insanity is his defense. When that is stated one thought will occur to everyone listening to me more forcibly than any other, and that is the popular prejudice against such a defense. It is generally regarded as absurd, and, eve with the most thoughtful and humane the idea that such a defense might be valid is dismissed with a sneer. What does the history of the administration of justice show upon this point? I fai to find a single case where a person has been excused upon the ground of insanity where he or she has not afterwards proved beyond question to be in sane. On the other hand, there can be found cases without number which tell the stories of terrible mistakes in case "The prisener was born a healthy, well developed, lusty child, and grew to the age of 4 years a bright, happy, laugh ing child, until a fatal day in Septemb 1878, while at play with another child upon what is known as a carriage brow, he met with an accident. To the injuries of the little boy's head on the summer's day, science will, we believe, trace the death of Mr. Stickney. The place from which the boy fell was a distance of that some from 12 to 14 feet from the ground. He heedless about the and remained unconscious for two or was picked up in an unconscious state three days. During the period that he was confined in bed from the injury he orts of pain and suffered from what is commonly called fits or convuisions, and he continued to fits or convulsions, and he continued to essness which have fits up to about the age of 13 or 14." Mr. Ryan mentioned various instances of eccentricity and read from a letter, you receive this I shall be with my antique. when they neglect their Maker. I am going to hell and help my friend the devil. I have always worked for him. I couldn't help it; he would talk or their minds are taken up with other and laugh with me and now he points his concerns, that they are finger at me and grins, but I cannot hurt

"In closing," said Mr. Ryan, "letame remind you that in this case we are preparing a chapter of history which i future will be opened and read with profit or closed in shame. To determine the issue of life and death in its most favorable view is a fearful duty. I therefore behooves us by the awful responsibilities we assume to take carwith what motives we act."

Murderer Tells His Counsel Mrs. Nack's Share In the Crime.

Long Island City, N. Y., Nov. 12 .-The trial of Martin Thorne, which has occupied the attention of the public generally and the criminal branch of the supreme court of Long Island City the illness of Juror Mangus Larson. This will necessitate the impanelling a new jury. All the evidence put one over again, and Mrs. Nack will have to undergo another ordeal. If ne refuses to go on the stand, her conession cannot be used against Thorn. At 9:30 o'clock the court room was crowded with several hundred men and Nack gave so dramatically, but they ere disappointed. Judge Smith opened court a few minutes later, and District Attorney Youngs informed him of the serious condition of Juror Larson. A doctor, who had just arrived from the sick man's bedside, said that it would be impossible for Larson omen, who expected to hear Martin

Thorn refute the testimony which Mrs.

to attend. With the consent of the lawyers on ooth sides, Judge Smith adjourned the court until today, when the district atjury, and the ordering of a new trial on account of the interruption resulting

The sickness of Larson brought up a discussion among those interested as to what would be done in case the juror's liness would be protracted.

"Will the people go on with the case with 11 jurors?" was asked, Lawyer William F. Howe, who is fighting so hard for Martin Thorn, said the case reminded him of a similar one which occured in New York some years ago. This was the case of an Italian named Cancemi, who shot and killed a policeman in Broome street, New York. During the Italian's trial for murder, one of the jurors fell sick, and there was a prospect of a long delay. The people as well as the defense were anxious to hurry the trial, and the district attorney for the state and the defendant's lawyers agreed to proceed with 11 jurors. Cancemi was convicted and sentenced to death. An appeal was taken on account of illegal irregularity, and the decision reversed. The court of appeals stated that neiwaive the constitutional rights of the accused man, which called for a trial by a jury of 12 men instead of 11.

When one of the reporters asked Mr. Howe if he would consent to the trial of Thorn going on with 11 jurors, he laughed and said:

"I would consent readily enough, but the judge would censure me and very properly would ask if I ever read the law on the subject."

After the court adjourned, Howe and Mr. Moss had a brief talk with their client, Thorn, before he was taken back to his cell. Later, Mr. Howe outlined his proposed plan of defense, which he as been compelled to adopt owing to the confession of Mrs. Nack.

"Thorn will take the stand," said he. "He will testify that the murder was conceived and plotted and planned by Mrs. Nack. We shall prove that she wanted to get rid of Guldensuppe, in order that Thorn might take his place. Thorn will state that when he got into the cottage at Woodside on June 25 he found that Mrs. Nack had shot Guldensuppe and that it was she who said: 'I have killed him.' In other words, Thorn is going to tell the whole truth about it, absolutely the whole truth," said Mr. Howe, with a very dramatic gesture. "Will Thorn testify that Mrs. Nack took away the head, or will he state that it was he himself who threw it into the river?" Mr. Howe was asked.

The lawyer hesitated for a moment and then replied: "Wait till we have got Thorn on the stand. He will tell In the presence of Mr. Moss. Thorn made a statement while on his way to his cell. His manner was cold and calm. He said: "The sworn testimony of Mrs. Nack is a tissue of lies from beginning to end. Her counsel made her go on the stand and tell it to save herself from the consequences of the murder she committed. When I go on the stand I will tell the whole truth, without reservation. My love for that woman has ruined me, but after what she has done all the love I had for her has gone. Now, I will tell what she really is and what she did. She committed the murder herself. This is what comes of trusting a woman, and I might have know what to expect from her treatment of other men. I simply made a fool of myself for her

Drs. Strong, Lanehart and Burnett later in the day held a consultation in the case of Mr. Larson. At its conclusion they announced that the only hope of Larson's recovery lay in an operation. They said that he was in danger of death from appendicitis, and that they had notified his wife. If Mrs. Larson consented an operation would be performed at once. In case the operation was a success it would not be possible for the patient to be up before three weeks. When the nature of the attack was imparted to Mrs. Larson, she accepted the representation as to the necessity for an operation. Thursday afternoon that action was taken with apparently favorable results.

District Attorney Youngs notified the other jurors to be on hand today, when he secured their discharge and obtained

Ward Three Republicans Show with us every day. He was a man all It Is a Comedy this Time at Their Hand.

Up to the present time there has been but little excitement among the Republicans over the coming municipal election. Several gentlemen have been mentioned as possible candidates for Mayor, but the first public endorsement of any particular candidate came at the meeting of the Republicans of Ward Three, which was held Thursday evening at the room used by the Republicans as headquarters in Doble's building, and which proved hardly large enough to accommodate those who attended.

ALEXANDER MARNOCK.

Alexander Marnock presided, and W. W. Parry was secretary.

At the opening Mr. Marnock stat d that the meeting was called to consider candidates for Mayor, ward committee and councilmen. Andrew Milne offered the following motion, which was adopted: "That the Republicans of Ward Three here assembled agree to bind themselves to the following resolutions "That after carefully considering the merits of the different individuals who may be spoken of as candidates for Mayor of the city, we shall proceed to ballot without nomination for our choice of a candidate." "Upon any of the individuals voted for receiving a majority of the votes east, we shall proceed to place in nomination a list of delegates to the Mayoralty convention to be voted for at the regular caucuses, and whoever may be nominated as delegates at this meeting for Mayor until such time as a majority of the delega'es vote to allow each delegate to use his own judgment."

Chairman Marnock stated that this was not from the Ward Committee but is in the hands of voters.

HIGH GRADE IMBECILE.

Murderer Kelley So Judged by Experts In Insanity.

Unlooked For Development In the Trial Thursday.

Jury Discharged When a Plea of Guilty Was Entered by the Prisoner.

Dover, N. H., Nov. 12.-When court adjourned last evening Joseph E. Kelley cried. The defence was victorious. Not only the Kelley experts, but Dr. Cowles, the prosecution's expert, had expressed his belief in Kelley's insanity Th prisoner wished to die for the murder, and would hav been content and happy if he could have been hung on the 16th day of January, 1899, when his contract with the devil expired. He cared nothing for life, and hardly appreciated the meaning of it all. He only saw death slipping from his grasp, heard the dread word insane, and when it was all over he cried as though his heart would break.

The Kelley trial, looked forward to ith so much interest and speculation, practically over, for today will see There was a murmur of astonishment in the audience when the fact became known that the murderer was about to withdraw his plea of not guilty and waive further trial before the jury. When this action had been taken, the reason was a mystery until later on in the proceedings.

In answer to the question of Chief Jusice Carpenter as to his plea, he said 'guilty." The taking of the case from the jury for the reason that Kelley had preferred to retract his plea and run the degree he is to be convicted, caused the greatest sensation in the criminal history of New Hampshire.

who have been constant visitors to the courthouse since the commencement of the trial last Monday morning. The medical experts testified to the effect that Kelley did not have capacity to re sist the temptation of killing the aged eashier, and that he is a high grade imbecile, far from being an idiot, but ntirely irresponsible, the atrocious rime probably being the product of a iseased mind. Kelley took more interst in this line of testimony than that any offered during the week. The exerts were generally of the opinion that e did not have a sound mind when he planned and committed the murder or ecount possibly of the injury sustained to his brain when a child. The evidence offered by the defence during the forenoon went to show that Kelley is peculiar and had been so condered for many years, his strange ac tions being noticed by those he came in centact with during his travels. His parents, brothers, sisters and friends om Ames' ury, Mass., were on the stand and told how Joe fell on a nail when he was quite young, was taken to his nome unconscious and had epiptic fits until he was 14 years of age. Public sentiment changed somewhat the day, and the thousands of people who have attended the trial are nxious to know in what degree the risoner will be convicted. After adpurnment last night, Kelley's junio ounsel, James Ryan, Jr., approached Kelley and told him that it looked as hough he would be made out insane At this remark from his legal advise Kelley created a sensation by weeping oitterly, declaring that it was not right hat he is perfectly sane and should hang n the 16th of January, 1899. He als made the same statement to Sheriff Hayes while on his way to jail for the night. He declared to the sheriff that the proceedings are wrong in every particular; that he committed the murder while in his right mind and wishes to be aken to the gallows after the expiraion of his contract with the devil.

Kelley was brought into the court just before 9 o'clock. His appearance was as usual, but upon being shown to a chair beside his counsel refused to be seated. He stated that the chair was not the one he had occupied during the previous days of the trial, which had proved so comfortab!, that the prisoner had labelled it with a piece of red paper. This chair was found for him, after a little search, and Kelley seemed greatly pleased and took his seat beside his counsel with apparent satisfaction. It had been called to the attention of the court that Kelley desired to retract his plea, but the first intimation the spectators had of the unexpected movement was given when Clerk Durgin asked the prisoner to arise.

Clerk Durgin then stated that it was understood that the defendant desired to be heard again by the court, as to his guilt or innocence. Kelley then arose. A stir of excitement passed through the room as Kelley began to address the ourt. He said: "Your honors, this question of retracting my plea all remains with your honors; if you will fix the date of my execution on the 16th of January, 1899, then your honors, I retract my plea and plead guilty to the charge of murder. I plead guilty of murder," he repeated, in a voice listinct and unmoved by emotion.

Upon hearing Kelley's statement the court decided that the jury should be discharged and that the court would hear further evidence in the case to determine he degree.

The first witness at the afternoon sesion was Frank S. Plummer of North Conway. He said he had known Kelley for three or four years. The prisoner arrived at his hotel in September, 1896, with the idea of becoming clerk. He was there two months. For several days, on account of dreamy spells, Mr. Plummer said he did not know what to do with him. Kelley told him he guessed the devil made him act queer. The witness said he was afraid of him on account of his strange actions, and let him go in a few weeks. He would write letters and go away from his work. He was back and forth from the postoffice. He would rest his head on his arm at times when there was work for him to do. The witness did not consider Kelley of much value around a hotel. On cross-examination by Mr. Nason, the witness said he first saw him in a hotel at Somersworth, where he was working as a chore boy. When he went away he was paid about $20. He would make trips to Boston without asking Mr. Plummer's permis-

Olive Stone of Somersworth said she had kept company with Kelley and at times she thought he was peculiar. He said he was going to invent something to save using coal and wood. He had mentioned about walking in his sleep, at one time finding himself on Market street. He had told her about having dizzy spells.

Dr. Charles P. Bancroft of the New Hampshire asylum for the insane said: "In the first place I should say that life mental condition was one of arrester mental development, and that it was due to the injury received in his childhood, as has appeared in the trial here. It has eemed to me that at that time he reeived such an injury to the brain as led an improper subsequent development f the brain cells such as usually takes lace in a brain of ordinary health, and that there has been a consequent and corresponding failure of the mind to develop in the ordinary way. In other ords he is as a child in intellect and in moral qualifications. "It seems to me that we could place in regard to his mental and moral capacity. He has some of the impulses and instincts to be sure of an adult, but he has the judgment for carrying out those desires and impulses of a child of 8 or 9 years, and hardly the moral capacity of a child of that age. I have acting out his own natural self, and that I think time will show that the state of mind that he is in now will go on in this same direction, developing more and more as he grows older. I should say he was a case of arrested developmen or an imbecile of high grade. I think his capacity to resist his impulses is very much diminished.

to the fact that he had the capacity to plan a murder of the sort he committed on the 16th of April last as bearing on the question of his sanity or insanity.

The capacity to form a plan, an intelligent plan, is not an evidence of his san-Kelley belongs, I believe, and I think my associates in this case agree with me, to the type of insane criminals. If we had proper institutions in this state as New York state has, there is no question but that he should go to such an institution.

Dr. Waterman, one of the examining physicians for the insane in Boston, testified as follows: "I cannot say that Kelley is absolutely irresponsible, but that his responsibility is very much diminished. Whether it is absolutely and entirely absent I am not quite positive. I think I should know in time, but I am not quite positive now. I should want to observe it for many months. I place him in the class of arrested development. 1 think it is very much more probable than otherwise that he could not resist his impulses, and that his act on the 16th of April, 1897, was the product of a diseased mind. From the very outset I considered the matter of his feigning and thought it probably the case; but I think I have convinced myself that none of the things he has spoken of are feigned unless I may have a certain amount of doubt about his delusion of the devil, and I am very nearly convinced that they are delusions and halhim about as a child of 8 or 9 or 10 years

Dr. William A. Gorton of Providence, superintendent of Butler insane hospital, said that the acts of insane people are frequently clever. On April 16 Kelley was in practically the same condition he is now-a so-called degenerative trouble-and is not curable. He has come to the conclusion here that this a lack of capacity due to a disordered young man is not feigning; that he is | state of mind; he has an arrest of mental | Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you trie development.

The defense rested at 3:30 and the state put Dr. Edward Cowes of Waverly, Mass., on the stand. He said he had made five visits to the jail to see Kellev

TEMPLE CUP GAMES.

National League Magnates Vote to Do Away With Them.

Concessions to Minor Leagues on Drafting Question.

New York Players to Be Offered a Big Prize to Win Pennant.

Philadelphia, Nov. 13 .- The National baseball league magnates got down to work Friday after having devoted a couple of days wholly to social pleasures and sightseeing, and incidentally to figuring on the exchange of players. One of the important results of vesterday's meeting was the abolishment of the Temple cup series of post-season games which have been played between the clubs ending first and second during the last four seasons. The resolution providing for this action, which was unanimously adopted, was the one which was offered at the last year' annual meeting by James A. Hart of Chicago and then defeated with only the vote of Mr. Hart in its favor. The esolution prohibits exhibition games at ny time between National league clubs and declares that the league shall in no nanner authorize or lend its support o any games between the clubs of its membership except those provided for n the regular adopted schedule.

The only opposition manifested to the adoption of the resolution was on the part of Mr. Freidman of New York. he New York magnate felt convinced that his team would next season finish close to the top, and for the benefit of hts players he wanted the Temple cup series to be continued. To make its adoption unanimous he voted wih the rest in its favor, but remarked that he would set aside a fund of $5000 or more to be presented to his men should they finish at the top in the season of 1898.

A committee was appointed to com-municate with Mr. Temple of Pittsburg, the donor of the prize, to ascertain his desire as to the disposition of the cup. The proposition from the minor eagues, which modifies the rules reating to the drafting of players and which was favorably recommended by the national board of arbitration, was adopted. It provides that no player in the Eastern, Western or Atlantic league shall be drafted by the major league until he shall have been two years with the minor league club, and that not more than two players can be drafted from any club of the leagues.

The treasurer authorized to present a check to the Harry Wright Memorial association for $354, to make up the deficit in the fund of that association incurred by the erection at Philadelphia of a monument to the veteran player and manager, the total cost of which was $3715. A denation of $75 vas made to John Cartuyvelles, the fireman of Cincinnati, who, while witnessing a game in that city, was severely injured in the head with a beer glass thrown by Umpire Hurst.

The Louisville club has purchased Baltimores, and Manager Arthur Irwin Toronto has secured Pitcher Johnson and Outfielder Sheehan from the New-

ips-Exeter downed its old rival, Phillips-Andover, at football in one of the by these preparatory schools. The score was 18 to 14, but five minutes more of play would have undoubtedly enabled Andover to make another touchlown. This with a goal would have won the game. As it was Exeter took a brace just in time, and just managed to hold the opposition and prevent further

Any other game but football would have been put over to some more propitious day. The field, from which three inches of snow had been removed just before the game, was a mass of mud, while, as it sloped somewhat, the south goal posts stood in six inches of water, with the flood extending 20 feet into the field. Through this quagmire, Exeter pushed Andoved steadily back in the first half and scored two touchdowns, and Andover did the same thing in the second half, while a fatal fumble by Schrieber at the kick-off in the latter half enabled Exeter, after hard rushing, to score the odd touchdown and win

With height on its side, Exeter easily outplayed Andover for two-thirds of the game, the former eleven allowing themselves to be discouraged over a safety, and from that time Andover had them on the run. A line which was a veritable stone wall in the end proved mere paper to the Andover backs, and big holes were ripped in the Exeter line where before not an Andover man could get an arm through. Contrary to expectations,. Andover was surprisingly slow in getting plays started, while Exeter jumped into formation with a dash that was irresistible. Though the rain and snow stopped falling an hour or two before the game, every player was wet to the skin in five minutes after play began, yet both teams handled the slippery ball remarkably well and fumbles were comparatively rare. The ball, however, seemed more elusive in the second half and each side made errors which proved costly.

Suspense In Harvard Minds. Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 13 .- The excitement of a fire alarm in Harvard square, caused by an incipient blaze, was not sufficient to take for an instant from the minds of the thousands of Harvard men in town last night the suspense which always characterizes the eve of a Yale game. The fact that a great intercollegiate match was to be played was enough in itself to account for a good deal of this intense interest: but when it is considered that the game was one between the rival universities and beyond that that they were to come three years, the tremendous excitement

NEW TRIAL FOR THORN. Juror's Illness Necessitates Undoing of All

That Has Been Done. Long Island City, Nov. 13.—A new trial has been ordered in the case of Martin Thorn. When court opened Friday, the physician in attendance upon Juror Larson reported that his patient would be unable to be around for an indefinite As soon as the physician had made this statement, Judge Smith said: "I think the jury ought to be discharged."

Mr. Youngs turned to Mr. Howe, and the latter addressed the court. "If your honor please," said he, "nearly all the evidence is in and the case is nearly finished. If your honor should not conclude that it would be proper to adjourn for a month, then I make this suggestion: that the 11 jurors be retained; that an from the Reading club the release of additional juror be impanelled to make the constitutional 12, and that then, by my consent and the consent of the district attorney and by the order and with the approbation of the court, the evidence be read."

District Attorney Youngs arose when Mr. Howe concluded and said: "Your honor, equally with my friend, Mr. Howe, I wish to conclude this business pest and cleanest contests ever played as early as possible. At the same time I would like some time to examine more authorities on the subject.' When court reconvened, Mr. Youngs said that, after carefully considering the suggestions made by Mr. Howe in the morning, he and his colleagues had decided not to accept the suggestions, and would respectfully prefer that the jury would be discharged and a new panel ordered. The court agreed to this and discharged the jury.

Mr. Youngs asked that the new trial be proceeded with next Monday, but Mr. Howe asked for a longer adjournment. After some discussion, Judge Smith decided that a new panel should be called at once, and, in deference to Mr. Howe's request, he set the case down for trial on next Monday week, Nov. 22.

After a consultation with District Attorney Youngs, Mr. Howe announced that an entirely new jury would be selected and that subpoens for 200 talesmen would be served immediately.

A Stitch In Time.

Washington, Nov. 13.—The marine hospital service is preparing to begin a post epidemic crusade for the purpose of preventing a recurrence of yellow fever next year. The officials of the bureau will co-operate with the health authorities of the various states affected in conducting a thorough disinfection of the districts in which the fever gained a foothold. The cleansing of all infected cities will be urged and each house in which there was a case of fever will be thoroughly fumigated. It is believed that by pursuing this course the country can be protected against another yellow fever epidemic in 1898.

Castillo Was Betrayed.

London, Nov. 13 .- A dispatch to The Daily Chronicle from Havana summarizes statements by Generals Gomez, Aranguren, Arango and Castillo, all opposing the acceptance of anything short of independence and declaring that autonomy would not be worth the paper it was written on.

The same correspondent confirms the report that General Castillo was betrayed by a false friend to the Spaniards. who sent a portion of the civil guard to lie in wait for him and shoot him as he was leaving the supposed friend's Counterfeiter Caught.

New York, Nov. 13.-Secret service officials say that the young man who gave the name of Albert Thomas when arrested at New Bedford is Albert Lindon, a clever counterfeiter, wanted at Minneapolis for raising the figures on together tomorrow after a separation of $2 bills to $10. He was arrested in the latter place last July and was released on $5000 bail, which he forfeited. Lindon, alais Thomas, was traced to Buffalo, where he is alleged to have passed 10

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 13.-James H. was old "John, the orangeman," who | Sovereign, who has been general master workman of the Knights of Labor for the past four years or more, has been relieved of his office by the general assembly, which has been in session in this city since Monday last. Under ordinary conditions Mr. Sovereign's term would not expire until the next meeting. This, however, it is said, makes no difference with the order, whose general fficers during a meeting are always in the hands of the assembly and can be echosen and disposed of at the will of the majority. Along with Mr. Sovereign there were three other officers retired-T. B. McGuire, general worthy foreman of Amsterdam, N. Y.; Daniel Brown of Dayton, O., Nov. 13.—As a windup to Montana and H. B. Field Fitzpatrick of Montreal and Henry Bostocock of assembly 300, glass work ers, were chosen as the two members of the executive committee, the third member being Andrew D. Best. In his address Mr. Sovereign dwelt briefly on the triumph of the principles of the order, saying that it had survived the crimes of its traitors and prospered in spite of the contumely of its enemies The order was stronger today in membership, stronger in character and stronger in the hearts of the people than it was a year ago. He recommended that the session confine its deliberations largely to the work of organization and to this end plans should be put in oper ation which would insure the services of the largest possible number of experienced and efficient organizers in isolated and unorganized fields. He said that the work of wholesale reform in the labor field is retarded through the coercion and corruption of the poor by the holders of idle capital, who dominate the press and debauch the politics of the country, while the courts apply the arrogant lash of despotism in the form of injunctions against the freedom of speech and peaceable assemblage of the

FOR LITTLE FOLKS.

A QUEER PET.

The Story of Little Rob Simpson and Tamed Alligator Pete.

William Simpson, who lives at Pine Castle, Fla., near Lake Marie, has a small boy named Rob who tamed an alligator and loved him as dearly as if he had been a goat. The 'gator was called Pete, and proudly sported a copper ring in his head as a civilized 'gator who knows tricks should. One day Pete disappeared and he staid for three years. In the meantime Robert received many spankings because he was continually playing with alligators and getting all sorts of scratches and bites in consequence. Now comes the queer part of the story that recalls the interposition of fairy godmothers. Bob was making overtures to a big alligator one day and the saurian came at him with his large, open countenance, and the little boy began to say his prayers. Just in the nick of time another 'gator appeared and the first 'gator had a fight on his hands. When the fight was over, Rob discovered that his alligator ally was the long lost Pete, grown indeed, but still wearing his stamped copper ring. This time Pete staid, and people go for miles to see the youngster ride about on his back .- New York Journal.

Making Skeleton Leaves.

One of the prettiest of natural ornaments for scrapbooks or for framed cards or for other decorations are skeleton leaves—that is, leaves from which all the substance has been removed with the exception of the ribs and the larger veins. Nature sometimes makes skeleton leaves, but it does not always do this work perfectly, and our boys and girls don't want to wait all winter for her to complete the task. They can do the work much more easily themselves. Gather a number of large, perfect leaves of different kinds and place them in a pan of rainwater, to which a trace of yeast has been added. Allow them to stand until the soft membraneous portion has become soft. Then hold them one by one in running water and everything but the ribs and veins will wash away, leaving only the leaf skeleton. If you wish to bleach the skeletons out to an ash color, place them on a little shelf in the top of a tight soap box. On an iron dish or plate in the bottom lay some live coals and sprinkle over them a few pinches of sulphur. The fumes will bleach out the skeleton leaves, leaving them beautifully white and delicate. - Chicago Record.

To Drive a Needle Through a Copper Coin.

"An apparent mechanical impossibility may be accomplished by simple means, using a copper cent and a cork cessories," writes Magician Harry Kellar, describing "How I Do My Tricks" in The Ladies' Home Journal. "Announce that you will drive a small needle through a coin, and few will be ready to accept your statement, yet it is very simple and any one can do it. Take a copper coin, place it upon two small blocks of wood leaving a very narrow open space between the blocks. Now, having selected a good, sound cork, force the needle through if until Break off the portion of the head of the needle showing above the top of the cork. Place the cork upon the coin and strike it a fair, smart blow with a hammer. The needle will be driven entirely through the penny by a single blow."

A Small Boy's Ingenuity.

A small boy in the mission is the owner of a woolly little donkey of more than ordinary intelligence and perversity, says the San Francisco Post. Some time ago the manger in the stable fell down and struck the donkey on the head, since which time nothing could induce the animal to enter the stable of his own accord, and he wandered around the yard at his own sweet will.

The other day the boy found that the mingled curiosity and alarm. He would rate! not turn tail and run from it, but would back away, the while keeping his ears at full cock and his eyes on the machine. That fact gave the boy an idea. Now he leads the donkey to the stable door, turns the animal around and runs the lawn mower toward him. When the donkey backs into the stable the door is slammed on him before he realizes

Let the veterans grimly stalk.
Such things be of saultow seeming

Since the baby tried to walk-

First a smile, serene, confiding; Next a look of terror deep; Then a start, a timorous gliding; Now a wee pathede heap. Loving hands, outstretched, are near him From his own shy, faltering talk Loving words are culled to cheer him.

So the baby learns to walk. How that smile of self reliance Must grow faint in later years! How the glances of defiance Shall be dimmed again with tears!

May there still be those beside him Ready all mischance to balk, Gentle presences to guide him As when first he learned to walk.

The Launch.

Then the master, Waved his hand, and at the word Loud and sudden there was heard, All around them and below, The sound of hammers, blow on blow, Knocking away the shores and spurs. And, see, she stirs, She starts, she moves, she seems to feel The thrill of life along her keel, And, spurning with her foot the ground, With one exulting, joyous bound, She leaps into the ocean's arms!

And, lo, from the assembled crowd That to the ocean seemed to say, "Take her, O bridegroom old and gray, Take her to thy protecting arms, With all her youth and all her charms!'

How beautiful she is! How fair She lies within those arms that press Her form with many a soft caress Sail forth into the sea, O ship! Through wind and wave right onward

The moistened eye, the trembling lip, Are not the signs of doubt or fear.

Sail forth into the sea of life, O gentle, loving, trusting wife, And safe from all adversity Upon the bosom of that sea Thy comings and thy goings be! For gentieness and love and trust Prevail o'er angry wave and gust, And in the wreck of noble lives Something immortal still survives. Then sail on, O ship of state! Then sail on, O sinp of state?
Sail on, O Union, strong and great!
Humanity, with all its fears,
With all the hopes of future years,
Is hanging breathless on thy fate.
We know what Master laid thy keel, What workmen wrought thy ribs of steel, Who made each mast and sail and rope, What anvils rang, what hammers beat, In what a forge and what a heat Were shaped the anchors of thy hope Fear not each sudden sound and shock. 'Tis of the wave and not the rock.' Tis but the happing of the sail And not a rent made by the gale. In spite of rock and tempest's roar, In spite of false lights on the shore, Sail on, nor fear to breast the sea! Our hearts, our hopes, are all with thee! ### OHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 14. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Topic.—"The blessedness of serving God."— Deut. xxviii, 1-20, 45-47. (Meeting to be held by the pastor, or, if your church has none, by some older Christian.) In these references we have the blessings and cursings of God promised to Israel. The blessings were promised for obedience. The cursings were pronounce ed upon disobedience. These blessings and cursings have been realities. God does bless and God does curse. These things are not exploded superstitions but actual facts demonstrated daily by the experiences of men. The curse is just as real to the disobedient as the s to the obedient. It cleaves mer, pursues him, hunts him ams and slays him. The sinner cels its presence and cannot flee from it, unless he flee to God Himself.

Temporal blessings come to those who serve God. Temporal blessings were promised to Israel in all the relations of life. City, field, fruit, cattle, kine, sheep, basket, store-all were to be means of blessing to the nation. God's people are blessed in the things of this world. The man who obeys God will find that blessing does come upon him. A godly life conduces to health; godly habits tend even to worldly prosperity. Godliness has its reward in the approval of a conscience void of offense before God or man. Temporal blessing does not preclude adversity. Adversity it self may be a blessing; prosperity is of ten a curse, and in withholding it God often blesses us most richly and abundantly. Temporal prosperity must al ways be subordinated to spiritual good Christ promises His disciples adversity but only as a stepping stone to some thing higher in the spiritual life.

God specially blesses His people in the new dispensation with spiritual blessings and with the promise of "a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory' in the life to come. No amount 10.47 P. M. Last car at 11.25 P. M. of temporal prosperity will compensate us for the blessing of God. Unblessed at wealth and prosperity are not to be de sired. Unblessed good is ill. The only way to know the blessedness of serving God is to serve Him. Experience here as elsewhere is the best of teachers. In fact, it is the only teacher. What the blessing of God is and means only those who are blessed of Him can know or understand. Do we know from experience how blessed it is to love and

In the most dramatic scene that ever occurred in the United States senate Henry Clay closed his famous farewell address in these eloquent words to his colleagues: "And when you shall retire to the bosom of your constituents, may you meet with that most cheering and gratifying of all human rewards, their cordial 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant.' ## THE CONVENTIONS.

That of the Democrats Will be Much the Larger.

The size of the Mayoralty conventions will be reversed this year. Last year that of the Republicans was the larger; this year the Democratic will be nearly twice as large as in 1896 while the Republicans will be over a third smaller, so that the Democrats will have 101 delegates at their convention, while the Republicans will have but 45. It will require but 23 delegates to name the Republican candidate, while 51 will be necessary to make a nomination at the Democratic con-

WOMAN'S WORLD.

A DIANA OF THE SIERRAS WHO DRESSES IN BLOOMERS.

Happiness of College Women-Swedish Women In a Club-Latest Tailor Gowns. Evolution of Southern Women-Spread-

Toulumne county can truly boast of a new woman of the most modern type. Here in the depth of her black forests and dark canyons lives one of nature's own products-a specimen of womanhood seldom to be found anywhere. Her home is in one of the most remote and secluded spots in all the Sierras, surrounded by high mountains and dense forests. Accessible only by means of a narrow, winding trail for a distance of two miles from any traveled road, it seems that she must have exercised all the energies of mind and body delving about for a home free from the influences of the moving, active world. A rude hut of three small rooms for a domicile, provided with the plainest furnishings, and a horse and a dog for have no definite work after she leaves companions—such constitute the lot chosen by Flora Braddock.

She is not here to dream away the cares of a cold and heartless world nor to drown the sorrows of disappointment, for of these she knows little. But there is romance here and she loves it, not as the sentimental creature who revels in day dreams, for Flora is practical-almost cynical. She loves the chase better than the conquest of human hearts, and her daily climb to the summit of the neighboring peak gives her more pleasure than all the tea parties in Christendom. She is not here through force of circumstances either, for nature has been kind to her and she is neither friendless nor deprived of the comforts of a more cheerful home. Flora Braddock is here in this wilderness home by virtue of her own sweet will. She loves the mountains, she is queen of all she surveys, and any trespasser, be it human or animal, who encroaches with evil purpose upon her domain does so at peril of its life. It was after a long and tedious horseback ride over a narrow, serpentine trail, up and down gulches and canyons, that The Examiner correspondent finally reached the queer abode of this singular young woman. Her cabin, a rough but substantial structure made of hewn boards, stands alone on a little flat in the deep canyon of the north fork of the Tuolumne river, three miles from Confidence, Tuolumne county, surrounded by high mountains and a dense growth of tall pines. The premises are anything but inviting, a rough fence of pine poles and brush inclosing what is evidently intended for a garden. Inside, however, all is scrupulous neatness, and the studied and careful arrangement is as pleasing to the eye as the first exterior view is repulsive. Three rooms are partitioned off-a kitchen, a bedroom and a smaller apartment that contains her bunting equipments. The reporter was welcomed at the door by a comely young lady, who in answer to his question replied that she was the one whom he sought. A young woman 19 years of age, of tall, muscular frame, fair complexion, with heavy tresses of natural blond hair and a firmly set chin and mouth, she is in physique well adapted to a place where courage and daring are prerequisites to a life of happiness and contentment. Mcdest in manner, she is as cool and calculating in speech as she is in aiming at a bear.

"Aren't you a little timid about living here alone?" was asked.

"Not in the least," she replied. "Save an occasional prospector, strangers seldom come in here, and, as for wild animals, they will not attack one. As long as there are firearms in the cabin I fear nothing.

"I shock some of my neighbors as I ride about the mountains, but then I can't help it. The time will come when people will cease to shake their heads when they see a pair of bloomers. They simply must be educated to it, that's all. I used to wear men's clothing on my hunts, and they were very comfortable, but then I prefer the bloomer suit, because it combines the features of comfort and durability, and then it looks more feminine, you know.

"The postoffice at Sugar Pine is only three miles away; so you see I am not entirely out of the world. The Examiner comes to me regularly. I am very much interested in its Klondike expedition, for, you know, I have acquired the gold fever. I have some claims up the gulch, and maybe they will make me very rich some day. Then I don't know what I shall do—build me a fine new cabin, I suppose. You know it's human nature to be discontented, and I am afraid riches would spoil me. That's why I don't work my mines."-San Francisco Examiner.

Happiness of College Women.

The following extracts are from an a teacher at the Elms school in Springfield. Mass .:

"What is the college woman's probability of happiness in marriage compared with that of her less highly educated sister? She chooses her husband later. She is more developed. She knows better what she is going to be. She stands in better chance of not selecting a life companion whose tastes and hers will prove hopelessly antagonistic. And this is of especial importance in America, where girls and boys are thrown so freely together; where they marry when and whom they wish, and where the parents in many cases apparently have little else to do with the matter than to pay the bills and try to shield the young husband and wife from the consequences of their folly.

"The man whom a girl would have married when she entered college is probably not the man whom she would marry when she is graduated from college. This may result in the breaking of some early engagements, but an engagement that can be broken would better be broken. The college bred woman is also less likely to marry from ennui. Even if she is unfortunate enough to college she has resources within herself which can not only prevent life from becoming a bore, but which can make it rich and satisfying. Neither will she be likely to sell herself for the sake of a home. She is better equipped to support herself, if necessary, and she has probably lost many silly ideas she may have had about the unladylikeness of honest breadwinning work.

"Finally, when she has been won she stands a much better chance of keeping her husband's love and respect, because she stands a better chance of in-

"'Men don't stay in their homes unless they find their homes entertaining, said a married woman of wide experience in the world, in talking about the education of her daughter. 'I tell my daughter that if she is ever to marry she needs to know something for two reasons-first, to hold her husband's interest, and, second, to have within herself resources that will make her happiness, to a certain extent, independent of him, in which case he will be much more likely to stay in love with her.'

"Mate the educated woman with the educated man and you have a probabilty that they will continue to interest and love each other; that there will be intellectual companionship between them, and that each will have sufficient and moral sanity to make possible a government of the home and the children, not by 'managing' each other, keeping clear of a pandering to each condition of affairs in most homes.'

Dismay of Miscreants on Discovering an Empty Express Car.

Kansas City, Nov. 13.-The Missour threatening to shoot Constable Parker | Pacific passenger train, known as the St. Louis fast mail, which leaves Kansas City at 9 p. m., was held up by five masked robbers at 9:30 o'clock last night $200 bonds on the first charge and $1000 at the Chicago and Alton crossing, just opposite Independence, Mo., and less than a mile from the famous blue cut in which several train robberies have oc curred within the past year. Two of the robbers were disguised as women, and when the engineer saw them swinging the lantern across the tracks, an ap parent signal of danger, he did not hesi-

The engine crew were immediately covered with revolvers. Conductor Dennis O'Brien and Brakeman Mc Michael stepped out to see what was th matter, and were greeted by a volley o bullets, which at once caused great con fusion in the passenger coaches. The onductor and bakeman were compelled to cut the express and baggage cars from the rest of the train, and the enginee and fireman was made to get down from the cab. The robbers quickly jumped aboard and took the engine and express car about two miles further east, when they stopped and compelled Express Messenger Williams to open his car. He offered no resistance, as he carried no treasure.

The robbers had evidently intended to stop the St. Louis limited express which leaves Kansas City at a later hour, and they were greatly surprised upon discovering that the cars which they had captured contained nothing of value They quickly left the train and disap reared in the darkness.

After a delay of over an hour the train was got together again and started on its journey. The county marshal and his men were at the scene of the robbery very soon, but there is every probability that the robbers were safely in Independence or Kansas City before an organized effort was made to capture them.

SIGNIFICANT FEATURE.

Weekly To'als of Bank Clearings Continue to Reach Large Figures.

New York, Nov. 13.-Bradstreet's paper says: One of the most significant features of the business situation is found in the continued heavy weekly totals of bank clearings, that for six busines days ending Nov. 11 amounting to $1,347,-000,000, an increase of 10 per cent over pared with the second week of Novem are 14 per cent larger than the corremills, was running an extractor Friday | 1852, the top of the wave of speculations

This gain compares with gains of 14 per cent in September and .5 per cent in August over corresponding periods in 1896. The show a gain over last year of 4.8 per cent. Net earnings for September and nine months make a still better showing. The total for 69 systems shows an increase of 22 per cent for September over a year ago, while the gross gained only 11.5 per cent. For nine months net receipts gained 11.6 per cent, while gross gained only 4.2 per cent over the previous year. Other favorable features are the continued firmness of and activity in wool, iron and steel. The heavy output of iron and moderate reductions of stocks last month suggest the improbability of the advance in prices of iron and steel next year which so many have hoped for. The slight reaction in the price of cotton, in view of the extreme depression to which that staple had been subjected, attracts attention as the possible be ginning of the end of the prolonged decline. Already there is an improvement in prices of and demand for cotton

The unfavorable influences in prices movements this week are declines for sold in all the bicycle shops, together cottons and print cloths, the latter touching the lowest price on record. Out of 96 staple articles of merchandise and produce, live stocks, etc., 46 decreased in price during October, 28 were practitally unchanged and 24 higher.

"Bub" Phillips' "Dust Whirler." I saw the oddest looking bicycle at a crossroads hamlet near the Tennessee line while hunting a few years ago. ### Bells on Foreign Wheels.

One rarely hears in Paris the gong bell that American bicycles have. In place of it there are cow bells and round sleighbells, which are kept ringing continually by the jogging of the hand against them. The cow bells are all sizes, from an inch long to huge affairs that a Texas steer might wear and with a sound like a harbor buoy. These are with the brilliantly colored Japanese lanterns of paper which the night riders have dangling from their handle bars .-American Cyclist.

Greatest Show in the World.

A gentleman who has traveled much, not only broad, but in his own country as well, is au nority for the statement that the show at Keith' oston theatre each week is the greatest eve iven in any amusement resort in the world for e money. Not only that, but it is given in lace that is absolutely the most beautiful of its ind, wholesome in its surroundings and conucted in every detail on a plane that has no parallel in the history of the stage. Mr. Keith' enterprise is unique and elevating; it is the onl place of the kind in the world where a man ca take his wife and children with absolute safety t is educational. Since the opening of the new entrance from Tremont street and the wonderfu 'Crystal Tunnel' beneath Mason street, mor people than ever before have visited Boston' amous playhouse, and the inhabitants of the Hub are prouder than ever of a place which i truly "one of the sights of the city." Within the next few weeks some of the most sensationa acts that have ever been given in vaudeville will be seen at Keith's, including a wonderful French horseman, who puts a handsome equinthrough all the known paces on a platform only 15 feet in diameter, without a railing, and elevated some 20 feet above the stage.

Dr. Grant's Lectures.

The first of the five lectures, or excursions, to ttractive places, was given by Dr. Grant at Tremont temple, Boston, on Wednesday evenng to a large audience. The tour was over the waters of the Columbia river, and the doctor's full rich voice and ready wit gave the excursionists a rich treat. His graphic description of the beautiful American scenery furnishes a lecture which those who have not the time or money to travel, should not miss. We were pleased to see several from Quincy there.

The next lecture is on Wednesday eve., Nov. 17, to the attractive Yellowstone Park. We have been there and seen many of its wonders, still we would not miss seeing his beautiful views. The prices of tiekets are very reasonable, and we think all the best seats have not been sold, as the hall is very large and beautiful.

Sophistry vs. Common Sense.

Editors of the Daily Ledger: Never was a criminal more bloodthirsty than Kelly, never was a crime nore worthy of the gallows.

Never was justice so blinded by the sophistry of so-called "experts," in sension, so now they are hesitating at no falsehood of calumny in order to reality "guessers," never before did promote it and keep it alive. facts so yield to theories, common sense to mere speculation!

Kelly insane! Insane, yet able to attend to his daily duties, to work, to act, to talk, like other men!

Insane! Yet able to conceive, to plan, to execute, even to the minutest detail, a crafty and skilful plot to rob, and deliberately murder, that there might be no living witness to his crime. Insane! Yet never accused or suspected of it till the question of his egal defence arose.

If insane, why is he treated like a criminal and not confined for life in an insane asylum, and not sentenced to a short-(considering the enormity of his crime) term of years, to be released at 49 years of age to further jeopardize the life and property of the people. It is a triumph of sophistry over

Blame For Disunion Placed Upon Citizens' Union.

Opposition to Bryanism the Basis For the Restoration of Harmony.

New York, Nov. 15 .- Senator Platt, who has had little to say since the elec ion, prepared the following statement n answer to repeated requests: "It s the plain purpose of those Republican repeatedly made to control the Repubcan organization, projected Seth Low nto the municipal campaign, thereby lividing the anti-Tammany vote, to it not plain enough that the Republicans erce into the public mind the impression that the responsibility for this division attaches not to them, but to the Republican organization. Just as during the campaign they stopped at no act of treachery in order to create dis-

"The Republican leaders met this insolent challenge without bitterness or resentment. They found no fault with the candidate whom the Citizens' union picked out as the expression of its purpose and ideas. They do not deny that they regarded him as a man practically the sort he has turned out to be-a vainglorious self-seeker, masquerading as a Republican, but willing at any time to wreck the Republican ship on the ledge of his own ambitions. The Republican leaders do not deny that they were then opposed to the candidacy of Seth Low but they allowed their opposition to take no definite or irritating shape. They simply insisted that the Republican party did have a just and inevitable relation to municipal affairs; that it did have the right to nominate, and that it must exercise that right; that the views and wishes of its adherents were entitled to consideration, and that there ought to be a union between the Citizens organization and the Republican party but that it ought to be an honorable friendly, equitable union under the terms of which both should have a voice in choosing candidates and in defining policies. This was the exact state of things up to the time when the Re publican county committee adopted Commissioner Collis' resolution in Having their Derby Hats Slicked Up viting all anti-Tammany organizations into a conference in order that a day might be fixed when they should all hold their nominating conventions so that ready conference and harmonious action might be assured. The Citizens' union refused to participate in this conference, frankly assigning as its reason the fact that it was committed to the 663 Washington Street 'go it alone' policy.

SWUNG INTO ETERNITY

Two Indians and a Halfbreed Lynched In North Dakota.

Mob Had No Trouble In Getting Into the Jail.

Dragged the Murderers With Ropes to a Wind.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 15.—A special from Bismarck, N. D., says: "Alexander Coudert, a half-breed, Paul Holytrack and Philip Ireland, full-blooded Indians, the first of whom was sentenced to death for the murder of six members of the Picer family last February, and had just been granted a new trial by the supreme court, and the latter two self-confessed accessories in the murder, were taken from the county jail in Emmons county Saturday night and lynched by a mob. The lynching had been apparently coolly planned and was carried out without a break in the program. Sudden and swift retribution was meted out by the mob to the murderers.

They rode into Williamsport on horseback late at night and tied their horses a short distance from the city that they might secure them again as speedily as necessary. The jail in which the prisoners were confined is a substantial structure. Since the confinement of the prisoners therein, so great had been the fear that they might escape that one man had watched all night within the jail. About 2 o'clock in the morning there was a rap at the outer door of the jail, and Deputy Sheriff Kelly quickly turned the key in the lock, thinking that the per sons he had expected to meet had ar rived. No sooner had he opened the door than the mob crowded into the corridors. All were masked and the leaders carried ropes. The lynchers were quiet, but determined. The leaders presented a revolver at the head of Kelly and told him | Salt Lake Minister Says That Polygamy Conthey wanted the prisoners. Kelly demurred, but he saw that resistance was useless, and unlocked the cells. Two of the prisoners were confined together, and the other was in a separate cell. They had been aroused from sleep by the entrance of the men and sat up half awake and trembling with terror. Ireland and Holytrack were pulled from their necks, and they were dragged out on the ground, after being told to prepare for death. The men were then led to a huge windlass and strung up on a people as true doctrine. Black Hawk and Defender had also been thrown over the beam, and he was raised unconscious from the affects of the dragging that they did not realize what was about to happen when the ropes about their necks were tossed over the same beam. They were unable to stand, and were slowly raised from the ground on mind as to the truth of the pr which they lay until their bodies swung in the air and dangled from the windlass The same paper gravely discusses, in an-

Lively Bouts With Gloves In a Brooklyn Clubhouse.

Harvard's Football Players Shorn of the Badge of Honor.

New York, Nov. 16 .- The weekly boxing show of the Greenpoint Sporting club was held last night at its clubhouse in Brooklyn. Two of the three bouts on the card resulted rather abruptly. The first pair to go on were Sid Searles of England and Tommy McDermott of Brooklyn for 10 rounds at 115 pounds. McDermott started in fast, and in one minute and 50 seconds landed the decisive blow, a right hand swing on the jaw. The referee awarded the bout to

The next pair were Jack Fox of New York and Hugh McWinters, colored, for 10 rounds at 135 pounds. This bout opened very fast and was marked throughout by cleverness on the part of both men. In the fourth round Mc-Winters brought his right on Fox's eye and cut it badly. For the remaining rounds it was an even choice, and the referee at the end of the tenth round declared it a draw.

The star attraction of the night brought out Danny McBride of New York and Hugh Fitzsimmons of Greenpoint for 20 rounds at catch weights. This was a disappointment to those in attendance, as it was evident from the start that Fitzsimmons was out-classed McBride started at the sound of the gong started at FitzsImmons with both hands, and at the end of the round had him worried. The second was a repe tition of the first, and at the close of the round the police interfered, and the referee awarded the bout to McBride.

McCoy opened the first round with a rush, planting a left squarely in Smith's face and a right on his ribs. Smith managed to land two blows on the shoul-T. Passmore, Bath; Howard L. Burr der, but they were light and did no damage. McCoy then went at him with a cannonade of rights and lefts, and Smith went to the floor with a right on the jaw Smith was not groggy, but took his nine seconds, McCoy waiting for him with a Harvard team was so good that it was smile on his face. The gong rang as an honor to tie it. No one has a right Smith rose.

He then put a right on the body, two more lefts on the mouth and sent Smith to the floor with a left half-arm swing on the jaw. Smith was down eight seconds, and as soon as he was up McCoy met him with another left, and then sent in a right and left on the jaw which laid Smith flat once more. He was down eight seconds again, and came up with the blood pouring from his right eye and trickling from his nose. The two danced across the ring, when out went McCoy's left in a short-arm jab, and down went Smith the third time. He was on the floor eight seconds as usual and was very groggy when he

McCoy went at him fast and put in two hard ones on the face. Smith staggered and as it was evident that he could last but very little longer the police stopped the fight. The contest was McCoy's from start to finish, and Smith was never in it at any time.

DREYFUS' INNOCENCE.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 16.-Every man who played in Saturday's game has been deprived of the 'varsity "H" on his uniform, and has been given to understand that he will not get it again until the humiliation of Saturday has been wiped out. This measure is hard ing important military plans to agents on the men who did their share of the work, but is generally approved. If the Yale game showed anything, it was that Harvard could afford to rest her defensive strength where it is in order to develop her offensive. This He adds that the minister promised to seemed to be the idea upon which the make an inquiry into the matter, and coachers went to work yesterday after- also undertook to communicate to Kest-noon. There was a good force of especially was due the "get-there-ordie" spirit which characterized the play Many a Harvard man on the side line tortured himself with fancying what the same sort of work would have ac complished on Saturday. Four time was Boal given the ball on the second eleven's five-yard line, and four times was he hurled against the centre for a touchdown with a force and a will that nothing could have resisted. The two teams were lined up against each other for over half an hour, and there was an apparent pandemonium of not vociferous coaching every minute. The players caught the spirit, and there was a great deal of improvement, especially on the offensive. Wefers' Standing as an Amateur.

New York, Nov. 16.-After the meet ing of the Amateur Athletic union of the United States a statement was given out to the effect that charges by a week ly paper of high merit and standing having been brought against the union accusing it of allowing professionalism to pervade its organization, a committee had held a public trial of Wefers and Cosgrove, the athletes accused. The committee reported that the paper in question (Harper's Weekly) refused to allow the use or inspection of any evidence in its possession. The statement then goes on to say that B. J. Wefers appeared in person and denied each statement made in the charges, both in letter and print. The statement of J. S. Aborn of Worcester, so far as it pertained to Wefers' brother, was denied by J. A. Wefers in person. In conclusion, the committee says it deems it just to return the charges not proved against B. J. Wefers.

In the case of John Cosgrove of Albany the statement said that it was proved conclusively to the committee that he is innocent, and it returned a verdict of not guilty.

Police Interfered. Saginaw, Mich., Nov. 16 .- The fight between Jim Case of Detroit and Jack Beatty of Saginaw last night was stopped by the police in the eighth round when Beatty was almost out. Differences May Lead to a Strike. New York, Nov. 16.-The relations between the Electrical Contractors' association of this city and the Brother-hood of Electrical Workers have now reached a crisis. Early this year the members of the brotherhood informed the association that Jan. 1, 1898, they would demand an increase from $3 a day to $4. They were promptly notified that such a demand would have to be denied, as the condition of business would not justify it, nor was it felt that the work was so sufficiently skilled as to call for a high rate of wages. The question has since then been a subject of constant negotiation between the parties, neither showing any disposition to recede from the position taken. Other causes of irritation have also arisen. One in particular has called forth much protest from the employers. This is the refusal of the journeymen to admit into their union a sufficient num ber of men to supply the demand in this city and vicinity. Although the employers say that their business has beer widely extending all the while, the men have kept their union a close corporation of about 800 members for a long time, and have in fact endeavered to corner the labor market in this line It is upon the monopoly that they think they have established, it is said, that they rely for the success of their demand for an increase to $4 a day.

The association members, being unable to obtain any tredress of their grievance or any concessions in any direction, have at last taken the bull by the horns by sending to the brotherhood an ultimatum which says in part: "Our members have not employed non-union employes, but if by reason of your action they cannot secure competent union help, they will have no alternative but to do so."

No one can foresee the results likely to follow the strike of the electrical workers. If, as seems almost certain, they should insist upon striking, it would prevent the completion of some of the most important buildings now in course of construction and, what is even more feared, may lead to a general sympa-FRANK F. CRANE, thetic strike. The outlook for peace in the labor world at the opening of the new year is regarded as as exceedingly minous.

From Punishment? Paris, Nov. 16.-Scheurer Kestner, one of the vice presidents of the senate, who has been agitating for a reopening of the case of Alfred Dreyfus, the former captain of artillery now undergoing a sentence of imprisonment for life for sellof a foreign power, has written a letter to the newspapers in which he asserts that on Oct. 30 he presented to the French minister of war, General Billot, documents proving the prisoner's innocence. ner the result within a fortnight, pledgcoachers on hand, but to Bert Waters ing the latter to silence in the meanwhile.

CAPTAIN ALBERT DREYFUS.

Continuing, he explains that this is the reason of his misunderstood silence, but as the fortnight has elapsed without the minister for war communicating with him, he now repeats, without fear of contradiction, that he showed the minister documents which easily establish the culpability of another than Dreyfus.

Mr. Kestner, in a recent letter to General Billot, declared that a rich and titled officer, well known in Paris society, had been requested to resign in onsequence of the continued leaking fus was deported. Furthermore, he declared that this officer was the author of the unsigned letter which led to the condemnation of Captain Dreyfus.

The newspapers today publish the letter which the brother of Captain Dreyfus sent to the minister of war, denound ing Count Esterhazy, who answers the foregoing description of the author of the unsigned letter.

Government Official on the Subject of Reciprocity.

Death of the First Negro to Be Elected to Office.

Capture of Austrians Who Violated the Alien

Washington, Nov. 16 .- How the administration stands on the subject of reciprocity with Canada is indicated pretty well by the following statement of a bureau official: "The task of the government would be made easier if the statesmen in congress would be controlled by the interest of the country at Some of them, unfortunately, onfine their views to a particular conression to be obtained from a foreign country for a local interest, and then desire a compensatory concession to be made not by their own, but by some other locality. They make of reciprocity a series of questions to be settled in the a series of questions to be settled in the interest of particular districts. We may be able to secure arrangements which will add millions to our national export trade and yet it might be defeated by a trade and yet it might be defeated by a combination of minor interests not Yet reciprocity means mutual conession; without this nothing can be acmarket, but an accessible one. Take coal for an illustration. By giving access to the New England coast we might gain access (perhaps control) in the coal market of central Canada with mutual advantages by reason of geographica and transport conditions. Would it b wise for coal producers to antagoniz these natural conditions? It is the san with other articles of commerce whe the long water transportation is bal anced against short railway carriage.

amounting to a million."

"In some things we can acquire an alnost exclusive market, greatly increasing our exports, in exchange for a market open only to the competition of the other party. So it is with some phases of the transportation of logs and coars umber against manufactures of wood Whenever we enlarge the market manufactures we inevitably enlarge th lemand for our raw material from which they are made, and this tends to increas he price paid to the original producer The advantages of increased trade ar widely distributed."

Colored Man With a History. Washington, Nov. 16.-Ex-Congre man John M. Langston of Virginia, o

of the prominent colored men of the country, died last night. He was born in 1828, emancipated at the age of 6, and was educated at Oberlin, where he graduated from the theological department in 1854. He afterwards studied law and practised his profession until 1869, du ing which time he held several office Ohio, being the first colored man el. . to office in the United States by popula vote. In 1869 he was given the pro fessorship of law at Howard university remaining with that institution sev years. From 1877 to 1885 he was Unite States minister and const he became president of the Virginia normal and collegiate institute at Petersburg. When the party arrived at Baltimore, they were suspected of being under contract, but the evidence submitted was deemed insufficient to war rant their detention. Subsequently, however, Commissioner Powderly sent special agents into the camps, who se cured conclusive testimony to justify the arrests. As soon as all are secured they wil be deported at the expense of the steam ship company bringing them over. Up o this time, the evidence against the contracting firm which brought the Austrians into this country is not deemed sufficient to justify criminal proceedings, but the officials are said to be still at work on this feature of the case.

Big Gain In Exports. Washington, Nov. 16 .- The monthly statement of imports and exports shows the exports of domestic merchandise during October last to have amounted to $109,583,842, a loss of nearly $2,500,000 as compared with October, 1896. The imports of merchandise during October are shown to have been $49,969,813, of which $24,334,333 was free from duty. For th last 10 months a gain of $79,292,702 is shown over the corresponding period last year in the exports of merchandise and

The German version of the trouble has been published in the United States. The following is the Haytian side of the dis-

The dispute arose out of the imprisonment of Emile Lueders, the son of a Geran who married a Haytian woman. Ip to a very short time ago Lueders was Haytian citizen, but, it is added, having been concerned in various affrays, among which are mentioned four duels he seemingly deemed it wise to change his nationality and registered his name at the German consulate. For an assault upon a cab driver, said to have been unprovoked, to which Lueders, it is said, pleaded guilty, he was sentenced to one month's imprison ment. He appealed from this decision to the correctional court and the sentence was altered to one year's seclusion and a fine of 500 francs. A further appeal was pending when the German minister interfered without invitation, and, it is claimed, forced his way into the private apartment of Tirestas Simon Sam, the president of the Haytian re public, and, in a rude and peremptory manner, demanded the release of Lueders, with an apology to the German government, an indemnity of $1000 a day for the time he had been in prison, the immediate trial of the police who arrested him and the dismissal of the judges who sentenced him. If the prisoner were not released within 24 hours the indemnity was to be $5000 per day for every day afterwards. Naturally the president resented the

Parlor Stove Comfort_

What is more cosy on earth a cold winter evening, than a room heated with a Glowing Parlor Stove. With a furnace you shovel and shovel on coal and even then the results are not to be depended upon. With a parlor stove you have heat just when you want it and where you want it.

Parlor stove comfort is genuine comfort, 50 patterns to choose from, and not a poor one in the whole let. The dandiest stoves on earth are here for you to select from, and better values than you've ever known before, $2.98 to $25.00. A stove to suit your purse, a stove to suit your notion.

Philadelphia, Nov. 17.-The delay in the arrival of the steamer Belgenland, a month ago for this port with a cargo which plies betwen this port and Liverpool, was cleared Tuesday when she ing and no doubt foundered during the reached her wharf after what the captain declared to be the most extraordinary and eventful trip in his long experience as a mariner. He has plenty of news to detail to the newspaper men who gathered in expectation of receiving nothing beyond a description of the Dept. 5, HOBBS REMEDY CO., 84 Adams St., CHICACO, ILL. effects of the storm at sea last week which was supposed to account for the non-arrival of the craft Sunday night. In substance the captain's report, which was full of sensational incident because of what it involved, was that on Sunday he gave tow to the William L. Maxwell, sailless and leaking, after taking 10 men on board. The following day the Belgenland's lookout sighted a yawl, and when the steamer reached it the boat was found to-be peopled by five men of the Theodore Dean, Captain Hodgdon of Somerville, Mass., which had been abandoned in a sinking con-

The Willie L. Maxwell, which was taken in tow Sunday morning off Nantucket, was launched only a year ago at Franklin, Me. She is 175 feet in length, and her capacity is 261 tons. When she was first sighted by the Belgenland she showed the American ensign, union lown, and Captain Doxrud had a boat owered and sent to her. When the boat's erew reached her the captain said he was short of canvas and was ignorant of his pearings. The position was given him, and as that was all that was asked the boat returned to the Belgenland. Then again the Maxwell showed signals of distress. The boat was sent back, and the mate of the Maxwell announced that e and the men would leave the ship, as there was considerable water in her. The captain refused to leave, but reuested to be towed to Sandy Hook. This Captain Doxrud refused to do, but ofered to tow him to Cape Henlopen. This offer was accepted, and after considerable difficulty in making a line fast the towing commenced. At 1 p. m. the tow parted and the wind and sea having calmed the captain of the schooner, considering himself safe from danger, refused further assistance unless he could High water—5:15 a. m.; 5:45 p. m. be towed to Sandy Hook. Captain Doxrud refused this request, and after Thursday with seasonable temperatures an hour's delay the Belgenland proceeded on her course. At 12:15 a. m. promises to be fair Friday, though with torch signals were again shown from more cloudiness and probably slightly the schooner, and the Belgenland returned. The captain requested to be towed to Delaware breakwater. This was consented to; the hawser was once more made fast, and the Maxwell was towed into the breakwater. The Belgenland was 36 hours overdue.

Plaster Schooner's Experience. Boston, Nov. 17.-The schooner Sparan, Captain Coombs, bound from Hillsboro, N. B., for Baltimore, came into to select men to attend the legislatures port Tuesday afternoon after a wee"s buffeting off the coast. The vessel left of looking after the interests of members Hillsboro Nov. 7 with a cargo of plaster, and for three days encountered good weather. On the morning of Nov. 10, she ran into the storm. At noon the wind shifted to the northwest, and as vesterday. The league includes nearly the storm centre passed off the coast, the wind blew with almost hurricane force. When off Matinicus rock one giant wave struck the vessel and buried ner from stem to stern under tons of water, and carried away the foretopmast, jibboom, all of the headsails, and lature which imposes a tax of 5 per cent the foresail, and swept away the boat on bequests to any beneficiary not a from the after davits, leaving the crew relative where the estate amounts to without means of escape in event of the over $100,000. vessel having to be abandoned. Wreckage Tells a Sad Story. Halifax, N. S., Nov. 17.—Considerable wreckage is washing ashore at Louisburg, C. B., and it is believed that two vessels were lost during last week's violent gales, all on board being drowned. The schooners were seen in dangerous positions off the coast while the storm of Friday was at its worst, and it is probable that these met de-

Had a Desperate Time Towing. St. John's, N. F., Nov. 17.-The British steamer Strathmore, Captain Cunningham, 13 days out from Ardrossan, Scotland, for Baltimore, was towed in here by the Baku Standard from Shields for Philadelphia. The Strathmore's trail shaft is broken and she has lost her propeller. The accident occurred last Wednesday 400 miles off this coast. The Baku Standard had a desperate time trying to tow her here. Four wire hawsers were broken, and both ships were frequently swept by heavy seas during Thursday and Friday, when the worst of the weather was encountered.

Dramatic Scene at an Inquest. Chicago, Nov. 17 .- There was a dramatic scene when the inquiry into the death of John K. Ketcham was in progress at the home of Mabel Wallace, who claims to be his widow. But two witnesses had been examined and statements of the two attending physicians submitted when it was announced that owing to the inability of the chemist to complete the analysis of the stomach of the deceased, the inquest would be adjourned for a week.

Fouled With His Elbow. Manhattan Athletic club last night be tween Larry Burns of Cohoes and Marand, and tears welled in the eyes of tin Flaherty of Lowell, Mass., was witnessed by nearly 3000 people. The men weighed in in the afternoon, and each tipped the scales at 1251/2 pounds. In the first round Flaherty opened with a hard one on the left eye, which almost closed that optic. The round was fast and furious. Flaherty played for Burns' eye and mouth during the contest, and Burns landed most of his blows on Flaherty's wind

In the fourth round Referee Tighe sautioned Flaherty for fouling Burns with his elbow. The fighting was of the ment received.

Cries of foul were sent up during round seven from the crowd when Flaherty again hit Burns' bad eye with his elbow during the clinch. Both me fought like tigers until the 15th round. when Burns was sent to his knees with a heavy uppercut from Flaherty's right, which caught the Cohoes man under the ear. When Burns got up he went a Flaherty with a vengeance, and the gong saved the Massachusetts boy from going out.

In the 16th round Referee Tighe stopped the bout and gave the decision to Burns on another foul by Flaherty.

Our artist appears to have hit it just right in the illustration which we present today, for certainly quantity and quality seem most happily bler ded in the person of the young lady who stands upon the scales-a familiar sight in every grocery store, by the way, where it is a common occurrence for the local fair ones to call and be weighed " just for fun."

In the business of selling groceries there are the same possibilities for fraud that exist in most other head table were: kinds of storekeeping.

There's trouble ahead for the housewife when she buys her tomatoes this We mean the usual brands. The trouble began with the weather. July was rainy; tematoes didn't ripen; packing stopped; season getting late; packers must fill their orders; packed everything offered; quality neglected. A can with water, seeds and skin in it, if labeled "tomatoes" was good enough for

The canners were panic-stricken. It made them dishonest. The market is full of such trash. Somebody will buy it and sell it cheap.

A few packers didn't loose their heads. They thought of quality and worked for it. Fortunately for our customers, goods coming to us are choice-

COMPANY TX BANQUET CAPTAIN INCAIDE.

Distinguished Military Men as Guests.

The tenth annual supper of Company K, 5th regiment, to its honorary members was held at the Armory at Braintree on Wednesday evening, and was one of the most enjoyable and successful ever given. It was the first gathering of this kind by the company since the reorganization of the militia, and many of the old military friends present bore new titles, advancements being general all along the line. It is Capt. Kincaide's first year in command of the company, and he was very successful in securing the attendance of prominent military men as guests and

The hour for the banquet was set at .45, and the company and guests asembled soon after six, received a hearty welcome from Capt. Kincaide. and spent a social hour. The Armory where the feast was spread was decorated with flags and streamers, a very arge flag being the background at the read table.

After the guests had taken positions at the tables, the company marched in with military precision and full ranks and occupied the table at the left of the head table. A blessing was asked by Rev. C. F. H. Crathern of the South Congregational church of Braintree, and a brief welcome was extended by Capt. Kincaide. The menu was an excellent one and while it engrossed the attention of those at the ables, Tirrell's orchestra discoursed fine music, a medley of patriotic airs being particularly pleasing.

Outline of the Measure Spain's Cabinet Will Consider.

Spaniards and Cubans to Enjoy the Same Privileges.

Demonstration In Honor of Weyler Meets With Disfavor.

Madrid, Nov. 18 .- The principal points of the scheme of autonomy to be considered when the Spanish cabinet meets are the enjoyment of all the rights accorded by the Spanish constitution with out any curtailment whatever; the identity of political and civil sights for Spaniards and Cubans without distinction of race or color, and the creation of a Cuban chamber, all the members of which are to be elected by popular vote. A Cuban senate is to be created later on The chamber is to be empowered to responsibility of the executive officers. The motherland will have exclusive condirection of the political and civil laws he had animus against Long. of a national character, and retains control of the expenditures of the sam character. The executive power will be vested in a governor general, with depu

Tragic Death of a Lady Edinburg, Nov. 18 .- A woman, apparently about 20 years of age and fashion ably dressed in deep mourning, who said she was the Countess Teresa Ulfed, a Russian, adding that she had come to Scotland a fortnight ago, via Copenhagen, and that she was in mourning for her dead lover, complained to the officer on duty in one of the police stations that she had been robbed of her purse, containing a large sum of money. To Welcome Weyler, the Tyrant. Madrid, Nov. 18.-According to a disatch from Santander, on the bay of Biscay, the partisans and friends of General Weyler are making lavish preparaions to welcome him on his return Boats with bands will meet the Montezarrat, and 6000 rockets will be fired. St. Louis penniless, and physicians sa When these explode they will drop ribons inscribed with "Live Weyler." The public, however, is not disposed to subscribe to meet the expense of the lemonstration and in the case of one lub having a membership of 1000 only six contributed.

At Corunna there is a violent campaign for and against a popular demonstration. The moderate Republicans and Carlists are doing everything possible to organize a reception for the general. On the other hand the Republicans, Liberals and socialists are organizing a counter-demonstration. The general public is indifferent.

Candidates For Archbishopric. Rome, Nov. 18.-The congregation of the propaganda has submitted to the pope a report of three candidates for the archbishopric of New Orleans. The probabilities favor the Rev. P. L. Chapelle, archbishop of Santa Fe, New Mexico, unless his holiness desires to take the opportunity and send Rev. John J. There was a coldness in my stomach, and a weight which seemed like a rock. Everything that I ate gave me great pain; I had a bearing down sensation; was swelled across my stomach; had a ridge around my right side, and in a short time I was bloated. I was treated by three of our best physicians but got no relief. Then Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was recommended to me and I got it, and commenced the use of it. I began to see a change for the better. I was so weak I could not walk across the room without assistance. I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and one bottle of the 'Pleasant Pelets.' I began to improve very fast after the use of a few bottles. The physicians who attended me said I had 'dropsy' and that my disease was leading into pulmonar; consumption. I had quite a cough, and the home physicians gave me wptodie. I thank God that mycure is permanent."

Honor System of Examinations. Hanover, N. H., Nov. 18 .- Dartmouth college students have decided to adopt an honor system of examinations by vote of 258 to 105. The system enacts that each student shall state on paper John Cotton Dana of Denver has been when he leaves the examination room that he has neither received nor given aid; that no proctors shall be in the room; that a committee of 10 shall act on cases of cribbing, and that if a student is convicted it shall request him to withdraw from the college. If the faculty sanctions the adoption of this system it will be put into operation.

Great Suffering In Cuba. Boston, Nov. 19.-A letter from Captain Charleson of the four-maste schooner Clara E. Randall of Portland, Me., now in port at Matanzas, Cuba, tells of the suffering in Cuba. Matanzas is lled with fever-stricken and dying soldiers, and hundreds of pacificos are dying every week. It is no uncommon sight on the streets to see men lying in the gutters in their last agonies, and to see the death carts slowly creeping about gathering up their load of bodies. The people seem to be helpless in their misery. Not only is yellow fever playing have with them, but they are dying of starvation by scores.

Captain Charleson says that he has not been ashore very much since his arhe intends to get his vessel unloaded and away as soon as possible. Matanzas, which was once one of the busiest ports on the island, is now almost deserted, and everywhere there are death and pes-

VIEWS OF STATESMEN.

Senator Chandler Sees No Hope For Financial Reform.

MarkHanna's Laconic Remark

Washington, Nov. 19. - Senator Chandler of New Hampshire, in an inter view regarding legislation as the coming session of congress, said: "Senator Lodge proposes pushing the measure looking to the restriction of immigra tion and of demanding its passage without delay. Bills proposing to bar unde sirable foreign elements from entry int this country are now pending in b the house and the senate, and there is doubt that the two houses will be ab to agree on a bill. The house measur lays restrictions on what are called 'birds of passage,' but the senate bill does not. The class referred to is that which lives along the northern and southern borde lines of the country and embraces Mexicans and Canadians who work daily in the United States, but live in their native ountry. This part of the bill, in my judgment, eventually will be omitted, and the senate bill, which applies to im migrants from European and oriential countries, passed.

"Some action, I believe, will be taken ooking to the relief of the Cuban insurgents. Of course the Republican olicy will largely depend upon the presilent's message, but my opinion is he wi eave the entire matter to the judgmen of congress.

"The prospects for the ratification of the Hawaiian treaty are excellent. The Republicans will stand by it to a unit, and many Democrats will do likewise I think the necessary two-thirds vot will be secured. As to financial legisla tion, especially as to a revision of th banking laws, I cannot see how any such legislation can be passed." Senator Morgan on Hawaii. Washington, Nov. 19 .- Senator Morgan of Alabama, member of the committee on foreign relations, has reached her on his way back from Honolulu, where ne went to post himself on the annexation uestion. In an interview on the reults of his trip he said: "My conclusions, based on my observations, are nly a confirmation of what I had prevously believed—that it is our nationa duty and will be in every way advantageous to all concerned to annex Hawai to this country. I have studied the question from the most authentic and reliable sources. The establishment of an outpost of the United States within the tropics and 2000 miles from our coast hallenges the inquiry whether such ac tion is necessary to our national wel fare. Our northwestern possessions of the Pacific, along the Aleutian archi pelago, are over 1000 miles west of Honolulu. This gives us control of practically the entire American coast of the north Pacific. The intervention of the British possessions from the straits of our occupation of Hawaii. The Vancouver coal fields would give the British navy almost ir resistible advantage in war and virtua dominion of commerce in time of peace "The 31,000 native people of Hawaii are far better adapted to American cit izenship than many millions of those whom we have welcomed here from southern Europe, and better adapte than the Indians, Mexicans and nativ Alaskans. Except among the few who expect personal favors and advance ment from re-establishment of the roya government, the general body of the Hawaiian population will rejoice in the honor, safety, peace and prosperity which annexation will bring. Morally and practically, the silent invasion of Hawaii from the orient (the Japanese) violates all the declared policies and often expressed purpose of the United States to protect those people against foreign interference. #### A Ten-Cent Course.

Rumor has it that several well known gentlemen, residents of the different wards, are to give a series of entertainments on Saturday evenings of this coming winter at the new Music hall. It is understood that the entertainments are to be of a high order, cost ing not less than $80 to a $100 a night. The price of admission to be in the vicinity of 10 cents, with a slight advance for reserved seats. The series is gotten up, not to make money, but to furnish a high class of entertainments for those of our citizens who desire to see and hear something good without having to travel to Boston.

If the rumor is based on facts it will prove an important factor in making Quincy lively this winter.

Those who remember the 10-cent entertainments which were given in City Hall years ago realize what a success a series of this kind can be made under proper management.

The tellers appointed were James Milne, Walter Jackson, Abel Nutting, W. S. Williams, A. L. Mitchell, J. G. Roberts and John P. Bigelow.

There was not only a contest over the election of delegates to the Mayoralty convention but for Councilmen and Ward Committee as well.

There were two lists of delegates, one favorable to Mr. Bigelow and one these delegates pledged to him being elected: W. W. Parry, W. F. McCalder, Horace E. Spear, Jules Johnson, Andrew Stewart, James W. Pierce, Alex. Clark and Frank Tinney. The vote for Councilmen resulted as follows: Harry S. Nicol, 113; Joseph P. Prout, 108; Daniel McLennan, 85; William T. Spargo, 74; Andrew Milne, 71; John Mason, 55, and Messrs. Nicol, Prout and McLennan were nominated.

The result of the ballot for ward committee resulted in the election of the following, their votes running from 103 to 166. John P. Bigelow, J. C. Murray, W. W. Parry, Harry S. Nicol, Joseph P. Prout, William T. Spargo, John G. Roberts.

Atlantic people are much pleased that an effort is being made for a good walk from the depot to Gurney's store Since the grade was raised at the foo of Sagamore street for the electric road the sidewalk is much lower than the street and unless it is built up before spring the only way to reach the depot will be by boats. Attention should be given this at once; also in front of Gurney's store where there is no sidewalk at all.

The sudden death of Mrs. Torrey the mother of Mrs. Warren Taylor on Wednesday afternoon, caused a little excitement to some of the residents of Atlantic. Mrs. Torrey who was quite old was passing along Madison street on her way to her daughter's when she dropped. She never regained consciousness but passed away that afternoon. Apoplexy is said to have been the cause of her death. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon. Burial at Mount Wollaston.

Cause Old Joe Goddard Pain Fer Six Rounds.

Two Knockdowns Scored by the Former Sailor.

The Loser Was Unwilling to Be Regarded as American Railway union Ketcham was a Coward.

San Francisco, Nov. 19 .- Tom Sharkey has won another questionable battle, his victim this time being old Joe Goddard. The fight, which was scheduled for 20 rounds, terminated in the sixth, when Sharkey, after landing a stiff right on leged, without cause. Not long ago Goddard's jaw, rushed at his man and Ketcham secured employment with the knocked him to the floor literally by Michigan Central Elevated company force of impact, falling heavily upon at Kensington, and moved his family him. Goddard's head struck the floor to that suburb. He worked a short with an awful smash. He arose at the time there and was discharged. end of three seconds and staggered to the ropes, Referee McArthur meanwhile holding the excited sailor back.

Amid great confusion McArthur awarded the fight to Sharkey. The decision was just, but Sharkey's victory is far from creditable, it being the popular impression that Goddard was hurt more by his collision with the floor than from Sharkey's blows, which were at all times wild and miserably timed.

TOM SHARKEY.

Popular confidence in the genuineness of the projected fight was so slight that public. mere handful of spectators paid admission to the pavilion. After looking over the house and counting noses, Goddard concluded that it was not worth while to risk a beating for the receipts. The Australian was deaf to all entreates, asserting that he would not fight for glory. The crowd called him a coward. The taunt was more than Goddard could stand. "I'll fight," he shouted back, 'even though I never get a cent."

When time was called for the first round the men came up and fiddled for a few moments. Sharkey jumping about and Goddard waiting for the sailor to lead. Finally Sharkey swung his right, catching Goddard squarely on the jaw, and the big Australian went down. Nothing was done for the remainder of the round, Sharkey fail-ng to take advantage of the lead. Before 30 seconds of the second round had expired Sharkey put in another right, and Goddard went down agai. Joe made several wild lunges at Sharkey, but the sailor was quick in eluding him. The third and fourth rounds were a series of wild rushes and clinches with- ance led the discordant element in the

Postmaster Van little the better of the rough work. The sixth proved to be the last. Sharkey rushed at Joe like a football player bucking the line. Goddard seemed disconcerted at the sailor's tactics and got the worst of the wrestling. Finally in the rally at close quarters Sharkey landed his right somewhere on Goddard's features, and the big fellow went down, his head striking the floor but every effort in that direction was with a resounding thump, Sharkey on top of him. The sailor was up quick and waited for Goddard to regain his feet. He was so much excited that the referee had to restrain him from actually fouling Goddard. Goddard was plainly in no condition to make a fight when, after several seconds, he steadied himself with the aid of the ropes, and the referee gave

City of Mexico, Nov. 19.-A profound sensation was made in the course of the trial of the police officials charged with the murder of Arroyo by the production of the confession of the late inspector general of police, Velasquez. It is a most remarkable attempt at self-justification. Velasquez said in part: "I entertain the most enthusiastic admiration for General Diaz. MARY LYON'S WORK day was founder's day at Mt. Holyoke college. The contrast between the day and the celebration of a year ago could scarcely be greater. Then the guests and students arrived through a pouring rain at the Congregational church, anew and the cornerstone of Mary Brigham hall was laid by proxy, the rain preventing the audience from going to the building. The campus was a scene cleared away, and the students were roaming far and near in the houses of the townspeople. Almost as if by magic, six beautiful buildings have arisen, surrounded by well arranged walks and lawns. Last spring was dedicated the first domitory completed, Mary Brigham hall, a gift of the New York alumnae in honor of Mary Brigham, who was elected the first president of the college, and who died before entering upon the duties of the office. Many alumnae and friends came from ong distances to attend the sixteenth anniversary, and rejoice together over the joyful present and hopeful future. The music was furnished by the college choral club and a selected choir. heard during the trial, and at each ses-

Rev. Judson Smith, in his memorial address, said: "If Abraham was called of God, if Moses fulfilled a divine mystery, if our Washington was the manfor the hour, if Elizabeth was set of God for the blessing of England; Mary Lyon was a providential woman for her place and work. We give praise to God when we rise up and call her blessed. The central and supreme force in the beginning of this enterprise was that remarkable, that providential woman whom we honor today. The seminary was born in her heart and brain, and bore her mark, and was filled and shaped by her thoughts and life up to the day of her death. It was her personality and power that drew together and held together the forces, men. means, patronage and public favor, which made the seminary possible and gave it permanent power. Others might have thought out a plan for such a school, but no one else would have taken it upon the heart so as to persuade others of its importance and feasibility; no one else would have reasted the opposition it awakened and undertaken the labors of solicitation and building involved, as she did, and have carried them through to success.'

The memorial anthem by the choir was from S. P. Tuckerman. Mrs. Helen M. Gulliver, graduate in 1857, teacher from 1857 to 1867, and principal of the seminary until 1872, gave the dedicatory address of Safford and Porter halls. E. S. The public schools are the means of saving a great deal of property. It is said that during the vacation the school children of America destroy, waste or damage property of various kinds to the amount of $1,000,000 a day.

Now the jocund year has Spring, with her green And starlike flowers, and Is far off, faded and un-opulent fame?

The pomp of woods, the singing bird,

Are now of things not seen or heard In autumn's ebbing, flickering flame.

But lately flashed October's blaze Of baffling beauty on our way. Now it, with all the march from May, Lies dead and hidden from human gaze.

But while the sun is in the sky Memory will still reclaim the past. And who shall fear the wintry blast Or arctic cold when snowflakes fly?

The largess of the barn and bin, The rick in many a garnered field, The things the farm and garden yield, Are ours, and they are gathered in.

Let us be glad the circling year Has brought its gifts so manifold-The beauty of the wood and wold-And for the thought that life is dear.

Let us give thanks for everything Within the swift year's ebb and flow. All lives must meet their cold and snow, But at the end comes jubilant spring! JOEL BENTON.

MISS TRUDY'S VIEWS.

I'm back after 25 years of it, tired out, without a dollar in my pocket or any clothes but these I stand in. And I looked at the old house that had strangers in it and I looked at the old graves that held all my people and I wasn't going to become a tramp, and home, in society, in business, we owe there was nothing left for me but the river out here. And I saw this light and came this way, I didn't know why, and I looked in the window and saw you. You haven't changed much in these 25 years, Trudy. what is? And then there's this house It's mine. Aunt Gertrude left me a trifle of money for my name, and I put it out at interest, and in 20 years it bought me this house, this garden, this little orchard of peach and pear and plum and apple trees, this pasture, this cow and this grapevine. And I've got what I had before to live on and a little for the poor. I couldn't have done that if I'd married. Yes, I used to think it hard times when Geoffrey Masters led me such a dance, making my heart beat so I was afraid he'd see it, and then going away the Lord knows where without a word when I'd all but made up my mind to marry him. But

I'm sure it was a merciful escape.
"Yes, those were cruel days. Don't tell me about old fools! There's no fool like a young fool! And that man made me suffer once. Yes, he did. It gives me a sinking now to remember the nights I used to watch for him and he didn't come. I never could bear to look at the stars on a clear winter's night since! Humphyes-well, we do outgrow things, if we live long enough, and that's a reason for thanksgiving, I'm sure. Yes, I'm an old maid, and I'm thankful for it. I've often said I wouldn't marry the best man living; I wouldn't marry the pope of Rome himself if he was to ask me. I'm my own property, and everything about me is my own, and I can give away a dollar without asking. Jane can't. Look at Jane—she can't say her soul's her own. And yet when she was at home she used to rule all the rest of us children with a rod of iron. And now she says to Jaired. 'Dear, I think I'll go down town today if you'll let me have the horse.' says: 'Can't have the horse. What you want down town? Always gadding. Place for a woman's home-enough to do at home. Stay at home!' And she's staid at home till everything's so blue she can't see it. People thought Jane was doing great things when she married Jaired—splendid farm, wood lots, bank stock, a horse and chaise and a herd of Jerseysand she's never had a cent to spend from that day to this, for he took what belonged to her and locked it up with his for the children. I don't suppose she could get it if she made a row, but nobody wants hot water all the time, and she wears a calico rying passes me. She can't go anywhere, and I wear alpaca, and I don't know the day she's had a new bonnet.

Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 21. Comment by Rev. S. H. Dayle. Topic.-"Gratitude-to whom, for wnat how shown ?"-Luke xvii, 11-19. (A Thanksgiv;

The topical inference contains the story of the healing of the ten lepers. As Jesus was entering a certain city He don't want your pie, Trudy, I want you." As Jesus was entering a certain city He "Geoffrey! Geoffrey Masters!" she cried met a crowd of lepers, perhaps without their handless arms and exclaiming in their unearthly, gurgling tones: "Untlean! Unclean!" To their usual cry they add the prayer, "Jesus, Master, have mercy on us!" He heard their prayer. "Go," He said, "show your-selves unto the priests." This was to test them. They believed and obeyed, and as they went they were healed, but after they had presented themselves and procured their certificates of health only one of the ten returned to thank their benefactor, and he was a Samaritan! The nine were probably Jews. The after warming his hands at the blaze and | Master was touched by the gratitude of the one, and perhaps in the thankfulness of the nine contrasted with the conduct of the one He saw the ingratitude of mankind as a whole.

To every benefactor we should show our gratitude. We are constantly under obligations to our fellow men for kindnesses and blessings received. In the debts of gratitude. Are we thankful? If so, do we express our thankfulness? Gratitude is often felt, but not manifested. We should both feel and manifest it. God, being our greatest, our daily benefactor, should receive our greatest, our daily gratitude. Christ healed the leper. He did for him what no one else in all the world could do. How great, therefore, was the debt owed to Christ! His gratitude should have been correspondingly great. God in Christ has done for us what none else could do. To Him, therefore, we should feel and express our gratitude above all others.

We should be grateful to God for all things. "Every good and perfect gift cometh from above." If we would only pause in the mad rush of life ofter enough to contemplate the manifold blessings that come from God daily and hourly, and recall at the same time th extent of our gratitude, we would be overwhelmed with shame at our ingrati-

Gratitude should be shown by actions. Ahasuerus did something to show his gratitude to Mordecai for saving his ife. Actions speak louder than words. By a life for God we should speak to the world of our gratitude to God.

A farmer who had been abundantly elessed with this world's goods, but who had never thanked the Giver, listened one Thanskgiving day to a sermon on the text "The ox knoweth his owner. the ass his master's crib, but Israel doth not know, My people doth not consider." It made no impression upon him He returned to his home, and as he rubbed her head against him. This led him to think. "This dumb brute," he says, "recognizes me as its benefactor and shows its gratitude, yet I have received all these things from God and have never thanked Him." He did Endeavorers do the same

Characteristics of His Prayers.

Simplicity, sincerity, earnestness, reverence and a mighty faith—these are the characteristics of the prayers of Christ, so far as His utterances of this sort are recorded. If we were to study them more frequently and absorb their And then there came a laugh into his spirit more fully, there would be great benefit to our own petitions, whether private or public. If some ministers who, doubtless unconsciously, have contracted the habit—we had almost said the disease—of addressing more or less philosophical essays to the Lord instead of prayers, would try to learn how to pray as Jesus Himself did, there would be an immediate and notable improvement in the tone and value of services of public worship. - Congregationalist.

Preachers and Churches. Great preachers do not constitute great churches, though they may be the instrument of their creation and quickening. Great churches are those in which the rank and file, catching and returning the inspiration of their leaders, fulfill the duties and spread the sympathies of piety and brotherhood. -Rev. Charles A. Berry.

Get Close to Him. If you stand half a mile off from a man and throw the gospel at him you will miss him, but if you go close to him and lay hold upon him, giving him a hearty grip of the hand, and show that you have an affection for him, you will, by God's blessing, lead him in the right way. - Spurgeon.

Getting Ready.

The most important thing a young man ever does is to get ready. The keynote lasts to the end of the tune, and the foundation reaches clear to the Miss Trudy stepped outdoors after the minister and his wife a moment to look at matter how long a man lives he will the stars in the clear wintry sky. "If never get away from his youth.—Dr. Parkhurst.

Over and Above.

The cost of self gratification, over and above good, decent, modern "living" of an advanced civilization, is many times greater than the cost of life's necessities with all gospel claims thrown in.—Christian Standard.

Gerald was ex-county judge and one f Waco's most prominent citizens. He nad written a bitter criticism on Baylor niversity with reference to the moboing of W. C. Brann, and had filed it with Editor Harris for publication. Afterwards he asked to have his manuscript returned, and became incense at the editor's delay in complying. Bad eeling resulted, and as Judge Gerald vas crossing the street Friday Editor Harris came out of a drug store and be gan shooting at him. Gerald imme diately drew his revolver and returned the fire. Hearing the shooting, W. A. Harris came upon the scene and took a hand in the fusilade, shooting Gerald from behind. Gerald pursued him into the drug store, shooting as he ran. Harris fell to the floor with the words: 'You shot me in the back." Gerald emptied the remaining loads in his veapon into the prostrate form of his dctim and killed him on the spot. A ittle colored boy who stood near was shot in the leg by a stray bullet.

The miners train on its homeward journey and having about 400 miners on board wa wrecked on the Gladstone switch, an wo cars loaded with human freigh left the track, rolled down the emban nent and lodged at the bottom of ditch filled with water to the depth of several feet.

The accident was caused by the train running over a horse, which threw the caboose from the track, and it dragg the other cars with it. Twenty-thre men in all were more or less injured thre of whom suffered injuries that will prove fatal.

Found Guilty of Murder. Cayuga, Ont., Nov. 20.-Mrs. Olive Adele Sternaman has been found guilty of the murder of her husband and sen tenced to be hanged Jan. 20 next. She was tried for the murder of her husband George Sternaman, who died Aug. 18, 1896, uttering nothing but expressions of tenderness and affection for his wife Sternaman was taken ill June 3, 1896. During this illness his disease was diagnosed as paralysis, from which Ezra Chipman, a former husband of Mrs Sternaman, had died. A later diagnosis showed that Sternaman was suffering from shrinkage of the liver. Dullness In Cloth Market. Fall River, Mass., Nov. 20 .- The loca print cloth market has been dull this week, and business has been confined wholly to odd goods. Rumors of a bid of 21/4 cents for 25,000 pieces of regulars have been in the air, but if made, such a bid has been declined. The sales amount to 150,000 pieces-62,000 pieces for spot and 88,000 pieces contract. The pro duction has been 230,000 pieces and the stock on hand has been increased about 80,000 pieces. The market is dull at 5-16 cents.

The mill situation is practically unchanged, and if the special committee of the manufacturers has been deliberating it has reached no decision.

Citizen Labor.

The efforts in some quarters to raise an election issue over the employment of citizen labor is pure buncombe, as there is no opposition. It cannot be claimed that either of the political parties are opposed to such employment, or that the City Council of 1897 has been opposed to it. It is well that some of the most difficult work should be done by experienced contractors, but this does not, necessarily, mean imported labor. Only where others will not work should the emthere have worked faithfully and the work has progressed satisfactorily There will be many miles of this work the next few years, and it may well be done by home labor.

Further, that he is the first choice of several of the and his chances seem to be looming up rather than vanishing.

His friends claim with some reason candidate. That instead of capturing Arthur G. Wilde. Wards One, Two and Three, Mr. Sears secured but two of the three. That but for the big claims he would not have secured Ward One. That even then it required a great amount of cancassing, buttom-holing, carriages, etc. That the politics of many of the supporters of Mr. Sears is shown by the fact that they nominated a Democrati for the Council in preference to two-Republicans, one of whom is at present a Councilman and was a promising andidate for the presidency. That the methods employed in Wards Two and Three were objectionable and that a reaction has set in.

Fasting, Net Feasting. When John Adams was president and when a war with France seemed imminent, he issued a proclamation. In view of "the unfriendly disposition, conduct and demands of a foreign power, evinced by repeated refusals to receive our messengers of reconciliation and peace," a day was set apart for fasting, humiliation and prayer. Nor was this the last day which the people of the United States were called upon to celebrate in this humble way, as Madison issued a similar proclamation in 1814, because of the war with Great Britain then in progress. The following year, however, he called upon all the people to rejoice on the second Tuesday in April over the restoration

It must have been a lowly place, but quite of today. A large golden star in the floor marks the spot of the nativity. A little distance off is indicated the place where the Magi stood. The little chamber was filled with kneeling pilgrims from Russia, and even farther distant.

The Greek church and the Roman Catholic share the guardianship of the precious place, keeping it in trust for the ages.

Is there any one who thinks the days of signs and wonders are past? In a nation of dark each other in the narrow streets. It is not only people, those of one village are light. Is it by chance the women of Bethlehem come by their magnificent bodies, stately heads and beautiful faces, where the true color of the pomegranate steals through the cream of their cheeks; and thoughts unfathomable deepen and darken the brown of their eyes? Possibly! yet one may believe that this beauty, of which the fame has gone throughout the land, came as a gift unto these for the sake of the Woman "blessed above all others," who tarried with them a little while, eighteen hundred years ago.

At last, "in the cool of the day," in the first sweet hush of the early evening hours, laden with our memories, we turned our faces homeward.

"Oh, Little Town of Bethlehem," resting mong your olive groves, you hold forever in your heart the realization of the prophets, and the "hope of all mankind." Jerusalem, Oct. 27, 1897.

London, Nov. 20 .- The oldest inhabitant never saw and cannot recall a fire as disastrous as that which laid waste a small portion of this city Friday afternoon and paralyzed the British companies doing fire insurance. Records would have to be traced as far back as the seventeenth century for a parallel. There have been disastrous conflagrations the present century, but they lacked the destructiveness of that which fanned the flames. When the control signal was sounded at 5:45 about 50 warehouses and a dozen or so minor structures had either vanished or remained only in blackened walls, a chaos of fallen girders and smoking piles of bricks and stone.

For four hours and a half the flames had their own way, and it was only after nore than 100 engines had worked an our that the chief of the fire brigade eent out the signal that the fire was nder control. This was at 5:45 p. m. When the good news became generally known nearly 50 warehouses and a dozen or so minor structures had either vanished or remained in only blackened walls, a chaos of fallen girders and smoking piles of bricks and stone.

The conflagration was caused by the explosion of gas engine on the premises of Waller, Brown & Co., mantle mancrowded with girls when the fire broke cut, and it was instantly the scene of a semi-pantc. The frightened operroof of the building and thence crossed to other buildings, where they effected their escape. In less than a quarter an hour the flames had enveloped the adjoining warehouse, and thence jumped across the street to an enormous paper warehouse, which was fully alight in Sawyer, Joseph Tecar, aged about

The excitement among the on-lookers, who crowded every possible point of view. was very great, as may be judged from the fact that firemen had to be rescued repeatedly by their comrades from buildings which had caught fire after the firemen had mounted to the roofs. The rescue of operatives by the firemen, the hurrying of hosts of clerks who were trying to save books and valuable papers from the fire, and the rushing here and there of many employes who were attempting to carry to places of safety costly merchandise or other valuables, added to the confusion.

The roar of the flames was so intense and the heat was so terrific that several firemen were obliged to work under showers of water slowly poured on them. In spite of their exertions the fire crept on very steadily until Nicholas square was reached. At a little after 2 o'clock a dozen hose pipes with a 12-foot spread poured water into the blaze from an opposite roof from the street below and from the burning premises themselves, but it did not seem to have any effect. The confusion in the streets increased as the fire spread, the shrieking of steam whistles and throbbing of the engines increased, and building after building became ignited. Suddenly there was an explosion of probably fatal injuries. gas meters, sounding like the reports of field guns, followed by a momentary hush. After that the wild rushing here and there was resumed with increased energy. Men risked their lives in desperate efforts to save daybooks, ledgers, feathers, jewelry, valuable china-ware, etc. One man actually hazarded his life to fetch his hat and cane, 200 feet of stonework and glass falling at his heels as he emerged from the building. Several firemen were almost buried in burning ruins, as front after front of the flaming warehouses fell in, hurling tons of brick and masonry into the streets, bursting and cutting the fire hose in all directions, while tons of flery matter, resembling huge sparks or meteors, were falling in every direction, making it impossible to foresee where the conflagration would stop, as roof after roof caught Mass., which had been in session this

The red flames from every point shone out against the black sky and through the widespread mass of dull, leaden smoke, tinged with tongues of yellow fire, and here and there where the fire had subsided somewhat the street lamps, stripped by the heat of their burners and glass frames, blazed with big jets from the open pipes like monster danger torches. There was no abatement of the furious persistence of the blaze until 5:30 p. m. Then the check came in Jewin street, by a tremendous use of water, and in Wall street, where the collapse of a wall on the right hand side of that thoroughfare was the means of saving the last building in the street. The width of Red Cross street, a comparatively broad thoroughfare, also formed a barrier there when, at 5:45 p. m, Commander Wells was able to breathe without anxiety, knowing that he had got the upper hand of one of the greatest fires on Two acres of buildings, how-

The most serious aspect of the disaster, after the question of the enormous loss incurred, is that over 1500 employes have been thrown out of work and many of them have lost all of their belongings. The property loss is now estimated at £3,000,000.

Boxing Foul at Lewiston Cut Shirt by a Heart Blow.

Lewiston, Me., Nov. 20.-Allie Brown of Lewiston put Jack Jackson of Livermore Falls to sleep in one and one-half rounds at the city hall last night before a large and enthusiastic audience. In the first round Brown led with his left and cleverly ducked a left swing. Both men clinched and fell heavily. Brown then received a hard swing on the neck, but rushed at his opponent and jabbed him repeatedly on the jaw. In the second round Jackson rushed, but Allie met him with a terrific swing, drawing blood. After a few moments sparring Brown landed heavily on Johnson's jaw and followed it up with a right under the heart. Johnson fell to the floor and attempted to get up at the call of his friends, but could not, and had to be carried from the room.

It was claimed by many that Brown fouled Johnson with his knee, but the referee paid no attention to this, and awarded the fight to Brown.

following bulletin: "For 'objectionable actions on the track' in the five-mile handicap at Sanger hall, Philadelphia, Nov. 16, Teddy Goodman and Charles Hadfield are fined $25 each and suspended until the fines are paid. This is bulletined as a warning to other racing men, because Mr. Goodman at least was under the impression that referees were powerless to protect the spectators and promoter from actions which ruined what would otherwise have been a most excellent exhibition. The racing men and promoter had contracted to give spectators who had paid for it an exhibition of the best efforts of Messrs. Nat Butler, one of the handicap kings of the world: Hadfield, Barnaby, Stevens and the Turville brothers in competition The impression was that when there were repeated sitting up, slowing, ges ticulating, half turning in saddle and disputations due to a refusal to take a share of the general pacemaking, even tually resulting in abandoning the track there was no rule to cover it. Refere The 'objectionable actions' referred to there are, among other things, the com bination of actions above described, and referees are authorized to act under that rule in such cases."

ROYAL WILD TURKEY

HOW THE TRUE SPORTSMAN HUNTS THIS NOBLE GAME.

Glorious Sport Seeking Him In His Wild Mountain Glades-His Flesh Far Superior to His Domestic Brother-Old Gobblers Are Very Knowing Birds. Taking him "by and large," an old turkey gobbler is the quickest, swiftest, shiest and most knowing animal with wings or without. He can run like a greyhound, smell like a deer, see like an eagle and fly like a wild turkey.

You may have spent two hours in crawling on your hands and knees over a mountain open or in moving with noiseless footsteps, each one of which is considered with careful deliberation, and a single, sudden turn of your head, snap of a twig or gleam of sunshine on your gun will send a whole gang a mile away and up the mountain. Upward it always is. When a wild turkey does not like the looks of things, he wants the rockiest and roughest summit of the particularly highest headland of the topmost ridge of a whole range, and he generally gets it. If it is steep, he runs, and he can run up faster than you can Opened Nov. 13, and 940 Actual Sales fall down. If it is a gentle rise, he thrashes the air with his mighty wings clear up obstructing tree tops, and then away he sails with a velocity that belongs 10-4 Bed Blanket, white and gray, 75c., at 45c. to a 20 pound feathered cannon ball.

Take a dog along, if you will, and when the gang is busy feeding your cur may surprise them so quickly as to make a flush, Off they will fly, scattering in every direction, no two birds together. If it is afternoon, they will want to get together for the night, and in a few hours you hear far off a plain-59c. tive qu-urck, qu-urck, qu-urck, qu-urck, qu-urck, qu-urck-seven notes, the last three coming shorter and sharper. Now, if you are one of the rare individuals who can make and manipulate a turkey call, take from your pocket the well worn hollow bones of a wild gobbler's wings, be still as death and imitate that queer invitation. You will probably be conscious that it is answered and have 12c. some delicious sensations. Nay, it may even come nearer and lead you to madly strain your eye nerves trying to see through entirely opaque underbrush. But unless those turkeys are very young and foolish or are hens this will be all. An old gobbler will have thought it all out long before he steps within keep on coming.

See everything that your eyes can take in and keep them looking steadily on points in distant leaf colored slopes until they see many things that did not appear at first. Stop sometimes and don't move anything but your eyeballs for five full, silent minutes. Never make any sudden move, consider whether the last night's frost has fallen on this area of ruffled and torn up leaves, where plainly strong toes have been laying there the rich, dark earth or the sweet remains of the chestnut crop. When you decide that the scratching has been done this morning, see where it began and remember what ground lies in the direction to which it tends. Then follow, moving more slowly and carefully. Come to a steep mountain side, sheering to the sycamore fringed river. Do not dare to go directly down. Sidle quickly off on a better grade and then, having circled over a swift, breathless half mile, work back to where the trail should meet the river meadow. Take care. Drop at full length, a little cautious because of the haste. There they are, strutting forth from the undergrowth by the stream after washing down the chestnut breakfast with cold, clear mountain water. They come up 663 Washington Street the hill toward you, and you lie like a stricken man, with your rifle following every movement of a great black gobbler, father of the flock, though he is still 300 yards away. • Motherly, mild mannered hens and young gobblers are in his train, sipping dewdrops from the grass, picking at ragweed, chasing a grasshopper with half open wings or ruffling into make believe combats. Every one of us has something for which to give thanks today. Now begin and analyze our possessions and see if the blessings do not outweigh the miseries. If we have health, we should rejoice; that is a rare gift that cannot be too warmly appreciated. If a dear one who has been at death's door is restored to us, that is another cause for stored to us, that is another cause for jubilation. Even if we are pressed hard

And the rafters ring above,
And the angels sing at the gates of God financially, there are compensating sides to that situation. Nothing is so bad but it could be worse, and though we may not feel privileged to shout over a positive good we can be happy in the fact that it is not a positive evil. Every one of us has the power to make sunshine in our own and in the lives of others. Burdens there are to bear for every pair of shoulders, but in helping others, in self sacrifice, in a desire to be sweet, womanly and lovable, our own trials slip away and when Thanksgiving day comes around we can, with a joyous heart, declare that we have much to be grateful for. All holidays have their sorrowful side; they are reminiscent of other occasions when the family in perfect, unbroken numbers sat around the table and reveled in the spirit of the occasion. Now they are scattered here and there. Death, perhaps, has claimed some, and the feast of today is but a mere shadow of the functions of other seasons long gone by. But if you are left entirely alone and are obliged to sit down to your solitary meal with no companions save your own thoughts, you still have cause for thankfulness, and you will find it if you only make it your business to look for it instead of moping and what is only made werse by brood- flower in Plymouth harbor—and Chap ing upon. The Isolation of a Child.

I once knew a dear little mother, With a beautiful, blue eyed boy. She constantly bathed and brushed him, And when he had tired of a toy She would take it and scald it and scrape it And lay it away in the sun,

And that is the way she took care of His playthings, every one. Pent up in his own little playhouse, The baby grew peaked and pale, And there were the neighbors' children All dirty and happy and hale.

If the baby went out for an airing,
The nurse was to understand
That none of the neighbors' children Was ever to touch his hand.

But they did, and the injured mother Brought the dear baby inside And shut him up in his playhouse, Where the little one fretted and died. Then the torn heart turned to the Virgin, And this was the weight of her prayer: 'Oh, mouner, dear, don't let him play with

The Right Must Win. Oh, it is hard to work for God. To rise and take his part Upon this battlefield of earth, And not sometimes lose heart!

He hides himself so wondrously, As though there were no God. He is least seen when all the powers Of ill are most abroad, Or he deserts us at the hour

The fight is all but lost And seems to leave us to ourselves Just when we need him most. Ill masters good; good seems to change To ill with greatest ease,

And, worst of all, the good with good

Ah, God is other than we think! His ways are far above, Far beyond, reason's height and reached Only by childlike love.

Is at cross purposes.

Workman of God, oh, lose not heart! But learn what God is like, And in the darkest battlefield Thou shalt know where to strike.

Thrice blest is he to whom is given The instinct that can tell That God is on the field when he Is most invisible.

Where real right doth lie And dares to take the side that seems Wrong to man's blindfold eye.

For right is right since God is God, And right the day must win. To doubt would be disloyalty. To falter would be sin.

LATEST CARD GAME.

FROM OUT OF THE WEST HAS COME SOLO.

Washington Folk Are Its Devotees-Puts Poker In the Shade-A Contribution of Gayety of Nations.

A new game of cards has come out of the west. It is a rapid, dashing game, giving to its devotees a good run for their money. Wherever it has been introduced in the east it has caught the lovers of cards. Even poker, with its fascinating jack pots and the mysteries of the draw, becomes insipid after one has tasted the delirious joys of solo, as the western stranger is known. And, as euchre, their existence is forgotten.

A fierce "catthroat" game is solo. of the Dakotas, Montana, Washington and Idaho were admitted into the Union and may fairly be termed the contribution of this new brood of communities to the gayety of nations.

What is solo? It is a card game played being thrown out. The cards rank as follows: Ace, ten, king, queen, jack, nine, eight, seven and six. The suits are corner of Phipps street. As Dunn had pent about $3 at the house, the officers elt sure that they had the right man, nd without waiting longer took him back to Natick and locked him up. The officers went to Dover Sunday morning and arrested Ned Powers at a farm where he is employed. Both men delared that they knew nothing of the robbery, although Dunn was unable t give a clear account as to the manner in which he had obtained the money which was found on him.

MURDEROUS SAILOR

Decame Suddenly Insane and Slashed His Shipmates Before Dying.

Boston, Nov. 22.-Manual Genoario sailor on the fishing schooner Two Forty of Gloucester, lying at T wharf, vent crazy Saturday night and ran muck with a sharp knife, attacking shipmates and badly wounding them ile they were lying in their bunks. ario was afterwards found dead ipon the floor of the cabin, his throat cut and his knife in his hand. Howard Spanks and Joseph Hay were irst attacked in the most savage manner y the crazy man, Spanks being slashed n the left shoulder and right foot, and Hay having his left arm nearly severed. The madman then went into the cabin aft and attacked the other sleeping men, but the injuries inflicted were not so severe. Joseph Hudson was wounded wice in the right hand and Frank Gill was cut on the right side of his neck, als breast, left foot, and twice on the left hand.

The cries of the wounded men and the noise made by the crazy sailor awakened Captain Silva, who at once rushed on deck and cried for help. Genoario had tvidently tried to reach the captain, for he former's body was found in Silva's

> Judge Nelson Dead. Worcester, Mass., Nov. 22.-Judge Thomas L. Watson of the United States district court for the district of Massachusetts, died at his residence, 17 Kendall street, in this city, at 11:30 o'clock Sunday morning, after a long illness. He was stricken with a sudden February, and at the time his physicians of Pennsylvania has the strongest team believed the end to be not far off. He was finally taken home, and to the surprise of the doctors rallied so successfully as to be able to leave his bed, and then to resume, to an extent, his active life. He went to Boston a number of times, and again took his seat upon the bench, though not to hear any cases excepting where business was briefly transacted. The old trouble returned again, and finally, a few weeks ago, he had again to confine himself to his room, and then to his bed, and he gradually grew weaker until the end came.

He leaves a widow and four children. Judge Nelson was born at Haverhill, and lucrative practice, and was especially successful in equity and bankruptcy law. Equity law was rather but recently been given this jurisdiction. He was appointed United States district judge for Massachusetts by President Hayes in 1879.

THE CRIDIRON.

Sames That Were Played by Several Teams Saturday.

New Haven, Nov. 22 .- A more disconsolate looking lot of football players than the tigers after Saturday's game ended has seldom been seen. While the Yale men, half wild with happiness over their unexpected victory, were swarming across the field to carry the victorious players from the field, the Jerseymer plodded to their dressing rooms alone They were battered and bruised; they were exhausted by the severe playing, and dazed by the defeat of which the had never dreamed. It was a hard beating for Princeton, and a contest that will not soon be forgotten. Without changing their mud-stained suits, the players were conveyed by trolley cars to their quarters at Morris cove. There was little discussion of the game among De Claim is a Frenchman. Both are ton contingent felt too gloomy to talk 50 yars old. He had been employed as and were backward about expressing either coaches or players. The Prince a carpenter and was well supplied with opinions of a contest that had proved such a disappointment to them.

The players attributed their defeat t the poor physical condition of some o them. Injuries deprived the tigers of their most reliable and needed men Without them defeat was inevitable. "Alex" Moffat, the head coach, said that Yale won a victory by hard, clear playing. It was a splendid game, and its sad ending for Princeton was due more than anything else to the injuries of their strongest players. Philadelphia, Nov. 22.-It is the opin sickness at the Parker house, his home ion of Harvard's football players and while holding court in Boston, early in on the gridiron. This conclusion was reached after a valiant struggle by the Cambridge boys to win Saturday's game They lost it by the score of 15 to 6. Harvard started the game without th services of Captain Cabot, Richardson taking his place at left end. Swain, who played against Yale at left tackle, was replaced by Wheeler; Mills and Haugh ton alternated in Donald's position a right tackle, Warren's position at right halfback was ably filled by Parker. The Harvard team, as a whole, played good football, but the Pennsylvanians played better. In Dibblee and Parker Harvard had two of the finest halfbacks, N. H., March 4, 1827, and was admitted to the bar in 1855. He acquired a large have done, the crimsons would have have done, the crimsons would have been more dangerous for Pennsylvania On the ends the Cambridge men showed none of the slowness in getting down the new, the Massachusetts court having field which characterized the play against Yale. Both teams were guilty of bac fumbling. Two of Pennsylvania's fumbles cost them the loss of two touch downs. Harvard's fumbles were mor numerous, but less disastrous. Big Fire In Australia Melbourne, Nov. 22.—A great fire broke out here Sunday morning, and in a very short space of time did enormous damage. It started at the warehouse o city. A strong wind was blowing, and the fiercely fanned flames engulfed building after building. Despite the desperate efforts of the firemen, the en tire block bounded by Elizabeth, Flin ders and Swanston streets and Flinder ings on the Swanston street front, wer lestroved within three hours.

The burned section included many of the largest business houses in Mel bourne. The buildings were completed gutted. As most of them containe soft goods, the flames progressed with a rapidity which defled checking, and in the furious wind ashes and burning debris were carried into the suburbs a distance of two miles. It is estimated that the loss will be £1,000,000, while the trade in soft goods has received a se rious set back. Hundreds of employes of all sorts have been thrown out of em ployment.

A Notable Gathering Pittsburg, Nov. 22.-Pittsburg, per haps, has never been the scene of a more notable religious gathering than the Methodist Episcopal church congress which began a six days' session at Christ church Sunday. In conception, purpose and treatment, it is unique in ecclesastical annals, and marks an epoch in religious history.

The call for the congress says: "The ongress does not propose to invite or favor destructive criticism of existing institutions; but simply to bring out from persons representing different phases of intellectual activity a frank expression as to whether the church can meet any more fully than it does the democracy of our times; and if so where in its activities may be modified or directed to advantage. The congress will not concern itself with questions of church policy, but with issues bearing upon the relation of the church to the thought and life of the people as affected by current scientific and literary teaching."

French vs. Porter.

Some opposition is heard from time to time against the Quincy school system, and extravagance has been alleged. There has been an idea of late that the School Committee was composed of too many professional men, and that more business men should be elected. But now there is an effort to oust about the only business man on the board, ex-Mayor Porter, the chairman. His rival has the Democratic nomination, and nearly who they should support, and it is captured the Republican caucus. Had Mr. French secured both nominations. however, he might have received a Hall, and that the remaining two, exgreater surprise on election day. What Mayor Fairbanks and R. R. Freeman qualifications has Mr. French for so important a position? He is not a business man or a taxpayer. He has no employment, and nothing to interest him in the schools. He has taught some, but he has never held : permanent position. Aside from all this, however, it would be a mistake to drop Mr. Porter from the School Committee. Few gentlemen in the city are so well qualified for membership on the board, and there should be no politics in it. The conservative voters regardless of party doubtless recognize this and we predict the Sears the informal ballot will not be far triumphant reelection of Mr. Porter.

Convention Must Decide Which It Shall Be.

Possible.

Wards Three and Four Thought to Have the Key.

The one question that is uppermost Mayor at the Republican convention tonight? Some say Sears, some Hall, but a larger number say they give it up. Inless all signs fail there will be a hot ontest at the convention.

Immediately after the caucuses, when it was found that Lawyer Sears had carried Wards One and Two, there was a general feeling that he came pretty near having a clinch on the nomination, as it was claimed that nim. These three wards gave him 21 out of the necessary 23 votes to win. and it was believed that he could draw two votes from Wards Five or Six.

There seems, however, to have been ago was frequently seen about City ome change in the political atmosphere, for the talk now is that it is not at all certain that Ward Four will support Mr. Sears.

The Ward Three delegation is oledged for Mr. Bigelow, and on the first ballot he will probably receive the ten votes from that ward but whether they will stand by him for more than the first ballot is doubtful. Just who they will support when Mr. Bigelow is out of the race is a question. Certain t is, however, that this delegation is not unanimous for a second choice.

The delegations from Wards Five and Six are without doubt against Sears, but possible not to a man. It is quite evident that Ward Five will support Mr. Hall. The delegates from Ward Five have held a meeting to see understood that when it came to a vote that seven of the nine delegates favored remained silent.

It has been understood that the five lelegates from Ward Six have a leaning oward Hall, but aside from that there s a rumor that they have a little boon of their own, and that they will place ex-Mayor Fairbanks in nomination.

This however is only a rumor, and for it will be known tonight, but until that has assumed definite shape they are being counted as favoring Hall.

If we allow that Ward 4 will support from the following:

Russell A. Sears, John O. Hall, 14 John P. Bigelow,

It is hard to see how the first forma ballot will differ materially, unless Mr. Bigelow withdraws, when it is quite certain that two of the delegations will favor Mr. Sears, which wou'd give him the necessary 23 votes.

There is also a possibility, if after several ballots none of the gentlemen now mentioned as candidates receive the know how to do in a twinkling. Henry L. the nomination, that the delegates will compromise and nominate some dark

> There has been some talk that the friends of Mr. Sears would take advanage of the new law and call for a ballot by roll call, in which case a plurality vote would nominate, but Mr. Sears will not give his consent to this method. He has used no underhand means thus far in the campaign and says that he is willing to abide by the decision of the convention, rather than take advantage of a law that will probably be repealed by the next Legislature. Some missionary work will doubtless e done between now and the hour of he convention tonight, which may bring about a unanimous convention.

One night last week a hen thief visited Wollaston Park just after dark and stole four young roosters from Mr. George C. Stebbins of Broomfield treet. He then went to Mr. H. A. The thief evidently saw Mrs. Newman watching him from a window for he vanished into the darkness. Investigation showed that the had removed the door which was found lying on the ground. About fifteen minutes later Mr. O. B Saunders who lives just off Rawson road in Norfolk Downs lost two fowls from his coop, one being a handsome large white rooster,

None did more to blaze the way for American civilization than the brave He has been married three times and and devoted New England minister. The stamp of his character and influence is upon our institution yet. His prominence in public affairs was partly W. Feltis, was accidentally drowned due to the Puritan idea of governmnt tour before Christmas. They were last which made the church the head of the state. But he held a commanding position also by reason of his education and natural fitness. Generally he was a man of forceful character, of eminent ability and vastly superior to Ward Four while unpledged favored five great-grandchildren. His wife died the masses in learning and culture

They urged on the blind and unthinking multitude and personally led unholy crusade which resulted in the death of many innocen people. But the belief in witchcraft was well nigh universal then, and was "but the common madness of the

It is not wonderful, perhaps, that inder the circumstances in which the Puritans were placed, without papers er books, surrounded by an untamed wilderness and hostile Indians, this delusion should spread like a contagiou disease. But the clergy were educated men and should have restrained it. And had it not been for their terrible theological beliefs, and their taking ment as their guide, they would undoubtedly have done so.

But on the other side we must no overlook their influence for good. They were lovers of education, they built schools and colleges, they trained occupied the pulpit in the morning and young men in their families for the delivered in his happy manner a ministry and they helped to frame a sermon appropriate to Thanksgiving strong civil government for their day and ours. Too Old to Fool.

There is a bright little fellow about our years old living at the Park near the Massachusetts Fields school who s very fond of apples. We will call him Charlie. Well, Charlie, not long ince, had eaten as many apples as his more. He thought of another way to late home. get one, and just before dinner he slipped into the pantry where he knew the apples were kept, and put one into his little cap, and left cap and apple there, intending to take them after dinner when he would go out to play. His scheme would probably have worked as intended had not his treacherous memory stepped in and laid bare the plot so fondly hoped

After dinner was over he began look ing for his cap He had completely forgotten where he left it. His mother noticed his uneasiness and found he was trying to locate the missing head covering which was so innocently playng the part of a conspirator. Sh entered into the search much against his protest. She found the cap, however, and also the apple. Charlie's mother looked at him for a moment utterly astonished, gave him a gentle admonition, and finally said, "You ean't fool your mamma that way. Charlie smiled and said, "No mamma, you ditten too ole ar me to fool,' Charlie got the apple and went off to

He led an excessively gay life while in New York, according to his own story, and was A meeting of those interested in the full-fledged sport. Though the re No-license movement in Quincy was cipient of a good-sized salary, he found it none too large to meet the demands made upon it by the pace which he had

In the course of his reckless experience he became adicted to the use of absinthe, and to his indulgence in this drug he attributes almost entirely the unfortunate position in which he is nov placed. Eckland came to Lynn six weeks ago When he left Brooklyn he did so unknown to his family or friends, but was determined to try and lead a better life, if possible, and proposed, when he quered his thirst for liquor return once more to his home, never again to bring sorrow or remorse to the hearts of his wife and parents.

His reason for leaving Brooklyn was to get away from evil associations in that city, and to surround himself with new acquaintances and healthier influences, in a noble effort to regain his old place in the estimation of his friends. He tried hard to get remunerative employment, but failed. While there was hope of securing a situation he felt strong enough to resist the temptation to return to his Brooklyn habits, but when the future seemed dark and the chances of employment remote, he became melancholy, and several times contemplated suicide as the easiest way out of his troubles.

"I was too proud to ask for assistance I could have secured money from home he, "but my pride would not allow it Though the temptation to commit suicide was strong in my mind, my religious conviction that suicide was a sin In the candle pin series, four games kept me from it, and I continued to bear walked the streets of Lynn many nights rather than impose upon friends for a night's lodging, and I am utterly at a hunger and have refused, even under those circumstances, the invitations of friends to dine with them, knowing that I could not reciprocate."

"We must fight shoulder to shoulder against a common danger, and arm ourselves for the struggle with all the means at our disposal. Just as the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries were absorbed by religious wars, just as the eighteenth century was marked by the triumph of liberal ideas, and just as the nineteenth century has been notable for the appearance of great questions of nationality, so will the twentieth century be for Europe a period marked by a struggle for existence in the politico-commercial sphere. European nations must close ranks in order successfully to defend their existence. May this be realized everywhere, and may the epoch of peaceful development we now confidently anticipates be employed in collecting our strength and devoting ourselves chiefly to this end."

Episodes of Cuban Life.

Havena, Nov. 22.-About 70 of the recent inmates of the Matanzas jail have been stricken down with what is supposed to be beri-beri. The Havana specialists have been sent to diagnose the disease, and the sick persons have been transferred to more healthful quarters where they will be provided with medicine and nourishment, while other steps have been taken to avoid an increase of the epidemic. Captain General Bianco has called for a public subsc. iption on behalf of the afflicted person and has himself subscribed $100.

Horrible episodes are daily occurrences among the reconcentradoes. Prominent Physician Accused of Killing His Wife.

Was Arrested on the Disclosures of an Analysis.

Ossipee Center, N. H., Nov. 23 .- As the result of the report of the chemist who for two months has been examining the stomach of Mrs. John R. Hatch, whose death occurred here on Sept. 11 under suspicious circumstances, the police last night arrested Dr. Hatch, the husband of the woman, on the charge of murder. The arrest caused a tremendous sensation, especially as Dr. Hatch is very explanation of his wife's death as that of suicide by taking laudanum would be confirmed by the autopsy.

The long delay of the chemist, Dr. Angel of Derry, in making his report was also thought favorable to Dr. Hatch's dence points directly to the contrary. An hour after receiving Dr. Angel's report the unfortunate man had been taken into custody and charged with causing

The doctor's story of the death of his wife, which he related to the police at the time, was substantially that after returning home on the night of Sept. 11 he found Mrs. Hatch lying in an unconscious condition on the bed, fully dressed, with an empty laudanum bottle by her side. He at once used the stomach pump, but as he failed to obtain relatter did not arrive in time to render additional assistance, and Mrs. Hatch died shortly afterwards.

Hatch earlier in the day in an apparenty good state of health were greatly shocked at her death, and as there were numerous stories of domestic troubles in the Hatch family an investigation was urged and obtained. Dr. Hatch, however, was not detained, but under the direction of the coroner an autopsy was made and the stomach of the unfortunate voman afterwards sent to Dr. Angel. end his life, there were few of his friends | their places. here who believed that he was guilty of

Good Afternoon

If there were any doubt as to the place which Russell A. Sears held in the hearts of the citizens, there can be no doubt after his hearty endorsement last night, not only by the delegates. but from the large number who were interested in the nomination, and attended the convention. Nothing could have been more harmonious than the entire convention, where many, of the wards had "favorite sons" at the start It is an omen of good for the Republican party, which is in a large majority in this city, but has been estranged for three or four years. The leaders in he different words have assured Car didate Sears that he will receive the hearty support of their section, and this certainly means an election.

City Auditor Hall certainly did the graceful thing in endorsing as he did the nomination of Russell A. Mr. Wilde's vote in the Republican convention was very complimentary to the ex-councilman, and was entirely unsolicited by him. We are informed by the gentleman himself that it was given to him very much against his wishes and judgment, and that he endeavored to prevent it, from the time he heard his name mentioned at 6 P. M up to the hour of the convention. Roger is modest, but he is of Mayoralty stock, and is sure, some day, to sit in the executive chair.

THE COMPETITOR CREW

Freedom After Nineteen Months of Confinement In Cuba.

Alleged Hero Betrays Two Cowardly Generals.

Men Have Little to Complain of on the Score of Their Treatment.

New York, Nov. 23 .- Alfrado Laborde of New Orleans, Ona Melton of Kansas, William Leavitt of Bangor, Me., William Giles, a native of England, but a naturalized citizen of the United States, and Charles Barnett, a British subject the master and members of the crew of the Competitor, who were released last week from prison in Cuba, arrived here Monday evening on the Saratoga from Havana. Although in a deplorable condition on account of their confinement in a filthy and unhealthy Spanish dungeon for 19 months and expecting daily during the whole of that time to be taken out and shot as filibusters, the five men were very happy when they landed here. The men wore the same clothes which they had on at the time of their capture on April 25, 1896, at Ber-

Another equally happy passenger was Julio Quesada, the young Cuban in-surgent who was ordered to be shot by Weyler, but was pardoned by General Blanco, a frie d of the prisoner's father, who, before the latter's death in Mexico, had for years been a professor in the Havana college. The six men were greeted upon their arrival by an enthusiastic crowd, who gave them a hearty welcome. The poor wretches were too weak to respond to the cheers given in their honor. Captain Laborde's brother vas one of these assembled on the dock. The scene was a touching one. The friends of the others cried with joy as hey grasped the hands of the released es pallid and their forms emaciated. were also present, and they added their reeting to the men who had risked their lives for the cause of "Cuba libre."

This is the story which young Quesada old concerning his release. It will not clease his Cuban friends, who considered im to be amartyr for freedom. "While a member of the army corps in the Pinar del Rio district I became possessed of nformation to the knowledge of which think I owe the saving of my life. Last March I wandered about half a mile away from our hospital tent, when a detachment of the infantry battalion captured me. The noise made by my struggle to free myself aroused my 12 ompanions, and they rushed to my as During the fight that folwed my friends were beaten and one of them was killed. After the conflict was over I was bound and beaten unmercifully. I was told that if I would confess where my comrades had their dynamite stored they would stop beat. ing me. This I declined to do and, seeing they could not force a confession

"It was at this functure that my knowledge stood me in good stead. Two rominent Spanish generals, one a brigadier general whose name I do not care to mention, and General Arolas principally concerned themselves in my re-They, feared me because they new I had disclosures to make which would ruin them. They thought that f I had to die I would tell what I knew. These men are either base cowards, or desire to hold their positions overcame their scruples. They were in constant communication with the Cuban nsurgent generals, having written leters to them which I saw, in which they stated that they wanted to make arrangements by which Spanish soldiers would not be attacked in the districts ontrolled by them. In return the inurgents were to have free access to the holy trocha and be permitted to pass at This proposition was accepted. and in this way we were able to keep in onstant communication with Gomez Maceo and Garcia. We had about 5000 men under the command of General Yunez, while the Spaniards had between 10,000 and 50,000, yet we were well able to cope with them."

In describing his capture and subseuent treatment, Melton said that when the first shot was fired by the Spanish gunboat he and two of his companions tried to escape in a small boat. They were pursued and captured a short distance from the shore. On board the gunboat they were cruelly bound with ropes and prodded with sharp pointed sticks which punctured their flesh. They vere afterwards thrown into a cell and fed but once a day. After the first six days the prisoners were permitted to see Consul Williams and were fed twice a day, but just what sort of food it was Melton is unable to say. It barely supported life. Next Melton told of the farcical court-martial which ended in the sentence of death.

"I never expected to be here," he remarked. Melton said that after the respite he and his companions were placed in a large cell containing 40 other pris eners, both political and criminal, in the Cabanas fortress, and there he remained in fear, expecting each day to be his last on earth. Last Thursday afternoon he was taken out of the dungeon, as he supposed to be shot, but in the corridor he met Consul General Lee, who; to Melton's surprise, informed him that all of the Competitor prisoners had been pardoned. Then he and his comrades were placed on board the Saratoga. When arrested Melton weighed 165 pounds, but now he only weighs 100. He will remain here for about a week, and will then return to his home. Captain Laborde, when speaking of his prison life, said: "The stories of cruelties in Spanish prisons are utterly unfounded. The jailers were as kind as could be expected, and Mathew Fernandez, the warden of Cabanas, was es pecially kind and considerate, so much so that we called him 'father.' Why we knew more about what was going on than you did. How did we learn? Well. I can't tell that, as it might hurt those we left behind. Yes. American gold Office, 4 Chestnut St., Quincy, Mass went a great way. I got a little money from time to time, and the guards, who did not receive any pay while I was there, were always grateful for anything I gave them, and amply paid for what they got. Captain Laborde had two strokes of paralysis while in prison, and was af terwards removed to the Havana city jail, which is not run as strictly as the Cabanas. He will petition this government to bring a heavy suit for damages against Spain. He will remain here for some time.

surprised to learn that he had secured his release by giving away a secret which betrayed the allies of the insurgents in the Spanish army. is the weapon with which she conquers her world. Almost every woman believes that she possesses at least some one attractive feature and strives to make the most of that.
But mere regularity of feature is not the most attractive form of beauty.
Mankind is more influenced by the bright glowing vitality of perfect health. A classic cast of countenance will not make a woman attractive and captivating, if she is pale, thin, weak and nervous, or has a pimply where I was tried and sentenced to be shot.

to attacks of croup. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack saved his little boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros. of that place; and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and skilled physicians ready to respond to his call, but se-lected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cures of croup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by A. G. Durgin.

Good Afternoon.

The candidate of the Democrats for Mayor needs no introduction to majority of Quincy people, as he occupied the executive chair in 1894 and 1895, and was prominent in town affairs before Quincy became a city. He will for the sixth time be the candidate of the party, having run unsucessfully in 1888, 1891 and 1892. sound the keynote of his campaign, was nominated by acclamation. but this can well be done in a letter of

The Democratic ticket for Council- chair. men-at-large has the appearance of being a strong one, most of the candidates being popular with the voters, but some of them have been defeated in the past, and the Republican majority against them is a big one. While the Republican candidates are not as prominent perhaps in public life credentials. This committee was Upon motion it was voted to appoint they all have the respect of the people, made up as follows Fred F. Green, D. a committee of one from each ward to and being selected from all the wards J. Ford, D. F. Ford, T. F. Cain, W. outside of the home of the Mayoralty candidate they are better calculated to please all the voters. On the Democratic ticket neither Wards Five or Six have a candidate at large, while Ward One not only has the Mayoralty candidate but two of the five members at large.

Perhaps the greatest surprise of the Democratic convention, even to most of the delegates, was the nomination of Luther S. Anderson for Councilman -at-large. The Republicans of Ward One made a mistake in dropping so staunch a Republican, but Mr. Anderson himself went half way last year in accepting a nomination from the Democrats as well as the Republicans. Mr. Anderson is said to be anxious for a reelection that he may be a candidate for the presidency, but as he must displace a Republican to be elected he can hardly expect to have the support of the regular party nominees.

In renominating Dr. Hallowell for School Committee at large the Demo crats have probably named the sucess ful candidate. Nothing derogatory to the Republican candidate is heard. and the only criticism of Dr. Hallowell is that he is a Democrat. When first mentioned for the school board three years ago the doctor was unwilling to make a political contest for it, but he was nominated by both parties and elected. His inclination at this time may be to withdraw, unless he can be assured of a substantial support by Republicans as well as Democrats This he will undoubtedly receive.

The communication on the school board received for yesterday's Ledger has been withdrawn by the writer. It was a criticism on the Ledger's stand favoring ex-Mayor Porter for the School Committee in preference to Mr. French. The Ledger still maintains that there is no good reason why Mr. Porter should be dropped from the School Committee, and that there are many why the tative members in a nomination speech Democratic candidate should not be favoring experienced men, had made elected. It is reported that members a nomination that would meet the of the Republican committee signed crushing rebuke it deserved. We Mr. French's paper. University Extension Lectures.

A series of lectures under the head of "practical economics" that are being held at the Every Day church, Boston, are attracting wide attention. Mr. Alexander S. Fryer of this city gave a very interesting address on past, for the restoration and recovery "Fiat Money vs. Commodity Money," from dangerous sickness of members last Saturday evening. The lecture room was crowded and it was an enthusiastic audience. After speaking 35 weep, in many others we had cause of minutes Dr. Perrin announced that Mr. Fryer would answer any question that the audience would like to ask and they came in thick and fast from gold men and socialists present. But Mr. Fryer proved a match for them all and was the recipient of many congratulations at the close.

LOSING ITS SUPREMACY

Great Britain Suffering Through Foreign Competition.

Member of Cabinet Sounds a Cry of Warning.

Tells What the Causes Are For the Marked Effect on Trade.

London, Nov. 24.-Charles T. Ritchie, president of the board of trade, made an important speech before the chamber of ing as his theme the decline of British exports during the last 10 months, upon which he hung a grave warning against American competition now "ousting British trade." Mr. Ritchie, after declaring that the Dingley tariff and the engineering trade dispute were mainly responsible for the recent decline of exports, and after pointing out that England had no weapons against the tariff, said there was a great deal of talk in commercial circles about the serious competition of Germany, but he thought 10c. lb., 3 lbs. 25c. they were too apt to overlook a much $1.10 | serious competitor-the United States.

10c. lb.

10c. lb., 3 lbs for 25c

"The facts are serious," he continued, our powers to enable us to maintain our position in the commercial world. There is no doubt the United States are executing orders which ought to be executed here. As we all know, an American firm obtained the contract for the central underground railway of London, as its bid was lower than those of the English concerns, and it could deliver the supplies three months ahead of the British tenders. Many important continental orders have gone to America. The same is to be said of Egypt and Japan, where the Americans are doing work that Englishmen should have done. In consequence of the engineering dispute many orders are leaving the ountry and, unfortunately, these orers seldom return.

"America's successful competition is due to her enterprise in embarking capital, but it is yet more due to the freedom her manufacturers enjoy of employing the best machinery and workuntrammelled by the restrictions which have hampered manufacturers here at heart must hope that the conference will lead to a settlement of the unfortunate éngineering dispute."

Good Administration.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 24.-St. Clair Mc Kelway, editor of the Brooklyn Eagle, was the principal guest and speaker at a banquet given by the Liberal club ast night. There were about 200 pres-Mr. McKelway spoke on the sub ect of "Municipal Methods and Morals." He said among other things: "As mer on religious subjects will think of them on denominational lines, so will men of public subjects think of them on po litical lines. The thing to do is to exalt and to exploit municipal issues in municipal times, and to call that municipal politics. That done, let men ! as partisan as they please, if, by so being, human nature or, if you please, humar prejudices, can be put to the service of good government. But, you may say what has the politics of a man to do with his fitness for municipal functions Granted that it has nothing to do with that fitness. Still does not that propo sition work both ways? What we want s good administration. How much or how little matters it to you and me i we get good public administration through uniform political instrumentalities or through mixed political instrumentalities?

BYNUM REJOICES.

Late Elections.

New York, Nov. 24.-W. D. Bynum, chairman of the national Democratic committee, has issued an address, in which he says: "The results of the recent elections were in no wise discouraging to the success of the principles for which the national Democratic party has been battling. The silver organization lost the states of Ohio and Maryland with the legislatures, which will thoose United States senators. In Kentucky the silver candidate had a majority of only 123, with 80,000 electors, a majority of which were unquestionably for sound money, not voting. The national Democratic vote of the state was twice as large as it was last year, while the loss in the free silver was 40,000.

"In Iowa the Democratic sound money vote was doubled; notwithstanding the silver candidates abandoned that issue commerce of Creydon yesterday, tak- and pleaded for support on state matters. The sound money vote in both Kentucky and Iowa would undoubtedly have been much larger had it not been for the fact that the names of all the local candidates for county offices appeared on the ballots, under the free silver state tickts and emblems, thereby compelling sound money electors to scratch their tickets, or vote the free silver state ticket. in order to vote for local officers. In Massachuset our vote was increased 5 per cent, while that of the free silver andidate was reduced in the same ratio. In Nebraska the free silver majority was reduced, while South Dakota deserted the cause.

"The efforts of the national Demoratic organization last year were to aid in saving the credit of the nation from dishonor; its mission in the future will be, if possible, to preserve the true prin iples of Democracy until judgment and eason shall again dominate the councils of the party and its ancient creed be restored to its platform. Then, not Democratic party be accomplished and its organization cease to be an independent one. The firmer the convictions and the bolder the courage of national Democrats the sooner will the country be freed from the blighting influence of mpending disaster. 'No compromise with dishonor; no surrender of principle; no expediency,' is the shibboleth of the national Democracy, and each and every member of the party should stand by his convictions and redouble his efforts to uphold the principles he believes to be indispensable to the preservation of the rights and properties of the people."

WEYLER'S CREETING.

Head of the National Democrats Reviews the Absence of Marked Incident From the Reception at Barcelona.

Barcelona, Nov. 24.-The Spanish steamer Montserrat, with General Weyler on board, arrived here Tuesday, and the former captain general of Cuba immediately debarked. The demonstration in his honor, which had been agitated by the friends of the general for some days past, did not assume the proportions anticipated, and as he traversed the streets to the house of Deputy loladrigas, the public appeared to be Subsequently a crowd indifferent. gathered, and after cheering General Weyler until he appeared on the balcony, the former commander of the Spanish forces in Cuba cried: "Long live the king, Spanish Cuba and national labor." Addressing an industrial deputation which waited upon him later, General Weyler said he had always been a protectionist and was resolved to defend the cause of national production. "I have never been a politician, but I am simply a Spanish soldier. During my stay in Cuba I did my utmost to improve the lot of the soldier, and now I shall devote myself to improving the lot of the working man." Addressing a number of his friends, he expressed great regret at his recall from Cuba, adding that he was particularly annoyed at the attitude of certain and were held in $2000 bail for trial at the newspapers which declared he favored next term of the court. the insurgents. Concluding, the general remarked: "Spanish soldiers however, have the same contempt for these papers as they have for filibusters.' Referring to the concentration of the Cuban peasants near the towns of that sland, the general explained that he deemed such a step necessary because they were "spies and the most devoted friends of the enemy." In regard to autonomy the former captain genera remarked: "Autonomy in Cuba would be most unfortunate for national industry. The riches of Cuba are Spanish, and autonomy means the disappearance f Spanish workmen, the riches of the sland, labor there and complete misery hroughout the island. There is as ended years ago in the profesnuch reason for Catalonia, the Balearic islands and the other provinces to ask for autonomy as Cuba."

In a subsequent speech he accused the cation United States of "desiring to seize Cuban ommerce by hunting Spaniards, who would die of starvation." He declared, amid applause, "that he would never cease to defend Spanish interests in the Thorn on the Rack Again. New York, Nov. 24.-The second trial of Martin Thorn for the murder of William Guldensuppe was fairly started Tuesday in the Queens county court be-fore Justice Maddox. When an adjournment was taken Monday, seven jurors had been sworn. The other five rors were selected at about noon yeserday. Both sides are satisfied.

After a recess District Attorne Youngs opened the case for the prosecution. In a comprehensive manner he placed the entire case of the people against Thorn before the court and jury, and promised to prove everything that was charged in the indictment. He spoke for 30 minutes, and as soon as he had finished the taking of evidence was begun. Nothing new was intro-

Today the coroner and his deputy were called to the stand, and it is quite prob able that Clark, Gotha and others who say that Thorn made confessions to them may be examined before the day ends. Mrs. Nack may also be called. When the district attorney was asked whether there was any significance in the fact that he had not spoken of Mrs Nack as a witness in his opening address, and if she would or would not be a witness during the second trial, Mr Youngs replied: "I cannot answer these questions at this stage."

Confessed to a Murder. Houston, Tex., Nov. 24.—A special from Morgan says: In March last Joseph E Blanther, alias Forbes, committed suicide in the Meridian jail in this county where he had been locked up on the charge of murdering Mrs. Langfelt. Ir the jail Blanther got on friendly terms with a prisoner named Pitts, who now lives near Iredell. In a letter to attorneys at Meridian, Pitts encloses a letter from Blanther, and says Blanthe put it in the pocket of Pitts' coat. The paper worked through a hole in the pocket, Pitts asserts, and he has just American Citizen Condemned. Cincinnati, Nov. 24.-Application has been made to the probate court for the naturalization papers of J. G. De Poralta, now under sentence of death in Havana Poralta was captured with a party of Cuban insurgents near Havana three weeks ago. The Cubans were shot, but Poralta was given until Dec. 5 to prove his citizenship in the United States. His papers were destroyed in the courthouse fire, but there is ample evidence to enable the court to send to Secretary Sherman proof of his citizenship. It is said Poralta has a heavy claim against the Spanish government for property destroyed in Cuba.

"The worst cold I ever had in my life was cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy,'' writes W. H. Norton, of Sutter Creek, Cal. "This cold left me with a cough and I was expectorating all the time. ### THANKSGIVING.

Union Services at First Church and Wollaston.

Nearly 200 citizens of all denominations assembled on the morning of Thanksgiving day at the First church to acknowledge their obligations as a people to Him who has so graciously granted us the blessings of a free government and material prosperity. It was a union service held by the Protestant ministers of Wards One, Two and Three. In the pulpit were Revs. Butler, Hardy, Breed, Preble, Dornan and Peach, who took part in the service, while in the congregation were Revs. Turk, Parker, Norton, Yeoman and possible other clergymen.

The service opened with a Thanks giving hymn, "Oh, Sing Unto God," read by Rev. E. N. Hardy of Bethany Congregational church.

The Thanksgiving proclamation of Governor Wolcott was read by Rev. E. C. Butler of the First church. For the Scripture lesson Rev. Mr.

Dornan of the Presyterian church read the eight chapter of Deuteronomy. Rev. E. W. Preble of the Universa list church offered prayer.

A collection was taken as a Thanksgiving offering to the City Hospital. Hymn No. 793 "Our God Forever" was sung by the congregation.

The sermon was preached by Rev. Walter Russell Breed of Christ church. who took his text from 1st Kings, 8:57 -The Lord our God be with us, as he was with our fathers: let Him not leave us or forsake us." He spoke of the He outlined the early observance of The sermon in full will appear in the Ledger of Saturday.

President Will Recommend a Plan For Currency Reform.

Paper Money."

Washington, Nov. 25.-The Evening Star says: "It can be stated on the highest authority that the president is going to recommend a plan for currency reform in his message; and, further, that that part of the message was written with the co-operation of Secretary Gage. It is authoritatively stated that Secretary Gage is perfectly satisfied with the president's message in regard to financial legislation, and that it meets his entire views and support.

"Further than this, it can be stated on the same high authority, that the secretary of the treasury will submit to congress in his annual report the plan for currency reform which he submitted to day last were short of coal and water the cabinet at its meeting Oct. 29. The secretary intends to submit his report to congress almost identically as it was submitted to the cabinet, with the exception that he will make some further recommendations, but these will not materially change the plan already announced.'

I think it very doubtful whether the advocates of the change can agree upon the Estails of such legislation, and bankers will naturally hesitate to increase the issue of bank notes in sufficient quantities to take the place of the entire volume of greenbacks and treasury notes, especially in view of the fact that the redemption of bank notes must, to satisfy the demands of the currency reformers, be in gold."

St. Louis, Nov. 25.—In an address in which the national committee of the People's party is invited to a conference Jan. 12, and which contains a recommendation of a national convention the first Wednesday in April, 1898, the committee of the radical and uncompromising Populists says:

"We recommend that the platform on which the contest for 1898 and 1900 be waged should embody the following propositions: Absolute paper money, based upon every commodity and resource of the nation, a full legal tender and receivable for dues to the United | tion. Treasurer and Manager A. O. Very of the Warwick company says he cannot understand why Mr. Bannigan had the attachment put on, as no intimation of such action had been given, and the relations between him and the company were supposed to be very cordial. Mr. Very also stated that there is a prospect of a satisfactory settlement within a few days. and that the company will not be compelled to go into insolvency.

Governor Wolcott's Majority. Boston, Nov. 25 .- The executive council has issued the results of its official canvass of votes for state officers, given in the several cities and towns on the second day of November. The total vote for governor was 269,795, and Governor Wolcott's plurality was 85,543. The vote of the several candidates for governor was: Roger Wolcott, Boston (Rep.), 165,095; George Fred Williams, Dedham (Dem.), 79,552; William Everett, Quincy (Nat. Dem.), 13,879; Thomas C. Brophy, Boston (Soc. Lab.), 6301; John Bascom, Williamstown (Prob.), 4948; all others, 20.

Three of a Bad Gang. Cincinnati, Nov. 25 .- Frank, alias "Dad" Meiner, was convicted at Newport, Ky., of criminally assaulting Mrs. William Gleason Oct. 6, and sentenced to 20 years in the penitentiary. Claxon and Green have previously received the same sentence for the same offense. There are five others to be tried for this offense, and all will no doubt receive 20 years each. The defendants belong to a gang that insulted ladies, and the outrage on Mrs. Gleason was such that lynching was averted only by the transfer of the prisoners to Maysville.

Glass Workers to Go West. Pittsburg, Nov. 25.-The French and Belgian glass workers at Arnold have decided to go to the state of Washington and join Debs' social democracy. On March 1 next 84 men will leave, and about a month later the entire colony of nearly 600 persons will follow. The workmen complain that in the east the glass industry is uncertain; that they are working only about half the year and average no better wages than they made in the old country. On the western coast they think they would have a new London, Nov. 25 .- The inhabitants of this metropolis, as a result of the outcry which followed the great fire of Friday last, are much agitated in relation to the inefficiency or efficiency of the fire brigade, and the newspapers are filled with letters comparing London's system unfavorably with those in America and other countries. At meeting of the London county council the chairman of the fire brigade committee defended the organization of the Middle of the Roaders Declare For "Absolute fire brigade, claiming that it is ahead of that of New York, Montreal and other cities, adding that every appliance used by the New York department is employed by the London brigade. Extensive Manufacturer Dead.

Manchester, N. H., Nov. 25.-Aretas Blood, one of the most extensive manufacturers in New England, and one of the most wealthy men in the state, died Wednesday morning, aged 81. He had been failing noticeably for a year, but until within two weeks had retained the active management of his varied business interests. Since Monday he had been unconscious and the wonderful vitality of the man showed itself in his fight with death. His wealth is estimated at from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000.

After working in various places as a blacksmith, in 1853 Mr. Blood established the Vulcan works at Manchester, and nanufactured locomotives under the firm name of Bailey, Blood & Co. for a year. At the end of that time the company became a corporation, and was known as the Manchester locomotive works. Notwithstanding his many and varied interests, he was interested in politics and held many offices.

Heater In a Car Exploded. Louisville, Nov. 25.—Specials to The Evening Post from Morganfield and Sturgis give full particulars of the explosion of a steam heater in a coach of an Ohio valley passenger train near Dekoven. But one passenger was seriously injured. R. C. Watkins, traveling freight agent of the Illinois Central, had his leg broken and his face badly injured. C. C. Cameron, J. E. Hanson and F. A. Fischer were slightly injured; Mrs. Schamp of Hopkinsville, Ky., was badly burned; Miss Reuss of Petersburg was slightly hurt. The coach is a total wreck.

Publicly Denounced His Wife. Independence, Kan., Nov. 25 .- In the district court a divorce was granted to Rev. Willis Jordan, pastor of the Christian church at Candy, from his wife Ada Jordan. He caused a sensation Sunday by publicly denouncing his wife from the pulpit. He declared that he had been victimized by the bold adventuress with whom he had become infatuated. He said he had married her, but had since found out that she was at that time married to another man.

Pianos

For over a year we have been making a study of Pianos, getting expert opinion, impartial ideas and points of merit on the various makes.

We've talked to hundreds of makers, looked through their workshops, examined materials and sized up their workmen. We had no axe to grind, no preference to display, and but one sole object in view, that object to secure for the citizens of Quincy, a line of strictly high grade pianos of unquestioned merit and scientific construction.

The result of our labor is here, and we respectfully solic it your inspection of the famous McPhail and Jewett Pianos, a complete line of which we have placed in our

"Though Perhaps We Liked Each Other Too Well,"

What Dr. Hatch Wrote to Another Practitioner.

Decision In His Case Reserved by the Examining Justice.

Manchester, N. H., Nov. 26.-A special from Center Ossipee to the Mancheste Union announces the winding up of the preliminary hearing in the complaint against Dr. John Ralph Hatch of Centerville, who is accused of the murder of his wife on the night of Sept. 11. Justice Hobbs announced that he would give a decision Dec. 6.

Lawyer Foote made a strong argument in favor of his motion for the discharge of the doctor, while County Solicito Tasker contented himself with calling the attention of the justice to the testimony which had been put in.

The state called some eight witnesse Thursday, and the defense rested with- they were turned over to the authoriout calling a single one. The chief wit ness was Artena Wiggin, the 17-year-old waitress at the Central House, whos name had been mentioned with that o Dr. Hatch. Her testimony was con sidered to be favorable to the doctor She said that he had called at her father' home a number of times to help her in he studies, but his visits stopped because of a quarrel with her father about th seath of a cow which he had attended The doctor began to correspond con cerning her studies, and frequently had interviews with her, but she ceased to meet him when she knew more about

Letters which the doctor had sent to Miss Wiggin since the death of his wife the first one dated a little more than onmonth from that event, were offered by Agnes Wiggin, 23 years old, her sister, but they were finally ruled out after debate upon their admissibility as evidence.

The following letter from Dr. Hatch to Dr. Lougee was read in court, having been written Tuesday:

"Guilford, N. H., Nov. 23. "Dear Doctor-Will you please kindly write me a line, addressed to this place, and inform me what has been learned about the stomach and anything else which may interest me, as I am, of course, anxious to have it set right before the world. I wish you would write a short article for a newspaper stating that the rumors of foul play were without any foundation, and that there is no reason to suppose there was any unpleasantness to indicate suicide.

"I was in a position to know almost positively she never thought of doing such a thing. Another thing, doctor, as you have been so very kind to me, I would ask. You know the rumors about me and a young lady there? Let me say there never was anything wrong between us, as truly as I live. We only met and talked together as friends, though perhaps we liked each other too "That girl is as innocent as a baby.

them. Please write soon."

The Barrowmore is about 7000 tons burden, rigged with two masts, with a crew of 36 men, and laden with a miscellaneous cargo. She was advertised to leave for London, and her cargo was nearly all aboard when the flames were discovered. The fire at first was confined to a quantity of hay in bales that was being carried as fodder for the cattle that were to comprise a portion of the steamer's cargo. The hay burned stubbornly and with suffocating smoke, spreading into a mass of corn in bulky

A second alarm called the entire fire force of East Boston to the scene. The preboat was pouring 4000 gallons of water a minute into the steamer, and the outpour of the nine lines of hose caused the Barrowmore to sink until the keel touched bottom. The towboat William Sprague pumped the steamer clear of her surplus water, which had sunken her to a depth of 26 feet. The water penetrated every part of the vessel forward. The estimate of the loss is set at about $8000 by fire and water. The firemen say that the fire was started by a torch, by the light of which the coal trimmers were working, being upset and falling through an open hatchway into the hay.

Good Afternoon.

The managers of the People' Course have been overwhelmed with applications from theatrical companies and other professional entertainments for an engagement with this course. It seems that $80 to $100 which it is proposed to put into these entertainstrongest attractions which are on the boards this season. The managers theatrical managers they have had so much professional theatrical stuff pumped into them the past week.

The speech of acceptance by Candidate Sears on the night of his nomi nation has been favorably commented upon not only by those who heard it but by those who have read it in cold type and it has won votes for him. It cannot be denied that the young lawyer has ability both to discharge the business duties of the office but to repre sent the city on social occasions.

The figures of Candidate Hodges when he ran for Mayor in 1893 and 1894 are pleasing to Republicans. In 1893 his vote was 1747 and he was elected by a majority of 361 but in 1894 his vote was but 1576 and his majority was reduced to 28. Had he been the candidate in 1895 they say his small majority would have disappeared.

The appointment of Commissioner of Public Works promises to be an issue of the election as in the past. The people generally seem to be opposed to a change, and they argue that changes are detrimental. In this hanging lamp. The presentation instance the city has a very efficient speech was made by Mr. Patrick Fay, Commissioner. It is thought the chances for the reappointment of Commissioner Knowlton will be better and games were indulged in, after with the election of Mr. Sears than which a bountiful supply of refreshwith Mr. Hodges.

The Republican endorsement of Mr. French for the School Committee as filed does not contain the names of members of the Republican committee, although the first paper circulated did. It was ascertained that members of said committee could not give such endorsement, but the fact that members of said committee were and are today Patrick Fay, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick ready to throw over the regular nominee and work for the election of some one Mr. and Mrs. Leet, Messrs. Col. Lovell did not receive the largest vote or the largest plurality for Mary's hall, West Quincy, on Wednes-Councillor this year as was the case last year. In the first and sixth district the Republican candidates were unanimously elected, while in the eighth district Mr. Plunkett received a few more than Mr. Lovell did in the

Thanksgiving Entertainment

The only regret felt by the persons resent at the literary and musical enertainment at the Universalist church Thanksgiving night, was that there were not twice as many to share their enjoyment. From first to last it was excellent, and up to the standard of the highest merit. Prof. Wentworth shows not only careful study of his selections, but has also a quick and intelligent appreciation which enables ments is pretty big bait for the him to render them with delightful effect. He has a rich and well modulated voice, is easy and graceful in man-Mesrss. Rice, Crane and Whiting say ner, possesses a fine presence and that they begin to feel like veteran thoroughly understands the art of facial expression.

In "The Sleeping Car" and "A Popular Preacher "he was simply irresistable, while in "The Chariot Race" he gave a thrilling exhibition of his dramatic power. This is Prof. Wentworth's last appearance upon the platform before going to California where he has engagements for the winter.

The artistic posing of the twelve young ladies in "Sandolphon" was strikingly beautiful and seldom anything finer has been seen than the illuminated tableaux at the close of that piece. Miss Young rendered two selections on the cornet which were highly appreciated by the audience.

Owing to a defect in the organ Miss Cowie played by once. The evening was about the worst that could have been selected for the purpose, yet the attendance was quite large, and all who went were glad they did.

Surprise Party.

On Thanksgiving eve, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Austin of Penn street, were pleasantly surprised when a large number of their friends called and presented them with an elegant parlor to which Mr. and Mrs. Austin very feelingly replied. Singing, dancing, ments were served. Features of the evening's entertainment were comic songs, recitations and step dancing by Mr. Patrick Barry, given in his own happy style. After wishing Mr. and Mrs. Austin many happy returns of the day, the company dispersed at a reasonable hour.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. John Gallagher, Fay, Patrick Sullivan, Simon Bennett, Thos. Lamb, Timothy Collins, Patrick The Ledger is reminded hat Mr. Kelliher, John Houlihan, James Doug-

WAS IT LEGAL?

Time Has Expired and Demo- The Entries, Handicaps, Time Some Question Over the Nominations by the Democrats.

> The manner in which the vacancies inability or neglect of a delegate elected to attend a convention, shall be filled only by vote of the remaining members of the delegation at a meeting duly called for the purpose. Such meeting shall choose a chairman and secretary,

The Ward Four delegation, which was the first to complete its list, doubtless proceeded in due form, but it is claimed that none of the other wards, which followed, did. They certainly did not inform the convention that the vacancies were filled at a meeting duly held, and a convention has not the anthority to fill vacancies in delegations. As the convetion was composed of several not legally members, the legality of the nominations is questioned.

A "Keswick" Convention.

The "Keswick" movement that for 25 years has been a notable feature of England's religious life, is to be inaugurated in America by a "Keswick" Conventionto be held at Berkelev Temple, Boston, commencing on Monday evening, November 29, and continuing for three days.

This convention will be under the of Belfast, Ireland, one of the "Keswick" leaders in Europe; and Rev. Arthur T. Pierson, D. D., of New York, and sessions will be held at 10 30 every morning, and 3 o'clock every afternoon, and at 7.30 each evening.

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend this convention, and all churches are requested to send representatives who will report the doings of this convention to their respective churches.

Sunlight at Atlantic.

The largest sunlight party ever held in Atlanite was given in Music hall oury Social club, composed of young men of that place. This last one was the fifth of these dances given by this club and each time brings a much larger crowd to while away the hours of enjoyment. Dancing continued until 0.10 7 P. M. Robinson's orchestra furnished music for the occasion. The affair was a grand success.

AMERICAN STONE MASON'S LIFE ENDS WITH HIS JOB.

The Handiwork of Years In Mexico to Be Crowned With Death by Shooting - He Had Killed a Citizen-A Military Guard Watch Him.

He can't for the life of him finish that job. He has had seven years of labor, and, according to all ancient and modern laws, he is entitled to seven years of rest. But he doesn't want to rest. He doesn't crave a surcease of toil. He doesn't ask for a holiday. He works to live, and the only reason he is permitted to live is because he CAIDE & CO. works, because his work is necessary to the completion of a thing of beauty, which is destined to be a joy forever to the good people of San Luis Potosi and their descendants after them. When his labor is finished, his handiwork will be crowned by a volley of bullets fired straight at his heart by a file of the most expert marksmen in the Mexican

That's why he doesn't hurry. That's why the decoration of the town hall, on which millions and millions of dollars have been spent, grows so slowly. Careful computers say that this artisan will probably finish the job by the year 1960, figuring on his present and past rate of execution.

Their Photographic Samples.

A wonderful application of the perfected phonograph has recently been made by Mme. Anna Lankow, a vocal instructor of New York. She had several talented pupils anxious to secure European experience. Theodore Wangernann, a phonographic expert, supplied the delicate cylinders, and, under his direction, the pupils sang their best into the phonographic horn. Mme. Lankow took the cylinders to Berlin, where the voices were reproduced for the German managers. The experiment was so successful that engagements to sing in Germany in concert and opera were obtained for two of the pupils, based solely upon the phonographic samples.-New York Sun.

Self Warming Shoe.

Paul Wonneberger of Gruma, near Dresden, has invented a kind of heatable shoe. Within the heel, hollowed out for the purpose, is a receptacle for a glowing substance similar to that used in Japanese hand warmers. A rubber bag filled with water is imbedded in asbestos and placed between the soles. The water is heated above the heel and circulates while the wearer is walking. A small safety valve renders it impossible for the bag to burst. The warmth never rises above 70 degrees F. and will last about eight hours. The shoes are slightly heavier than those usually worn. The sole is but little thicker than that of an ordinary wet weather boot.

Two Ryans Exchanged Courtesies With Gloved Hands.

American Thomas Bested Australian James.

Cornell's Fine Showing Against Pennsylvania University Team.

Elmira, N. Y., Nov. 26.-Tommy Ryan knocked out "Australian Jim" Ryan in five rounds before the Maple Avenue Athletic club last night. The men were matched to fight 20 rounds at 154 pounds. Tommy had things his own way, and the Australian was unable to land with any effect. Ex-champion Paddy Ryan acted as referee.

The men sparred lightly for the first two rounds, Tommy following his man about the ring and contenting himself round Tommy began to force matters a little, but his man came back, and Tommy kept away from him toward the

In the fourth Tommy set the pace and got to close quarters. Two stiff left jabs on the body started the Australian, and at the close of the round he was clinching to avoid the blows.

At the opening of the fifth Jim appeared weak. He still had considerable steam in his blows, but could not land, and after every swing he clinched to avoid punishment. He hugged Tommy and refused to let go his hold when caubreak away, and the referee had to separate them. Tommy planted a left on the body and jabbed another in that same place. Jim swung wild, and Tommy swung a hard left on the neck. Jim appeared dazed and staggered back. Tommy followed him and swung his right on the point of the jaw. The Australian went down like a log. He made an effort to rise, but sank back and lay on his face while the referee counted him

After Tommy had been declared the winner Jim struggled to his feet and started toward Tommy, who stood in his corner. The referee held him back until he could collect himself.

Michael's Victory Over Starbuck.

New York, Nov. 26.-Jimmy Michael, the Welsh bicyclist, for the third time this year defeated Frank Starbuck of Philadelphia. The two racers met last night in a 25 mile contest over a carefully prepared board track in Madison Square garden, and the "rabbit" made a runaway race of it after the second mile had been completed. He won in 50 minutes 29 1-5 seconds, thus beating his own Chicago in-door record of 52:34 2-5 by 2:05 1-5. At the finish Starbuck was 30 laps behind, and as the track measured nine laps to the mile the Quaker city man was left three and onethird miles behind.

Over 16,000 persons passed through the turnstiles, and half as many more were left outside, as the house was not able to accommodate them. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed during the night and the preliminary events, which were well contested, resulted in excellent finishes.

In the one mile handicap, final, Nat Butler, "the handicap king," beat John Gougoltz, "the unpaced king" of France, by three yards, both starting from scratch, and it fell to the lot of A. E. Weinig of Buffalo, who had an allowance of 50 yards, to divide them.

Michael and Starbuck received an ovation when they came to the starting line. Then it was discovered that some miscreant had thrown a number of tacks over the track. The start was delayed for 15 minutes while the track was swept. At 10:19 the men started, and during the entire distance they were paced by tandem teams. Michael jumped off in the lead and covered the first mile in 2:04. In the second mile, owing to poor pacing, he fell back and Starbuck passed him, finishing the second mile in 4:09 1-5. At the end of the third mile, however, Michael gained one lap on his opponent, and from that time to the end of the race there was only one in it. as the little Welshman pushed his pedals so rapidly that he tired his pacemakers. He covered each mile of the 25 in excellent time, his average being 2:01 4-5. On the third mile the Welshman gained a lap on Starbuck, and he gradually increased his lead until he was a mile ahead at the twelft mile. From this to the end he drew away rapidly and at the finish ne was 30 laps to the good. In the first race of these two Michael won by 25 yards, but on the next occasion he had a more pronounced advantage owing to the inferiority of Starbuck's pacemakers. In the match at Willow Grove (Philadelphia) the result was in favor of "Star." who rode a well judged race and stamped himself as the best native crack behind pace. It was in this race that Michael received his solitary defeat since coming to this country, and he was anxious to wipe it out.

Football Kicking Thanksgiving. Providence, Nov. 26.—The game between Brown and Wesleyan resulted in on foot aiming at the control, through test attracted about 2000 people. Wesleyan was weakened behind the line by the absence of Raymond, and Brown played with four substitutes. Nevertheless the home team clearly outclassed the visitors.

Newton, Mass., Nov. 26.-Dartmouth defeated Newton by a score of 24 to 0. Dartmouth played a very scrappy game from start to finish, and had the home team off its feet throughout the entire game. The feature was a run of 100 yards for a touchdown by Eckstrom of Chicago, Nov. 26.-The university of Chicago football team defeated the university of Michigan team by the score of 21 to 12. Clarence Hershberger, the right halfback of the Chicagos, made three successful play kicks. The first one was made from the 17-yard line and the sec-ond from the 30-yard line. The third kick brought 12,000 persons to their feet. The ball at the time was not more than five yards from the side lines and 25 yards from the goal, and when Hershberger and Clark dropped back to attempt the play, Chicago supporters were and Clark placed it on the 35-yard line. An instant later the ball was sailing high in the air. It dropped squarely between the posts, and a new football record had been made.

Cincinnati, Nov. 26.-More than 5000 persons witnessed the football game between the Carlisle Indians and the team of the university of Cincinnati. The Indians won by the score of 10 to 0. The game was played in a drenching rain.

Philadelphia, Nov. 26.—The university of Pennsylvania football team defeated Cornell by the score of 4 to 0. During the first half Cornell did all the playing but in the second half Pennsylvania used their guards-back formation with terrible effect on the Cornell line. After nearly every scrimmage in which this formation was used there would be a Cornell man stretched on the grass.

New York, Nov. 26.-One of the fiercest football games of the year took place on the Orange oval in the presence of 6000 spectators. Orange won by six to four, but from the standpoint of fist and foot work Elizabeth came out ahead.

Boston, Nov. 26.-Boston college defeated Holy Cross college of Worcester at football by a score of 12 to 0. Boston gained the first touchdown after 20 with avoiding Jim's blows. In the third | minutes of play in the first half through a long run by White behind almost perfect interference, while the second touchdown was made by hard rushing by Ryan, with the "guards' back" for Beewin kicked both goals with The field was in wretched condition because of a game played in the morning, and resembled a quagmire as much as anything. Through this mass of mud, the players slid and squirmed although there was comparatively little fumbling, considering the slippery condition of the ball.

> Collegians Consider Aquatics. Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 26.—Cornell's relaclubs is quite complicated. In the first place, from their nearness of location, Cornell, Columbia and university of Pennsylvania have always found it advantageous to row together. Cornell is on very pleasant terms with these universities, and there is no doubt that there will be another triangular meet next summer. While Cornell feels that her victories last summer entitle her to admission to any American intercollegiate boat race, she is not so anxious to meet Yale that she would do so on any conditions the New Haven authorities might prescribe.

Cornell might be willing to row at New London, provided Yale and Harvard would admit Columbia and Pennsyl vania, or provided these two latter would meet Cornell in a triangular race on that course. The Cornell navy officials have, however, always objected to the New London course as being too narrow for a three-cornered contest. If Yale and Harvard would admit all three-Cornell, Columbia and Pennsylvania-to their race, then the match would be rowed in heats and only two crews would have to row together at one time. There is hardly any doubt that the Cornell graduates and undergraduates would be much pleased if a permanent arrangement could be made among the respective universities whereby this annual uncertainty would be avoided.

WOULD DIE FOR THORN

So Mrs. Nack Had Told a Police Captain When Arrested.

Also Said Guldensuppe Had Not Treated Her Right.

This Testimony Regarded Favorably by the Defense.

New York, Nov. 25 .- The third day of the second trial of Martin Thorn was an interesting one. Thorn was calm to a degree of unconcern throughout the morning session, but in the afternoon, when several tilts arose between his and the people's lawyers, he became very much interested, and frequently conferred in whispers with his counsellors, Howe and Moss. The room was packed, and the galleries on each side were mostly occupied by women.

The early part of Wednesday's prolings was entirely occupied with the taking of evidence in order to prove the corpus delicti. Coroner Tuthill, during his examination, stated that the caus death was a stab wound between the fifth and sixth ribs which penetrated the heart. Later in the day the prosecuting attorneys, through a fellow barber, con nected Thorn with the possession of a stilletto, the blade of which was ove six inches in length. District Attorney Youngs tried hard to get this witness to testify that Thorn had spoken of his re lations with Mrs. Nack and Guldensuppe, but although Mr. Youngs was tioned by the referee. Mr. Weller tried to explain what the people wished to prove, but Mr. Howe objected to the explanation being made in the preserve of the jury. Judge Maddox then left the bench and requested the legal opponents to meet him in the anteroom, where they conferred for nearly 10 minutes. When they returned to court again it was evident that Mr. Howe had gained his point, because the prosecution changed its tactics. Some of the witnesses told of the visits of a gaily dressed woman, who appeared in the vicinity of the cottage with a man in light colored clothes on the day of the alleged murder, June 23. They had also seen a man wearing dark blue clothes about the house, and on the day in question he was seen by one witness to go in and out of the house frequently. Three of them identified Thorn as the man in dark clothes, and two of them identified photographs of Guldensuppe as being representations of the man who had worn the light suit. None of them, however, had seen any trace of the latter after he had entered the cottage on that Friday morning.

Lawyer Howe requested the court to have Mrs. Nack produced in order that she might be identified by the witnesses. This request brought about a legal argument, and finally Mr. Howe was comled to swear out a writ compelling the sheriff to produce her. Mrs. Nack was brought into court after the mid-day recess, looking much paler than when she appeared there two weeks ago. The prisoner did not pay much attention to her, as he was deeply interested in the evidence which was being adduced. The morbid curiosity of the majority of the spectators was gratified by the production of a piece of the bone of one of Guldensuppe's thighs to which were attached shreds of flesh. This exhibit was sealed in a glass jar. Dr. O'Hanlon, the coroner's physician who had examined the different parts of the body, did not open the jar. The witness explained that he cut this portion off to show how minutely it fitted into the corresponding piece of the bone which protruded from the stump of the lower part of the trunk. Judge Maddox asked Mr. Howe if he required Mrs. Nack to remain in the courtroom any longer. Mr. Howe replied: "Certainly, if your honor will permit. I would like to have her here, if the people are going to call Police Captain O'Brien of the New York police, so that he may identify her."

District Atorney Youngs said Captain O'Brien would be called, and Mrs. Nack was directed to remain in the room. H. J. Borges, a grocer of Woodside, was called to prove the sale of two pounds of plaster of paris to a man early in the morning of June 25. He admitted that he could not identify Thorn posi-

"Thorn, stand out," shouted Mr. Howe. Then he turned to the witness and said: "Is that the man to whom you sold the plaster of paris?"

The witness thought for a few moments, and then said: "No, I cannot say positively that it is. "That will do," said Mr. Howe.

Mamie Pierce, a 13-year-old girl, was then called. She was in Borges' store drug, asked for medical treatment. As on the Friday morning in question, and said she saw a man there buying plaster | dog, the ambulance surgeon refused to of paris. Thorn stood up at the direction take her to the hospital. Before leaving of his counsel, but, although the girl first the police station with her pet the woman said he was the man, she afterwards said that she had come here with a gensaid he only looked like the man, who head and face dressed, after which he went to a hotel on Third avenue. He wrote to Mrs. Nack three weeks later and asked her to meet him. She met Thorn, and he acknowledged having gotten money from her. The prisoner acknowledged that the pistol found in Mrs. Nack's house had belonged to him and was the one which went off accidentally."

Thorn had a pistol in his possession when arrested. O'Brien told him that Mrs. Nack had said that both men had threatened to "go for each other" if they ever met. "I said to Thorn that if he had met Guldensuppe in the Woodside cottage, and was assaulted by the bath rubber, and had shot him in selfdefense, he had better make a clean breast of it," explained the witness. Thorn said he knew nothing about it at

Captain O'Brien told how Thorn had said that he had met Mrs. Nack on the night of June 25. She told him she had had a kick with Guldensuppe about 10 o'clock in the morning about money that she had drawn $50 from the bank, and Guldensuppe took it away from her and went away, which was the last she saw of him. Thorn told him he got the surrey, which Mrs. Nack hired at the undertaker's, and he and Mrs. Nack drove to Woodside with a bundle of

Mr. Howe asked the captain whether he had told all he could remember of what Thorn had said to him. "Well, no, not all. We had some other conversation of a confidential natur which I promised Thorn, on my hono would not be repeated," was the reply. The prosecutors then tried to get this conversation into evidence, but Mr. Howe objected and said it was very kind and chivalrous on the captain's part to act as he did. Judge Maddox sustained the objection on the ground that it was a privileged communication. The captain said that Mrs. Nack had told him Guldensuppe had not treated her right; that she had loved Thorn that she loved him still and would die for him if necessary. After being directed by the court to be on hand Friday morning, Captain O'Brien retired.

Constantine Keehn, a barber, at one time a fellow workman in the same shop with Thorn, was the next witness. Witness had a stilleto which Thorn saw. "Did Thorn want to buy It from you?"

"Objected to," said Mr. Howe. "Objection sustained," said the court. The witness told how Thorn, when he went to the workshop of the witness in March, said he was living at Twentyfirst street and Third avenue; that he had previously lived with a midwife and had a row with another boarder. Thorn had fired a revolver at the boarder, but missed him. The other man took the revolver from him and kicked Thorn out of the house. Thorn said "no more revolver for me." Some weeks later Thorn bought a stiletto, which he showed the witness, and said: "I bought this down town for a dollar, and I'm going to have it ground down and the other side sharpened." Mr. Howe was permitted to reserve his cross-examination of the witness until Friday morning, to which time the court adjourned.

Sentenced to Be Hanged.

Hollidaysburg, Pa., Nov. 25.-Frank Wilson of Massillon, O., and James Farrell of Allegheny county were sentenced in the Blair county court to be hanged. The prisoners were convicted of the murder of Henry Bonnacka of Altoona April 7, 1895. The evidence against them was circumstantial. Detectives tesified that Wilson and Farrell had con conviction Henry Hildebrand, a convict in the penftentiary at Baltimore, confessed that he and not the defendants murdered Bonnacka. Hildebrand took his own life after making this confession

In denying the motion for a new trial Judge Bell likened it to the case of Durrant as an illustration of the propensity of crooks to assume to themselves the commission of notorious crimes. William Doran, who was with Wilson and Farrell in the murder, fled the country and has not been captured.

A Thieving Porter.

St. Louis, Nov. 26.-Lee Pitts, a Pullman porter, is a prisoner on the charge of attempted robbery. A. E. Hill, a broker of Providence, R. I., alleged that Pitts tried to steal from his pocket an envelope containing $39,000 in certified checks and $3000 in cash.

Broker Hill was a passenger on the B and O train from the east and caused the arrest of Pitts. Mr. Hill related this story: "Just after the train passed Odin, Ills., the porter pulled the curtains aside and reached into my berth. took $10 out of my trousers pocket and then thrust his hands into by inside pocket, where I had an envelope containing $42,000 in cash and checks. I awoke just in time to save the envelope. I grappled with the negro, and the encounter attracted the attention of the Pullman conductor, J. B. Hodges. He ordered the negro to return the $10 he had taken.

SHOOTING ON AN OLD ABANDONED PLANTATION.

Wild Turkey For a Thanksgiving Repast. Daddy Paddy as a Guide and a Cook. Game That Is Fast Passing Away-Two [Copyright, 1897, by the Author.] The first Thanksgiving I ever passed away from home found me encamped on the banks of Blue spring, about 100 miles from the mouth of the St. Johns river, in the midst of a wild orange grove.

I was then, as now, an enthusiastic hunter, and soon after I had pitched my

Miss Ray thinks that this colony may aid in harmonizing the negro problem. It is certainly an interesting experiment and may have useful results, though its success is necessarily a matter of conjecture. A charter for this enterprise which is not in any sense a business speculation, and is to be known as the 'Cedar Lake Negro Colony,' has been applied for. A provisional government has been elected, and everything has been done to start it well. It has the moral support of the state administration. Three hundred and sixty-seven acres of land have been secured for the colony, a post-office opened, and the Louisville and Nashville road has agreed to erect a station and to prepare other facilities for shipping.

-Hingham was settled in 1635. The old meeting-house still standing was built in 1681. To say that nine pastors cover a period of two hundred and fourteen years is to do scant justice to the unequalled record of the first six pastorates; for from the beginning of Peter Hobart's service, in 1635, to the death of the sixth pastor, Calvin Lincoln, in 1881, is itself a period of two hundred and forty-six years, and the ninth pastorate has now reached a date two hundred and sixty-two years from that of the first .- Hingham Journal.

OLD CISSEL'S HONOR.

The fog rested over the little station and came quietly into the "gentlemen's waiting room" with every fresh arrival. These early comers had no intention of going off on the train. They were known jocosely as the "cowboys," and their duty was to haul milk to the station once or twice a day.

The cowboys, grouped about the coal stove on this foggy morning, were in earnest conversation. There were ominous shakings of wise old heads, intermittent giggles from the witty youngsters, solemn and emphatic stamps of well shod feet, whistles, mutterings and now and then a hearty espousal of a

"No, 'tain't no use for an old man to be cranky; it don't pay. Thar comes a time when a body's got to be looked after whether he likes it or no, and his own people's the ones to do it. If an old feller's son can't put up with him, how's the neighbors gunno do it?"

This somewhat lengthy speech on the part of Farmer Gibbs met with universal approval.

"That's it," said Williams, "and he was comfortable. No person in the county could 'a' been kinder and more like a real datter to old Cissel than the boy's aunt. It's said as the Cissels never git sorry, but it's against reason if down in his heart som'ers Bub Cissel ain't sorry 'bout all this rumpus. And while the law of the land allowed the place to be handed over to a 16-year-old boy to be carried on in the name of the uncle who bought up the mortgages thar's a higher law'n the law of the land that gives John Cissel a right to live his life out in the home place."

'The Cissels is the quarest sort of family I ever seen," remarked Burdette. 'The neighborhood's taken hot sides with the old man, but nary one of us knows who's in the right and who's in the wrong. All we know is that the furse occurred out in the Cissel barn; that the hoss was in it. Some state as the boy knocked the old man down, and others state that in the fracas the hoss knocked down, but neither the old man nor Bub has give out the facts of the case. We jest know that the old man rode over here on the hoss and is puttin up wharever they'll let him in and a-offerin the hoss for sale. They state as Bub says that the hoss can't be sold; that it was bought up by his ma's brother and is his'n, but the old man is offerin the critter right and left." "That's a good hose," said a youthful cowboy in a ruminating way. "A first rate hoss, fur's I kin jedge. Nary white foot on him, long and lean, shaped like a reg'lar trotter, and he kin go. That hoss is wuth more money'n the times'll bring.'

"Yes, feed's scarce," said Shacklett. "It's a powerful good hoss won't eat his head off this winter.'

"But 'tain't every day a feller can pick up a hoss like Cissel's," continued the enthusiast. " 'Twould pay to keep the critter over winter, feed him well and carry him to town in the spring. He'd fetch a fancy price in town this spring. But $150 is considerable money to git hold of nowadays.

'But how 'bout the raffle?" another of the youngsters inquired eagerly. "I heered they was speakin of puttin the hoss up to raffle.

"They was speakin of it," said Williams, "but the old man wouldn't hear on it. He says how a raffle ain't nothin | wanted a fine trotter" but a lottery business, and the lottery's forbid, printed and nailed up in eyery postoffice in the United States. He says he's been cheated out of a home, but that ain't no reason for him to swindle the neighbors out of a dollar apiece all but the one man and give the one man a hoss for a dollar. He says as he can git more'n a dollar for his hoss."

"That sounds well enough," said Burdette, "but when it comes to bein turned out of a lodgin, havin the tick took off yer bed to show yer wasn't wanted no longer, then, I say, lottery or no lottery, the raffle's the only thing to come at.

"That were true about the bed, then?"

inquired Shacklett. 'Yes, and it seems hard, but Ann Earp couldn't afford the extry expense. She says as she ain't sure he has the right to sell the hoss, and she couldn't go on waitin for the money nohow; she couldn't keep her own family in meat, much less a boarder that wasn't payin. Yes, old Cissel staid in yer one night, sat thar on the bench. He didn't sleep none, the night telegrafter says, and was holler eyed next mornin. Williams stamped his foot. "That's it," he said impressively. "Why don't he? Because Bub Cissel won't allow to nobody that he can't stand the old man in the house. He says if the old man what home he can out of it. The old

Walking across the frosty road, on his way from the store to the station, was old Cissel. He was a tall, old man, with a stoop in his shoulders that was becoming more and more pronounced. His beard was rough and straggly, the ragged lining of his coat showed at the pockets, he needed Bub's aunt to see to him, the pitying neighbors said.

He looked up and spoke gravely and politely to Shacklett. Then his face early, I wouldn't said a word. Washin brightened perceptibly. I'm wantin money. The world ain't got no use for a man without money. I'll let you have the critter for $125. You'd best take me up, eh?" He tried to speak all through in a businesslike way, in the manner of an independent man offering his wares for sale, but his voice faltered when he said that the world hadn't any use for a man self in his eyes. him yesterday."

"I'm an old man, too," said Shacklett, "and I know thar ain't but one place on earth for old men. You'll be sorry for it by and by, Cissel, and the boy'll be sorry too. You don't want the boy to be sorry when it's too late, when it won't do him nor anybody else no Old Cissel stepped forward with a lurch, steadied himself, straightened his shoulders. "The Cissels," he said stubbornly, "never gits sorry.

Shacklett shook his head in dismal disapproval and went over and climbed into his milk wagon. He shook his head again on the way home, with the lines hanging loose over the neck of his mare. "It's the boy's place to come forward." he muttered. "He's young. It's too hard for to expect an old man to give up to his own boy. But Bub's got the mother's perseverance. She cut enough of chicken feathers off the quill for to make a 25 pound bed."

The Washingtons kept old Cissel six weeks before Mrs. Washington spoke in all earnestness and severity about the board money. "Some'n's got to be done," she said emphatically. "Times is hard. Ann Earp kep' you four weeks, and she ain't had a cent from you yit. The hoss is eatin his head off in Cramer's stable, and you're owin me six weeks' board. Now and then I have kep' a boarder to help along, but I've al'ays been paid at the end of the week. Of course if you was to sell the hoss at once I ain't sayin you mightn't stay on, but you've been yer six weeks tomorrow evenin, and you ain't no nearer sellin him than when you come. Washin'ton was sayin yesterday it's all fullishness, you settin a price on the hoss. You might 'a' got $125 by the raffle, but you ain't gunno git a hundred right down from a farmer. What you can git for the hoss that's what he's wuth.

"The hoss comes from good stock, said the old man faintly. "If any one

"No matter who's wantin a fine trotter, they ain't wantin it at a fancy price," said Mrs. Washington. "Of course if you must keep the hoss, then it's Bub's place to keep the two of you. If he won't let you stay at the farm, he ought for to make arrangements about ver board. Laws!" she added, looking keenly into the old man's face. "I should think as the boy'll be mighty sorry after while if he does nothin

"The Cissels," said the old man brokenly-"they never gits sorry."

"I don't want to do nothin mean," said Mrs. Washington, "but the boy oughter come fawward now if ever. Tomorrow's Thanksgivin. The old man rose and went out of the house. He walked very slowly across to the station and lingered about, but the people evaded him. Nobody wanted to buy a horse, and most of the cowboys were becoming weary of his entreaties. "If he'd had the raffle, he'd been all right for awhile," they said. "The world ain't got no use for a man without money." muttered old Cissel. "He can't buy a chaw of tobacco nor nothin." He was feverishly anxious to sell his horse that eve of Thanks. giving.

Bright and early on the morning of Thanksgiving day the horse was sold, very quietly, before many people were around. The purchaser arrived for him at noon, but Cramer insisted upon being paid for the horse's keep before delivering him to his new master. Old Cissel's hands trembled as he counted out the dollars for Hawk's keep. "He's can't stay to his home let him find a fine hoss," he said as the new owner rode away, "as fine a hoss as one can man's stubborn, but it ain't no more'n | find in the country, but a body's got to

The room in question was back of the ness. It looked as if there would be a dining room. The door between was open. It must be warm too. Old Cissel bowed and thanked her, but he did not

Mrs. Washington smiled benignly when she in turn received her money. "It's the last day of the week's board," said old Cissel. "I git my supper."

"Laws, you ain't gunno leave?" cried Mrs. Washington. "You ain't mad at what I said yesterday? I was called on for money myself and was put to. If I'd know you was gunno sell the hoss so "I've made other arrangement," said sell you as fine a hoss as you'll happen old Cissel. "I jest git my supper; that's

> He left the house after supper. "Goin back to Ann Earp's, I s'pose, said Mrs. Washington sneeringly, "to have the tick took off again when the hoss money's spent. Well, I reckon it's best to be shed of him now.

The old man sat in the gentlemen's waiting room until very late. He was congratulated several times upon the sale of his horse. He was told that he, without money and the fear showed it- at any rate, had something to be thank-"Bub best take him ef he wants him," said the cowboys among them-

When old Cissel quitted the station, hand upon Cissel's shoulder. "You git he did not go to Mrs. Earp's, as Mrs. Washington had prophesied. He went up to the bridge and stood there, looking down mechanically at the railroad track. There had been two light falls of snow, enough to cover the ground several inches, and the people had giving. The old man, leaning against the rail of the bridge, heard the sleighbells as in a dream, but he knew that it was Thanksgiving. He brought his hands out of his empty pockets and folded them upon the railing. He looked up at the moon lighted sky. "I'm thankful," he said slowly, 'that I've been able to pay my just debts-$12 to Ann Earp, $10 for the hoss and $18 to Eliza Washin'ton. 'Tain't no use settin a price on a hoss. What you can git for him, that's what he's wuth. Forty dollars for a fine, sound, young horse! Lord, is the times so hard as that?"

Then he must have heard the sleighbells distinctly, for there were two strings of them upon a horse that was springing and dancing behind him. He must have heard the energetic "Whoa!" and the tingling and jingling of the sleighbells shaken afresh. And yet it seemed as if he heard nothing at all. His head had fallen on his arms. He shifted his feet a little to make a surer prop as he prepared to spend his second night without a home.

The old head was lifted gently by a pair of strong hands, some one said 'Father!'' in a choking voice, and old Cissel turned and stared into the boy's "Father!" cried Bub again. But the old man drew back. Leaning heavily against the bridge railing, he announced that the "hoss" was sold, given away.

"You're cold," said the boy gruffly. 'You git in thar. You're goin whar you'll be took care of. I heerd all about the hoss. Durn the fool that robbed

He helped the old man into the sleigh and drew the robes about him. Then he whistled to his horse, and the sleighbells resumed their jingling.

The sudden change from the homeless and destitute feeling of spending the night upon the bridge, with no future prospects whatever, with the knowledge that it was Thanksgiving day and that he could only be thankful over the fact that his empty pockets meant that each honest debt had been paid-the sudden change from all this to the comfortable seat in the sleigh, with the spirited horse rushing him on to warmth and light and home, was too much for old Cissel. He sat in the sleigh beside Bub; whimpering like a little child. The boy leaned over and very quietly saw that the robes were rightly placed. Then old Cissel reached out his hand and touched his son's coat sleeve.

'When a man gits to be nigh on to 80, Bub," he said humbly, "he ought to have sense enough to know that young blood's hot. Though I'm the first Cissel that ever done it, I'm gunno 'low

I'm sorry. The boy turned about. "No, you're ashamed.

"No, Bub; no, Bub," returned old Cissel doggedly. "'Tain't that away." They sat in silence for a long time. The sleigh was turning in at the farm gate, the moonlight was over every. thing, the glow from the window was visible when old Cissel spoke again.

"We ain't nary one of us sorry. Bub." he said fervently. "It's Thanksgivin. We're both jest overpowerin glad."-Washington Star.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 28. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Topic.—"How can we consecrate ourselves o the temperance and other reforms?"—Luke

, 5-17. (International Temperance Sunday.) The Scripture quoted in the reference tells the story of the visit of the angel to Zacharias, to whom he foretold the birth of John the Baptist, who was to be great in the sight of the Lord and drink neither wine nor strong drink, but to be filled with the Holy Ghost. John was a total abstainer. He was also a great reformer and may appropriately introduce us to the study of temperance reform.

That there is need of consecration to temperance and other reforms is apparent to all. The indifference of Christian people to the one power that is de stroying more human beings both for time and for eternity is appalling. When we know that millions of dollars are spent annually, thousands of homes are ruined, thousands of persons go down to drunkards' graves; that the souls of men are lost and their bodies brutalized and wives are murdered and children starved, all because of the curse of drink, it would seem that the whole church would be in arms against it. Yes it is not. The Christian world largel sleeps while the temporal lives of mil lions are ruined and their souls damne for eternity.

What can we do in this great reform: First.—Practice temperance. Every Christian Endeavorer should be a total abstainer. Our influence will be against temperance unless we practice it.

Second. - Educate public opinion against intemperance. When the people want intemperance and the saloon to go, they will go. They will not go before. It is not so much the laws that need to be reformed as the people. Reform the laws and not the people, and laws become a dead letter. Reform the people, and they will demand that the laws be reformed and enforced. The temperance campaign must be a campaign of education, and not a campaign of strifes, contentions and disputations among those who are arraved against this great evil. And what a boundless opportunity the Christian Endeavor organization has for educating the youth of the world upon this subject! Let us teach young and old that drink is unnecessary, that it is not beneficial to body, mind or soul and that it is disastrous and ruinous both for time and Third .- Hold up Christ and the cross to the world. The cross of Christ is the only remedy that can reach down into the depths of this foul pool of iniquity. Human methods of reform may ameliorate the condition of men and are not to be despised, but the only method that can save them is the divine method. Fill a man with Christ, and there will be no room for strong drink.

Bible Readings.—Lev. x, 8-11; Num. vi, 1-4; Deut. xxi, 18-21; Prov. xx, 1; xxiii, 29-31; Isa. v, 11; xxviii, 1-4; Dan. i, 1-15; Math. v, 13-16; Luke xii, 45, 46; xxi, 34; Rom. xiii, 12-14; ] Cor. v, 11; Gal. v, 19-26.

Why is it that when one or two rich but stingy members belong to a church all the rest are prone to measure their obligations by the standard set by their richer brethren? And why is it that when a poor washerwoman, for instance, sets the example of sacrificing until it hurts and pinches, her more favored brethren do not think of making her giving the standard by which to measure their obligations? The only answer we can give is that nature in most cases is still stronger than grace. To be liberal toward oneself is the first lesson we have learned, to be liberal toward God is the second lesson, and to learn it we must unlearn what our first instructor, the old Adam, taught us .-Lutheran.

They Cannot Understand.

Persons who can most readily understand how they might have become as intelligent, cultured and noble as others who have been born in loftier stations are often totally unable to understand how, had they been born in the slums, they could have become like the vice and degradation by which they would have been surrounded. They can understand how exaltation might have helped them upward, but they cannot understand how degradation would have helped them downward. -Lutheran Ob-

The Christian's Is the Eternal Life.

It is perfected by the sufferings and struggles of the present. All things work together for its good. The fire purifies it, the battle gives its powers exercise, the darkness makes 'it to grow the more rapidly and persecution extends its achievements. Living for Christ is the one thing worth living for. -Christian Statesman.

Being Appreciated.

It is pleasant to be appreciated. Persons work better when they know that their efforts command approval. Nothnot, father!" he cried quickly. "You're ing is lost by kindly words of interest not to 'low you're sorry. You're not to and recognition. Flattery is offensive, be sorry. It's me that's both sorry and but appreciation of another's kindness and service is always acceptable. - Presbyterian.

> The First Goldenrod. I thought not of the added beauty To the glow of the golden noon,

But this was the greeting I gave thee—
"Has the goldenrod come so soon?" 'Twas the ghost of the flying springtime

And the summer's failing breath, And the hopes that without fruition Were doomed to darkness and death. 'Twas the longing for one whose welcome Was ever the first and best,

Who lies asleep on the hillside With the sod on her gentle breast Wilt thou guard that peaceful slumber? She was so faithful and dear. Can I feel through the shining autumn

For though she is gathering blossoms 'Mid the beautiful fields of God, Her spirit is bending and watching, She remembers us, goldenrod!

Two Canadian Women Implicated Ir the Deaths of Men.

One Said to Have Urged Stabbing of Her Husband.

Other Charged With Putting a Deadly Draught In Tea of Guests.

Montreal, Nov. 27.-Monday morning last the dead body of Isidore Poirier, a farmer, was found in his house at St. Canut. He had undoubtedly been murdered, his body showing many stab wounds and his throat having been cut. Mrs. Poirier, when questioned, said that her husband had killed himself.

The woman at first made a great showing of grief, but later treated the matter lightly. Detectives were sent for, and Mrs. Poirier and Samuel Parslow, who had been paying attention to her, were arrested charged with the crime. Parslow has made a full con-

Prisoners Attacked a Sheriff. Princeton, Ind., Nov. 27.-Friday 19 prisoners confined in the Gibson county against Sheriff Murphy. For several days threats have been made by the prisoners, and the sheriff had been warned. Yesterday morning the men said they would have more food, or kill the sheriff. A posse of deputies was placed outside the jail while Sheriff Murphy entered the building alone. As soon as he closed the door the prisoners, headed by John Boger, a notorious the posse rescued the sheriff.

A fierce fight took place between Boger and Murphy, and Boger was beaten almost into insensibility and then thrown into a cell. When the prisoners saw their leader worsted they were sur-pressed without further trouble. Boger says he will kill Murphy.

A Fortunate Mischance.

Boston, Nov. 27 .- In a row on board the steamer City of Bangor, George Walter, 25 years old, attempted to shoot Robert Dupree, 25, and it was by the narrowest chance that the latter escaped with his life. The revolver was held so close to Dupree's body that his clothing was burned, but the chamber of the weapon failed to turn sufficiently to allow the bullet to pass through the barrel, and it was split in two. It had not sufficient force to penetrate the clothing, and one half of the ball was found in Dupree's coat, the other half being missing. Only a flesh wound was made. Walter was locked up, together with two witnesses. All the parties are colored employes of the boat, and as they would say but little, the cause of he trouble could not be ascertained.

Bank Robber's Suicide. London, Nov. 27 .- A dispatch to The Times from Cape Town describes a bold attempt to rob the Standard bank at Claremont, a suburb of Cape Town. A masked man entered the counting room of the bank, locked the door and, by some unknown means, broke the neck of the cashier, though no marks of violence could be found on the body. When the manager of the bank appeared the robber fired and wounded him slightly. The police then rushed in, and the robber, seeing that all chance of escape was gone, shot himself dead. Deep Wounds With a Razor. Worcester, Mass., Nov. 27.-Charles C. McCloud, treasurer of the McCloud, Crane & Minter company, manufacturer tensely from nervous disease, and was without dow't irresponsible for B'& act. | Standing, 56.

Striking Company. Chicago, Nov. 27.-Friday night the audience at the Great Northern theater narrowly missed being entertained by a riot of stage hands, actors and actresses instead of the "Bohemian Girl," which was the opera billed for the performance. The trouble was caused by a strike of Mage hands and electricians. After a delay of half an hour the curtain rose with all the members of the Boston Lyric Stock company in costume grouped about the stage, surrounding their manager, W. A. Thompson, who appeared with top coat and handstick. The striking employes gathered about the theater doors apparently ready for trouble. Mr. Thompson, in a bitter speech, denounced Manager David Henderson of the theater, declaring that he had treated the company "most shamefully," and announced that the play could not go on. He called for the strikers to come upon the stage, and they yelled back that the police had been called in and would arrest them if they made such a move. The audience began a rush for the doors, fearing serious trouble, but the opera company quieted fears by singing "Auld Lang Syne" and giving three times three for Manager

Woman Killed For Insurance. Ottawa, Nov. 27.—Oliver Prevost, alias
Gauthier, now serving a sentence of Clemmer of Norristown, Pa., was arrested here on a charge of murder. He admitted his guilt

On Oct. 26, 1896, Emma P. Kaiser went driving near Norristown with her husband, Charles O. Kaiser, James A. Clemmer and Elizabeth L. Dekalb. The start was made from the Kaiser home stead early in the morning, and that was the last seen of Mrs. Kaiser alive. Mrs. band for some time previously, but she Prevost says Mrs. Gauthier put poison had placed a $10,000 insurance policy on her life, and this accounted later to the police for the interest her husband took in her. On the same day Kaiser, Clemmer and the Decalb woman returned with Mrs. Kaiser's dead body. They told a story of having been waylaid by highwaymen, Mrs. Kaiser being sh dead and Mr. Kaiser himself being slightly wounded in the arm. The story was not believed, and Kaiser and the Decalb woman were arrested, Clemme making his escape. Kaiser was eventually sentenced to death. The Dekalb woman is to be tried.

The first the Newark authorities knew of the presence of Clemmer in this city was when they received instruction: from the district attorney of Columbia county, Pa., to arrest him. A persona had been inserted in a New York pape purporting to be from the Decalb wom an. Clemmer was a victim of the decoy and responded with a letter which fell into the hands of the district attorney. Clemmer was easily located.

Saved by a Crucifix.

Chelsea, Mass., Nov. 27.-A very mysterious assault, which narrowly escaped eing serious. would go to the supreme court and ask lice last night. It occurred at the home of Theodore Duplisse, and no reason fo from going further. In view of Commis- it is known. A woman closely veiled sioner Cutting's position the lawyers did called at the house, and when the ser not attempt to discuss the matter fur- vant answered the door-bell, she asked if her name was Mary Campbell. On receiving an affirmative reply, the caller threw a handful of chloride of lime in Miss Campbell's face and made a lunge at her with a sharp instrument. The strange part of the assault is here. The point of the instrument struck a crucifix worn by Miss Campbell, turning it aside. The mysterious woman then ran away and Miss Campbell fainted.

When found and revived Miss Campfbell suffered intensely from lime in her eyes, but a physician later said she would probably be all right. Her dress was cut, and it was evident that the amulet saved the young woman from a se rious wound in the breast. Search was begun for the veiled woman, but as Miss Campbell knows of no reason for the attack there is no clue to her assailant.

Result of a Coffee War.

New York, Nov. 27.—As a result of the war now being waged between the Ar buckle Coffee company and the Woolson Spice company the sales of coffee during the week now ending have been far in excess of any similar period during the past year. Coffee brokers declare that their sales had been doubled.

The Woolson company, which is controlled by the Havemeyers, is selling Rio No. 7 at 9 cents a pound. Not to be outdone, the Arbuckles have made a reduction in their prices. Coffee is now cheaper than it has been since before the war, say the old dealers, and if the fight continues there is no telling what price it will go for. Another reason for the low prices is to be found in the enormous quantity of green coffee now here. Opposed to Arbitration.

New York, Nov. 27.-Friday a petition to the senate was issued from the head quarters of the Irish National alliance in this city against the adoption of general treaty of arbitration with England. The petition says that the advo cates of the treaty are "the modern American tories, descendants of the men who would have hanged Washington among the number being Bishop Doang of Albany, a well known supporter of the defunct A. P. A., who, upon returning from a conference in Lambeth palace London, actually urged that our history should be falsified so that young Americans might grow up in the love and fear not of God, but of England."

Audience In a Chicago theater Quieted by a Surprise Given the Defense by Resting of the Presecution.

New York, Nov. 27.-Lawyers Howe and Moss, who have diligently conducted the defence of Martin Thorn, accused of killing Guldensuppe, met with a serious and unlooked for obstacle when District Attorney Youngs informed the court Friday that the people rested their It had been generally expected that Mrs. Nack would be put on the stand to reiterate her confession.

"This may seem a very clever move on the part of the prosecution," said Mr. Howe, "but I am more than positive that when we introduce our evidence the jury will acquit my client of the crime with which he is charged."

Later the district attorney said that he was not prepared to say whether Mrs. Nack would be produced or not. The case, as far as the district attorney's opinion went, was fully proved withut the woman's testimony. Later on, however, one of Mr. Youngs' advisers said that in case the defence put Thorn on the stand the prosecution would certainly produce Mrs. Nack in rebuttal. The evidence adduced Friday by the prosecution showed a possible inclination on the defendant's part to get rid of Guldensuppe. Each was the admirer of Mrs. Nack, and it was proved that they had a serious row last March. From current report Guldensuppe had much the better of the argument when it came to fisticuffs, and Thorn confessed later that he had discharged a revolver accidentally, but a few minute afterwards he told another friend that he shot at Guldensuppe, but missed his mark. All these things were brought before the jury, and when it was about time to renew the sensationa story of Mrs. Nack, the defence, after a whispered conversation, informed the ourt that the people had rested.

Thorn was less surprised than his law yers when this statement was made Thorn took in the situation at a glance and bent forward in earnest conversation with his lawyers. Mr. Howe, for the second time during the trial of his client, saw that there were rocks ahead and appealed to the court for time. "I shall, with your honor's permission," he said, "try to get through with my defence on Monday, but if it should exceed that time I am sure I can get in all my evidence in a couple of hours on

Justice Maddox, after a conference with both lawyers, decided to postpone the further consideration of the case until Monday morning. The lawyers for the defence were singularly reticent when questioned a to the line of defence on which the would base their hopes of acquitting their client. They were equally reti cent when asked if Thorn would be called by them on Monday as the first witness. Lawyer Moss, when pressed for a statement as to the probab production of Thorn on the stand, said "Wait until you see him there. I can not tell you enything just now, but Mon-

It is believed that a half dozen wit nesses will be examined by Thorn's lawyers, and it is expected that some of these will give startling evidence which will tend to shake that given by the prosecution.

Reported Refusal Not Confirmed, Washington, Nov. 27 .- No word of the reported refusal by the Canadian gov ernment of the proposition of the United States for a modus vivendi to stop th killing of seals while a commission i engaged in arranging other issues be tween the United States and Canad has come to the state department, or to the British embassy. Prepared to Invest Millions.
Detroit, Nov. 27.—President Holmes of the new Detroit Telephone company, who recently returned from New York, says that capitalists who are about to organize an independent telephone company in greater New York are negotiating for the use of the Detroit apparatus for the New York exchange. Mr. Holmes will not give the names of the promoters, but he says they are prepared to invest $15,000,000 at once in a 50,000 telephone exchange for greater New York, and that they would expect to add very largely to that number later. Their plan contemplates the establishment of a telephone service in every city of New York tate in opposition to the Bell company.

Good Afternoon.

The evidence is that the Democrats will this year make their fight on the election of Councilmen, and that they hope to obtain a majority of the members. Since the incorporation of the city the Republicans have been in control of the Council, usually by a twothirds vote, but on one occasion it was a bare majority. To the credit of the City Council there has been very little politics after the organization, and the Republican presidents have usually ap- herself very well and received storms The summary : pointed Democrats as chairmen of some of the important committees, experience being considered in preference to politics. The Council, although Republican, has never opposed in the four years of Democratic mayors, any appointments of the executive or any particular appropriation or work. Quite none excelled her.

All the talk by a certain paper about citizen labor can in no way reflect on cluding with the National anthem the Republicans. The Council has said that preference shall be given to Quincy laborers, and it has rested with a Democratic Mayor and his appointees to see those present, one of those rare inforthat their rights were protected. As mal entertainments that linger long in has been frequently pointed out, the one's memory. City Council is purely a legislative body, and must in no way attempt to enforce laws or orders.

Mr. James L. Edwards, who has resigned the nomination for School Committee at large, has written an open etter to Dr. Henry C. Hallowell, giving unofficially announced by the LEDGER his reasons, believing that there should on Friday, and the other is that of be no politics over the School Committee. It is a very manly letter, with the right ring in it, and the Ledger will publish it in full on Monday.

Newspaper men all over the state speak in the highest terms of Hon. W. H. Cook and are not slow in urging Tuesday his name for the presidency of the senate. Mr. Cook is not only a man of strong convictions but he is able to stand up and vigorously defend them.

The Randolph Register of last week says: We shall feel very grateful to Judge James H. Flint of Weymouth, senator elect from this district, if he will vote for Hon. William H. Cook of Milford for president of the Senate. Senator Cook is a man who is on the right side, and proposes to treat every body right. Judge Flint will, undoubtedy, be asked to vote for Senator Cook, and we certainly hope he will be glad to do so.

-In 1893 congress enacted a law which made it compulsory on all railroads in the United States to equip their freight cars and locomotives with automatic brakes and couplers. The time set for the law to go into effect was Jan. 1, 1898, unless the interstate was Jan. 1, 1898, unless the interstate commerce commission exercised the authority granted it by the law to give an extension of time. Five years have elapsed since the law was passed, yet the announcement is made that something less than 5 per cent., of the railroads of the country have complied with its requirements.

For the six days from Nov. 29 to Dec. 4 this house offers to sell any article in its entire stock at a great discount from the regular price. Today they show a really beautiful parlor curtain, colonial wreath design, executed in real Phrygian lace, at only $6 a pair. It is as fine a curtain as was ever offered in this city at twice this price. We suggest to our reader that as this price is only for the six days of Merchants' week, immediate action is advisable.

The Thanksgiving Day Exercises Interesting and Cultured.

The day before Thanksgiving there were exercises appropriate to the holiday at The Woodward, which were greatly enjoyed by parents and friends. Miss Macfarland in reading the President's proclamation, showed a full appreciation of the spirit in which it was written, and received abundant applause for rendering it so well.

Miss Jane Reed in following with the proclamation of Washington, addressed the audience in that calm and dignified way so readily associated with, the perhaps, more formal manners of ye olden time. She too, received a just measure

The school then sang with fine effect God Ever Glorious," under the skilful direction of Mr. Buckingham, the new director of music at the Woodward. His work throughout marked a very decided advance in methods of vocal culture, and those who for the first time observed his work were greatly pleased with the results shown, and joined with all the others in happy anticipations for the fortunate students of this school.

Following this piece Miss Mary Dolliver, under the title of "Memorable Thanksgivings," highly entertained the company. Her piece was so well received that all regretted when its conclusion was reached.

But the store of good things lasted to the end and Miss Edna Miller in telling about the "Pumpkin" gave almost a foretaste of the pumpkin-pie awaiting the company at home. It was exceedingly realistic and truthful.

Miss O'Neil gave the company a Pilgrim's Dinner" with such a just appreciation of the subject that it brought out in strong contrast the affluence of the present day.

Miss Litchfield's original composition deserves hearty commendation; showing as it did much thought and careful work to so thoroughly master the sub-

DARING ADMIRAL WORDEN.

His Rash Exposure of Himself In the Monitor-Merrimac Fight.

"The important part which opportunity plays in the lives of men is well illustrated by the career of the late Admiral Worden," remarked Captain Louis N. Stodder of the United States revenue cutter service a few days ago.

"It was Worden's good luck that he was assigned to the Monitor, for the result of the fight made the vessel and all en board famous. "The brave part he played in the fight was recognized by congress, and he was rapidly promoted to high rank, which other officers obtained only after 20 years of service.

"I remember him well when he first came on board the Monitor about a month before the fight. He had just been released from prison and looked thin and sallow. He had the appearance of one dying from fever complaint. I never thought it possible for him to live

"During the fight he was cool and collected. I recall an incident which I do not remember ever seeing published. The pilot house was situated in the bow of the Monitor, quite away from the turret. During the fight I was in the turret with other officers, when suddenly we saw Lieutenant Worden climbing up where we were. Without saying anything, he opened one of the turret doors and stepped out on the deck in full view of the enemy.

'Why, captain, what's the trouble?' exclaimed several of the officers in astonishment at his fearless act.

"'I can't see well enough from the in the Quincy and Weymouth bowling pilot house, came the quiet reply. 'I wanted to get out here for a moment to take in the whole situation.' Then, looking around for a few moments, he came inside.

"Lieutenant Worden was very popular with officers and men alike. They all worshiped him. Although only 45 years old at the time of the Monitor-Merrimac fight, he looked almost 60. He wore a long beard at the time." New York Tribune.

IRELAND'S LIMBLESS HERO

Remarkable Sons. In Leinster county, Ireland, they are able man. He was a lineal descendant of the kings of Leinster. He inherited broad stumps, each about a foot in length, in place of the limbs. In spite of this awful fate he was at different times a member of parliament, a privy councilor and lord lieutenant of his native county. Twice he refused an elevation to the peerage. Mr. Kavanagh was also a fearless cross country rider and a good shot. He followed the hounds until age and increasing infirmity forced him to desist. At first he rode without any protection, relying simply on the grip of his leg stumps, but a nasty fall, which broke his nose, induced him to invent for his own use a box sidesaddle, in which he was strapped. A short skirt covered the contrivance and gave Kavanagh a very singular appearance. His shooting was done by means of guns from which the trigger guards had been removed. The gun to be fired was laid along his left shoulder and with his right hook he pulled the trigger. His aim was deadly, as the tigers, deer and other big game of which trophies are preserved in Borris House, are ample proof. While in Persia, at the court of the Viceroy Mirza Malichus, in 1849, he defeated 52 picked sharpshooters in a contest of marksmanship.

His parliamentary career was brilliant and his praises are sung in his own country by all parties, irrespective of politics or creed.

Mr. Kavanagh was married, and all his children are well formed and robust. -New York Journal.

Discrimination In Philadelphia.

Hundreds of colored boys are employed in Philadelphia to sell hot fish cakes on the streets. The cakes, as a rule, are cooked by colored women and are as delicious as fish cakes can be. The boys carry the cakes in tin cans, to the bottom of which is affixed a heating pot. They have also a small box of fuel. They take a stand on some crowded corner and in the course of an evening sell from 50 to 200 cakes. To a sober person the charge for each cake is 1 cent, but if the purchaser shows signs of having indulged too freely in drinks alcoholic a demand for 5 cents is made and generally paid. - Philadelphia

Military Cycle Attachment.

A Williamstown (N. Y.) genius has invented an attachment for bicycles that he thinks will render them of great service in military maneuvers. The attachment consists of two steel supports that drop to the ground when a brakelike appliance on the handle bar is lightly touched. Upon these supports the bicycle rests, and the rider can come to a standstill and use his hands for any purpose without dismounting. When not in use, the supports are folded up against the front forks of the machine. The inventor claims that by the use of his attachment bodies of military wheelmen can come to a sudden halt and fire on the enemy and reload their rifles without dismounting.-New York

Victory or Death.

New York, Nov. 27 .- The Cuban constituent assembly, which met recently at Camaguey to remodel the constitution and elect a new president, issued a manifesto which reached the office of the Cuban junta yesterday. The document is dated at La Yaya, Oct. 30, 1897 and is signed by Capote, president of the assembly. The assembly, before adjourning, deemed it its duty to proclaim among other things that: "No special laws, no political reform

Cheers Caused a Commotion. Havana, Nov. 27 .- Advices just re ceived from Porto Rico say that a riot occurred there yesterday. It appears that a steamer, having on board a number of political prisoners recently released from the Spanish penal settle ments on the African coast, in accor dance with the amnesty decree, arrived there, and the liberated men were allowed to land. They soon found their way to a saloon, partook of stimulants and began cheering for the United States, crying "Hurrah for free Amer ica." This demonstration was resented by the crowds about the place, and rioting followed. The police compelled the liberated men to re-embark. A FAVORABLE FEATURE. Bradst.eet's Week'y Review of the Country's Business Situation.

New York, Nov. 27.—Notwithstanding the appearance of a demand for holiday specialties at some points in the south, at Chicago, St. Louis and in regions tributary thereto, general trade throughout the country has shown no general improvement this week, according to Islanders' Constituent Assem- Bradstreet's report. The most favorable reports are from the territory west of the Mississippi and north of the Missouri and Kansas, where cooler weather has stimulated demand at the interior, and country merchants have been buying with comparative freedom.

The eastern cotton goods industry con tinues depressed. Consumers evidently do not intend to buy extensively until they believe the price of raw cotton is ready to advance. Competition from southern mills-more particularly overproduction by manufacturers who pro duce a single staple-underlies existing large stocks and the heaviness of prices. Converters and manufacturers of cotton yarns are situated relatively more favor ably. Other lines reporting seasonable distribution are manufacturers of woolens, clothing, shoes and jobbers of fancy

A favorable feature is found in advances in wages of operatives in various industrial lines. In addition to increases in prices of iron and steel, quotations for wire rods are lower, notwithstanding the prospect for the success of the attempt to form a combination of all American producers of wire rods. Cotton has reacted again, and prices for lead, coffee, copper, sugar, wheat, flour, beef, pork and lard are among the more important staples fo which prices are unchanged. Wheat alone, among the score of important products, records an advance.

The intervention of a holiday has had the usual effect on bank clearings throughout the country, the aggregate being $1,058,000,000, or 17 per cent less responding week one year ago, which also included a holiday. This week's clearing total is also smaller than in the like weeks of 1892 and 1890, about corresponding aggregate in 1895 by 21 heavier than in 1893 and 4.5 per cen Articles seven to 14 inclusive deal with larger than in the corresponding period

In spite of this disgraceful scene and the insults hurled at him, the presiden was apparently unmoved, but when h recognized that it was useless to make a further attempt to transact business, h quietly spoke a few words to a poliofficer near him and then suspended the sitting amid deafening and vociferous cries of "shame" from the leftists and applause from the rightists.

The substance of the few words spoken to the officer soon became apparent, for an officer and four policemen removed Dr. Wolff from the house by force in spite of physical opposition upon the part of his clique. When the president again re-entered the house he was once more greeted with a shower of opprobrious epithets, including cries of "Criminal; traitor; get out," etc.

After withstanding this storm for period the president again left the house, but only for a moment, and on his return he instructed the police to withdraw, declaring, amid a tremendous uproar: "I entrust myself to your care. Do as you please, but remember this is no personal question. The honor of your chair is at stake." The president then called upon Count Stuergkh to speak, but the tumult con tinued and the president suspended Dasynski, who had some time previously shouted that the president should be in jail, for three sittings. # THANKSGIVING DAY.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1897.

THE NATIONAL FESTIVAL, ITS ROOT AND USAGES.

Its Evolution From an Austere Occasion to One of Joy and Innocent Pleasure. The Symbol and Crowning Joy of the [Copyright, 1897, by the Author.] The American Thanksgiving festival, which has become such a national institution, has its root in ancient traditions and isages of a religious character. The New England Puritans, who felt their most congenial inspiration in the Old Testament, naturally sought in Hebraic suggestions, rather than those of other peoples the special forms which they were inclined to follow. So it is that we find in the Hebrew Feast of the Tabernacles, which mbodied the thank offering for the auumnal ingathering of the fruits of the ear, the most natural source of the Puritan feast, which was alike religious and social in conception. Indeed Dr. Cotton Mather in one of the most famous of his sermons expressly draws the close parallel with fervid unction. Yet it was widely divergent. The old Hebrews kept up the autumn feast for seven days, ending with an eighth in which they gave . .y to unbounded joy and frisked with an extravagance which would have been frowned on at any other season. We can hardly fancy this sensuous exuberance in connection with the Puritan feast. The iron handed, hard headed, thrifty souls who colonized New England found one day fully sufficient to spare from the productive use of their time even at a season when the need of work was far less pressing.

One can imagine an occasion of this kind two centuries ago. The religious idea lay at the base of it all, and sermons two or three hours long before dinner must have given the feast a delicious smack and gusto with the sauce of hunger. Then how the young folks must have quivered in the midriff while the half nour's grace still held them on the tenteras they snuffed the rich odors which lifted like incense from the unaccus tomed delicacies. The spiritual exercitation fairly over, we can even now see the grim features of the elders relax into wintry smiles as they zealously pay the deferred debt owing to the inner man.

The founders of the American Thanks 10c. lb., 3 lbs. 25c. giving seemed to have had a spite against Christmas. It smacked rankly of popery and, what was even more monstrous to the settlers of Massachusetts bay, of that English prelacy the persecutions of which had been the motive of their own departure to a new world. So down to the Revolution ary war, indeed, the Christmas festival, with all its glorious traditions, had but little foothold in New England, while of its limits. With the formation of the new republic and the closer intimacy of the peoples of the states thus federated, scurried to every section of the land where yellow pumpkins shone in the cornfields barnyards. Long prior to Mr. Lincoln's setting the precedent of a proclamation of an autumnal Thanksgiving from the White House itself, the separate states had fallen into the habit of celebrating the same day in common. So that it had be-come the peculiar national festival before the great war president recommended to the country at large to thank God for the fruits of that terrible harvest which had been won not with plow and hoe and sickle, but with cannon and rifle and saber, on the same day which had been consecrated to the more peaceful conquests of the teeming earth.

The fact that Thanksgiving day even in New England becomes increasingly less and less of the religious institution, which is to be expressed in religious rite and church service, is significant. Clergymen commonly speak to sparsely peopled pews on that day and the giving of thanks takes a form best expressed in the homely saw, The proof of the pudding is in the eating of it." Religion once taught that austerity and self sacrifice, even in the way of innocent pleasure, unlocked the gates of paradise It permits us now to believe that love and kindness and hearty enjoyment of the goods bestowed by the Almighty Benefactor in moderation are fully as close to the golden keys. The essential flavor of our modern Thanksgiving goes far beyond the turkey stuffing, because there nay be a question there as to truffles or ysters or Spanish chestnuts, but as to its eing the day picked of all others for the festival of the family group in the larger sense, just as Christmas is the festival of the family in the special and narrow sense, there can be no question. This is the social gist of it This, too, makes the day to the majority of Americans, who break up and disintegrate in their family co-hesion more than any people in the world, peculiarly touching and sacred. It tends to renew the delights of family ties and knit afresh half parted strands of kin-This has been the evolution of Thanksgiving day, and it makes it par excellence an occasion to be cherished, while certainly for this year in special, if we choose to return to the primitive thought of its institution, we have magnificent reason for returning thanks Bounty of crops, high prices, reviving business and the boom of hope should give the finest possible smack to turkey and pumpkin pie

"There's one consolation, anyway," sighed the old hen turkey as the farmer raised the fatal ax, "tomorrow I shall be young again!" The eternal feminine, apparently, was still doing business at the old stand.

FUR TRIMMED CLOTH COSTUME FROM HARPER'S BAZAR

While trimmed skirts are certainly newer than the plain ones, there are many smart costumes made with skirts that have no trimming whatever, and Thanksgiving was scarcely recognized out which are severely plain and of medium width. The tailor-made gowns especially have the plain skirts quite as often as the trimmed ones. A peculiarly attractive model for a cloth gown has the plain skirt and short jacket trimmed cured over all motions, quite impossible their tastes and customs, once narrow and exclusive, began to blend. Christmas bebasque, which is trimmed all around with a band of the chinchilla. Directions descendants of the Puritan settlers at last for cutting the gown are given with the tissue-paper cut patterns issued by as in New York or New Orleans, and Harper's Bazar, from which this model is taken. Revers, wide at the top and Thanksgiving mounted the hippogriff and tapering in at the waist-line, are bordered with the fur. The high collar has a band of the fur, and there is fur around the flaring cuffs. A fitted vest of gray and fat turkeys gobbled in the woods and velvet is one of the features of this gown.

A Little Boy's Lament. I'm goin back down to grandpa's.

I won't come back no more To hear the remarks about my feet A-muddyin up the floor. They's too much said about my clothes.

I'm goin back down to grandpa's, Where a boy kin hev some fun

I dug up half his garden A-gittin worms fer bait. He said he used to like it When I laid abed so late He said that pie was good fer boys An candy made 'em grow.

Ef I can't go to grandpa's

He let me take his shotgun An loaded it fer me. The cats, they hid out in the barn. The hens flew up a tree. I had a circus in the yard With twenty other boys.

I'll turn pirate first you know.

I'm goin back down to grandpa's, Where they ain't afraid of noise. He didn't make me comb my hair But once or twice a week. He wasn't watchin out fer words I didn't orter speak. He told me stories 'bout the war An Injuns shot out west.

Oh, I'm goin down to grandpa's, Fer he knows wot boys like best. He even run a race with me. But had to stop an cough. He rode my bicicle an laughed Becos he tumbled off.

ELECTRIC TIMING DEVICE

It Not Only Times a Race, but Places the Men at the Finish.

The electric place indicator and time recorder for recording the order of finishes in bicycle races was given a trial at the Olympic track a few days ago, and although one or two parts are open to improvement the inventor, Monroe Sonneschein, proved that the machine was practicable and would be invaluable in getting the correct positions of the men even in a race won by inches.

The machine consists of a tapeline, which is divided into segments. Each segment is electrically connected with a pencil located on a recording instrument in the judges' stand. A moving sheet of paper is lined by the pencils and dashes, corresponding to the positions of riders at the finish, are automatically produced as the riders cross the tape. The time of the first man is also taken by the affair.

When the first rider as well as the last crosses the tape, an electric circuit is formed, which, by the means of a suitable mechanism, causes the stop watch to be instantly stopped, while the pencil corresponding with the position of that rider raises itself from the moving paper. When the riders rode at top speed during the machine's trial, there was a little difficulty about recording them, but the inventor claims that fault can be eliminated by making the tape a little wider and thereby causing a longer connection. Will R. Pitman, representing the L. A. W. racing board, was present and will probably make a report of the trial to Chairman Mott, for with the machine perfected and fitted in all the tracks of the country the racing game would be free from the howls of the racing men, and sometimes rightfully, that they were placed wrong by the judges.-New York Journal.

Foot Cycle Polo the Latest.

Foot cycle polo is one of the attractions at the cycle skating academy at Tattersalls'. Several of the local cycling clubs have shown their interest in the indoor adaptation of the popular sport.

The object in the game of foot cycle polo is to knock the ball with the polo sticks between the goal posts of the opposing club. When developed to a science, a contest on the recently devised pneumatic skates will be an athletic treat to the devotees of football and polo, who find the season of their favorite sports cut short by the approach of winter. Owing to the ingenious construction of the new skate complete control is sewith either ice or roller skates. The game is scientific and requires skill in skating as well as quick judgment. The football player ought to make a star polo player, providing he is proficient in the art of skating. The game is really a cross between football and polo. - Chicago Times-Herald.

Dueling on Bicycles.

Dueling on bicycles is reported to be a new diversion in Spain. Two members of the bicycle club of Grenada recently met in a knife duel, which is probably the first encounter of the kind ever fought upon wheels. Accompanied by their seconds, they wheeled out some distance on the road to Malaga to a secluded spot. There, posted 700 feet apart, at a sign, they wheeled toward each other, each directing the machine with the left hand and brandishing in the right that terrible knife of Spain, the navaja. At the first clash Perez pierced the left arm of Moreno, but at the third encounter Moreno thrust his knife into Perez's right breast. In a few minutes the latter died of internal hemorrhage.

Good Work at the Bicycle.

"The bicycle," says a salesman representing a sporting goods store, "seems to be responsible for an increase in the number of men who take exercise. Of late I have noticed that many men who have stopped riding for the season have taken to investing in gymnastic paraphernalia, such as 'exercises, punching bags and rowing machines. It shows that the wheel has taught them the value of exercise, and they are not going to lose all the good they gained outdoors this summer. The bicycle has certainly succeeded in getting men of sedentary habits outdoors, and once having done so, other sports are sure to be benefited."—New York Sun.

To Clean a Chain.

A good method to clean a chain is to boil it in water with a generous quantity of sal soda. Boil long enough to remove all particles of dirt and gum. Wash it in clear, hot water and then dry it thoroughly. Warm the chain through with dry heat and place it in good lubricating oil, allowing it to remain until cool. Remove, hang it up to drain and wipe fairly clean of oil. The first part of this method cleans the rivets and the method of oiling gets the oil in on the rivets, where it is needed. -Philadelphia Enquirer.

Club Runs Not Popular.

Club runs are not so popular as they were. There was a time when a score or more wheelmen with a banner bearer at the head could be seen on most of the cycle roads. Now, although one sees more wheelmen, the club run is a rare sight. Wheelmen have rightly concluded there is little pleasure in riding with a score or more others in a cloud of dust .- New York World.

Changes In Cycling. Four short years ago the two foot handle bar was the fashion. The average width today is less than 15 inches. The early pneumatic tires were two and a half inches in diameter, and those tires worked well. However, all things considered, the reduced sizes now in vogue

Football Players Undeveloped. Not all the colleges in the United States could produce a more picturesquely interesting football eleven than that which comes out from the Carlisle Indian school. Neither could all the colleges in America produce 11 young men who have learned the game faster or developed in it more rapidly. Before the team made any name in the football world Coach Woodruff of the Pennsylvania eleven said: "These men are my ideal football players undeveloped. They played their first game against Dickenson college in 1895 and were defeated, but made a tie on their second and won their third game with the same team." Last year they came out prominently. The Yale game was a sad disappointment to them, but they

THANKSCIVING SERMON.

The Puritans Severely Criticised but Their Virtues Overbalanced All.

The excellent sermon of Rev. Rev. Walter Russell Breed at the union Thanksgiving services in the First church is given in full below, and will be ound interesting. It also contains much food for thought. Because of cirumstances the Ledger was unable to print the sermon on Saturday as advertised, and begs the pardon of those who were disappointed. The frequent ines in capitals in the sermon, are not the sub-heads of the author, but are Coal Barge and Lime Laden Schooner rought out by the LEDGER.

SEVERED AN ARTERY.

Terrible Death of a Man Wno Had Murder In His Heart.

Pigeon Cove, Mass., Nov. 29.-By the accidental yet terrible death of Louis Stewart, whose life-blood ran away from a severed artery Saturday night and whose body was found in the basement of the Elm House Sunday morning, this Choice Apples, eaceful hamlet has been saved from be ing the scene of a still greater and more awful tragedy. When Stewart was las seen Saturday night he was on the way to the house in which were his terrified wife and daughter, and at that time he avowed his intention of killing both and then ending his own life.

By some mistake, however, he stumbled into an unoccupied house a short distance off, and, while breaking through a basement window, cut a fearful gasl ought in any furniture warerooms in the world in his wrist. How frantic must have been his struggle to reach the stree could be readily imagined from the appearance of the house, for there was omers added to our ledgers during Merchants' scarcely a window or any of the doors which were not spattered with blood, while great pools of red liquid were in different parts of the house. His rapidly weakening condition kept him a prisoner, for he could not force any of the locks on the windows or doors and at last sank back while the last remaining drop of blood oozed from the wound.

It led to the long disregard of serious things, to how strongly our forefathers felt as to Butler's righteous soul. It led to the inquiries concerning religion and its sanctions." †In America it led to the indifferentism and laxity which we find IN SOCIETY TODAY.

Well now, I do not know but what I am getting out this critical catalogue of the failures and defects of our forefathers in a way so strong and complete that I cannot balance it with an appreciation of their abiding virtues, their permanent contribution to society. But I want to be fair, you see. I make a complete turn now: this side are too many people today ready to and austerity of their forefathers. # SIDEWALK ORDER.

The Only Matter for Discussion Last Night.

At the Regular Meeting of the City Conncil.

Motion to Print Voted Down-Order Advanced.

There was but little business before the City Council Monday evening and an adjournment was reached before 8 o'clock.

Councilman Geary, Johnson, and Rideout were the absent members. The auctioneer's bond of Henry I .. Kineaide was approved.

Frank F. Crane petitioned for an auctioneer's license. Referred. REPORT OF COMMITTEES.

PETITIONS.

The Committee on Licenses reported an order granting E. S. Morwy a pool table license. Adopted. The Committee on Streets reported an order apppropriating $400 for a catch basin and drain at the corner of Prosect and Sagamore streets. To Committee on Finance. The Committee on Streets recom mended that the petitions for lights on Russell Park, Merrymount road and Faxon road be referred to the Executive department. Adopted. SIDEWALK ORDER. The Joint Committee on Finance and Streets reported that the order appropriating $7000 for sidewalks in the several wards ought to pass. Councilman Phillips thought it rather late to spend money for sidewalks this year, and the matter should be referred to the next Council. He inquired what portion had already been built and not paid for.

Councilman Nickerson replied $700 worth.

Councilman Pinkham said it was understood that the Councilmen from the several wards would have an opportunity to amend the order as they saw fit and for that reason the Committee reported as it did. It was a matter that should be discussed by the Council as a whole.

Councilman Packard asked what part was to be paid by the city. then it was determined what part the Friday. He was then ordered to the order be laid on the table and then ice bound sailors at that point. printed.

Councilman Nickerson thought it unnecessary to print the order as there was ample time to investigate the whole matter.

Councilman Little thought it a good idea to have the order printed.

would be printed. It was a good idea. He would like to look it over. Councilman Pinkham stated that the order in substance had been printed in the Ledger.

Councilman Field hoped order would be printed to give all the light possible on it. He did not believe the law on it. He did not believe the law fragrant and will keep for a long time. Order meant to force a brick sidewalk where left during the afternoon will be filled the next it was not wanted and where people 1 could not afford to pay for it. There was no hurry and no need to force it through. Let us see if these are the places where it is wanted.

Councilman Nickerson thought it absurd to claim ignorance, as it had been talked in the Committee.

Councilman Pinkham raised a point of order that under rule five, motion vas out of order.

The chair ruled the motion in order. Councilman Nickerson continuing said he had no desire to rush order through. However if we kept postponing we would never be nearer good sidewalks than we were now. He hoped order would pass so that ten years hence we would be able to walk on good sidewalks Any improvement would be a hardship for some but we must have them.

The motion to have the order printed ras lost.

The order then took its second readng and was referred to the Committee on ordinances. Adourned at 7.55.

Died in California. The Ledger today reports the death

in California of Mr. Thomas W. Talbot formerly of this city. Mr. Talbot was a granite cutter by trade and a good faithful workman. He was best known in Quincy in connection with Mount Wollaston lodge of Odd Fellows. He was a charter member when the lodge was reorganized in 1884 and for several years held different offices, passing through the chairs. He was also an encampment member. Kind, genial, Bro. Talbot; he practised the true principles of Odd Fellowship in a quiet way. He went West for his health and the change seemed beneficial, and he married an estimable lady there. Stone cutters' consumption developed, however, and he was in poor health for some months before he died. He was in his 46th year.

Courts Not Competent. Washington, Nov. 30.-Chief Justice Fuller handed down an opinion in the dealing with the revolution in Venof Bolivia which, soon after the begin- rested. ning of the revolution, was occupied by Hernandez and his followers. He fo a time refused Underhill's application for a passport. After reaching the United States Underhill instituted as action in the federal courts of this cour try to recover damages for the detentio and for assaults said to have been com mitted by Hernanez's soldiery.

The decision of the circuit court o appeals for the second circuit was ad verse to Underhill's contention, and this decision was affirmed Monday on the ground that the courts of this country are not competent to review the acts of another country. "Every sovereign state is bound," said the chief justice "to respect the independence of every other sovereign state, and the court of one country will not sit in judgmen on the acts of another done within it territory. Redress of grievances by reason of such acts must be obtained through the means open or, to be availed of by sovereign powers as between them-

Confession of a Murderer. Oconomowoc, Wis., Nov. 30.-The mystery which has shrouded the murder of the two children of Ernest Cornell and the cutting of Cornell's throat some days ago has at last been cleared. To the coroner's jury Monday Cornell made a confession that, to the best of his recollection and belief, he killed his tw children and tried to kill himself. This announcement came as a great surprise to the officials who were preparing charges against Cornell's wif and John Lewis, who had been incarcerated in the county jail at Wankesha on account of the killing. Cornell made a statement that, according to what h had read in the newspaper and what he had heard, he believed that he had committed the crime himself, though his con dition at the time was such that he had no recollection of committing the deed.
